ELECTRICITY RATES CUT

Edison Company Makes Slash

Railroad Commission Ruling Presents $775,000 to Consumers

Reductions Apply to Farm and Industrial Use of Power

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17. (Exclusive)—Southern California Edison Company offered its consumers a Christmas present today in the form of electric rate reductions aggregating $775,000 annually, effective May 1, next. The action was [illegible] by officials of the company some time ago and announcement of the reduction was made by the Railroad Commission after the latter body had voted to approve the

The reduction is only one of several to be made by the company, in each case voluntarily, over a period of years and is in keeping with the organization's desire to keep rates to a point where earnings are commensurate with the commission's rulings on a fair return.

BENEFITS TOTAL $3,000,000

In terms of this latest rate move, Southern California consumers of gas and electricity benefit to the extent of almost $3,000,000 this season. Reductions of $1,350,000 have been ordered by the commission effective January 1, to consumers of gas supplied by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and the electric rates of that company, reduced $750,000 annually as an experimental measure, have been made permanent, effective January 1, also.

The proposed new reductions apply to industrial and agricultural users of electric energy throughout the entire Southern California Edison system in Southern and Central California. The number of agricultural consumers who will benefit totals 15,484, and [illegible] industrial consumers will [illegible] in the reduction.

The agricultural consumers were represented in the negotiations which resulted in the formal offer by J. J. Deuel, manager of the public utilities department of the California Farm Bureau Federation, who [illegible] the offer.

THIRD REDUCTION

This rate reduction will constitute the company's third major voluntary reduction since 1927 and the eighth of a series of voluntary reductions inaugurated in 1920, according to R. H. Ballard, president of the company. The last voluntary reduction, which became effective November 1, 1929, lowered

SPAIN KING'S JOB SAFER

Strikes Call Out 500,000

Army Holds All Strategic Points and Jails Fill Up With Revolutionists

Alfonso Planned Active Part in Field but Desisted After Sound Advice

MADRID, Dec. 17. (AP)—Widespread strikes with 500,000 men out and repeated riots continued today in many parts of Spain, but the attempt to overthrow the monarchy seemed decisively crushed and King Alfonso's crown appeared safe for the moment.

Eleven persons are known to have been killed in the rioting in various parts of the country.

The King continued to dominate the situation, keeping in constant touch with distant cities by telephone and conferring at length with his Cabinet ministers. His right-hand man, Premier Berenguer, was put to bed with a severe case of tonsillitis, but his doctors said he will recover with a bit of rest.

TROOPS IN CHARGE

Throughout the kingdom the civil authorities have surrendered their powers under martial law and troops are in charge at strategic points. The Foreign Legion came into several cities.

The artillery held Barcelona, four men were killed in a street fight at Oviedo, and mobs clashed with the soldiers at Santander, Valencia, Alicante, Isla Christina and Huelva, where dock workers refused to unload a fishing smack and its cargo was thrown overboard. There were strikes also at Bilbao and San Sebastian, but both those towns seemed to be calm with the army in control.

JAILS CROWDED

The jails are full and batches of prisoners have been locked up even in the theaters, which have had no audiences for days. It was expected that most of the prisoners will be turned loose soon and leaders in the unsuccessful revolt will receive nothing heavier than prison sentences.

Those who were close to the King during the recent tense days and nights revealed his advisers had a hard time preventing Alfonso from putting aside the weightier cares of state, donning a uniform and taking an active part in the open warfare against the revolutionists at Cuatro Vientos air field. Only by pointing out his safety was essention to the welfare of the kingdom were they able to dissuade the King from his determination.

The King showed personal bravery by driving in an open carriage to services commemorating the achievements of the great South American liberator, Simon Bolivar, who

GULF REGION INVADED BY COLD WAVE

Snow Falls in Virginia and Tennessee With Frost Forecast for Florida

ATLANTA, Dec. 17. (AP)—Striking southward from the salients established last night, winter's forces threatened tonight to invade the gulf coast sections of Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi, and extreme Northwest Florida.

The heaviest effects of winter's southward drive were felt in the mountainous sections of Tennessee, North Carolina, and Virginia. Seven inches of snow at Johnson City, Tenn., suspended street-car service and seriously interfered with other traffic.

Danville, Va., was digging out from under eleven inches of snow, the heaviest fall since 1928, and unemployed were put on shovel crews. Knee-deep drifts in North Carolina forced closing of schools in Rutherfordton and Ford Forest City. Galax, in Southwestern Virginia, reported fourteen inches. "Frost to the coast" was the forecast for Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana and extreme Northwest Florida coastal areas.

Kentucky was in the same situation as Tennessee with plenty of snow in the eastern portion, less in the west, and prospect of rain or more snow for tonight.

In Georgia the snow and sleet reached as far south as Macon and Augusta.

Mrs. Fahy Still Unconscious, Doctor Reports

TONOPAH (Nev.) Dec. 17. (AP)—Mrs. Clair Fahy, Los Angeles aviatrix, severely injured when her plane crashed in a take-off here Monday, still is unconscious. She has shown no improvement, Dr. R. R. Craig reports.

"The patient's condition is extremely serious on account of prolongation of serious symptoms," Dr. Craig said.

He said Dr. Howard Nafziger, San Francisco brain specialist, recommended in a long-distance telephone consultation that surgical work be delayed until Mrs. Fahy has shown improvement.

Liner Captains Win Promotion by Sea Heroism

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—Two captains, heroes of thrilling sea rescues, today won promotions.

Capt. A. B. (Rescue) Randall, credited with saving 294 lives in midocean in four dangerous situations, will take over command of the United States liner Leviathan, world's largest ship.

He will be succeeded on his present vessel, the George Washington, by Capt. George Fried of the liner America, himself a hero in two gallant rescues.

ENFORCEMENT REPORT DUE IN TWO WEEKS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Law Enforcement Commission is expected at the White House to report its conclusions on prohibition to President Hoover in two or three weeks. White House officials said today the report would be transmitted to Congress as soon as it has been received and studied by the President.

JUNTA RULES GUATEMALA

Fifty-seven Killed or Wounded in Coup Ousting Palma and Installing Military Chieftain

GUATEMALA CITY, Dec. 17. (AP)—Some fifty-seven persons were killed or wounded in a coup d'etat which yesterday unseated the new government of Baudillo Palma and installed Gen. Manuel Orellana as head of a military junta which took over the administration.

Among those killed was Gen. Mauro de Leon. Col. Filiberto Aguilar Bonilla, a member of the Presidential staff, and J. Grijala also were among the victims, but they died in a personal duel and not in the general fighting attending the coup.

ENVOYS THANKED

The diplomatic corps is credited with bringing peace to the warring factions, and President Orellana today thanked all foreign envoys for their aid.

The city was quiet today after the fighting. Business houses were reopening, and banks will resume functioning tomorrow.

The various garrisons and civil authorities throughout the republic have signified their adherence to the new President, whose popularity apparently is increased by the fact he neither arrested nor dismissed any of the officials who served under Baudillo Palma.

Constitutional guarantees have been maintained.

START OF TROUBLE

Guatemala's trouble began after President Chacon became ill last week with a cerebral hemorrhage.

Baudillo Palma, who previously had been named second designate in a group of alternates eligible to assume the Presidency in event of vacancy, then took over the government.

This stirred opposition and brought about the brief revolt.

It is understood Gen. Orellana will serve as provisional President only through the illness of the Chief Executive.

With a vacancy in the Ministry of War because of the death of Gen. Mauro de Leon, that portfolio has been given to Gen. Luis Leonardo, an engineer.

TWITCHING OF EARTH'S SKIN NOTED

Ground Swinging to and Fro Rhythmically Since Sunday, Experts Observe

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Dec. 17. (AP) Beginning Sunday and reaching a climax late Tuesday, a mysterious shaking of the earth's crust has been recorded on the instruments of the Harvard seismographic station, the university announced today. The shaking continued today, but with less severity.

"The ground moved back and forth rhythmically and constantly," the announcement set forth, "taking about six seconds to complete each swing. It did not go more than a couple of ten-thousandths of an inch in either direction, but even that represents tremendous forces at work to maintain such motion for hours and days.

"These oscillations of the earth's crust are called microseisms (microscopic shakings.) They have been observed from time to time by seismograph stations all over the world, but years of scientific study have failed as yet to yield a completely statisfactory explanation of their cause."

Veterans Will Get Preference in Boulder Jobs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—War veterans and qualified citizens will be given preference in filling jobs to be opened by construction of the $165,000,000 Boulder Canyon project.

Secretary Wilbur, in announcing today he had approved the specifications for the mammoth structure, said a special clause will require the contractor to use labor from those classes when available.

Jobs will be provided for between 1000 and 3000 workmen.

COURT VOTE POSTPONED

Issue Put Off for Year

Senate Foreign Relations Committee Takes Step by Close Margin

Republicans Support Move to Avoid Danger of Special Session

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The World Court issue was put on the shelf today by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee until the regular session of the next Congress a year hence.

Republicans of the committee sponsored the postponement. They expressed confidence tonight that President Hoover, who asked for ratification at this session, will not call a special session of the Senate in the spring for this purpose in view of their decision.

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, proposed the postponement with the plea that an attempt to dispose of the question now would hurt the cause and inevitably lead to the extra session which the administration is seeking to avoid. He has not announced his position on the court.

ONE VOTE MARGIN

The vote was ten to nine. Most Republicans joined in supporting the motion. Democrats voted solidly against the postponement. Chairman Borah, an opponent, and Senator Gillett, an advocate of the Court, joined in opposition.

Although one Democrat, Senator Walsh of Montana, was absent, Chairman Borah said he regarded the committee's decision as final.

The committee discussion of the Reed motion lasted little more than ten minutes. It was agreed generally that there was no chance of getting the court to a final vote at this session, but Senator Borah and Democratic proponents urged that it be reported for discussion should the opportunity afford.

Reed said it was "obvious and certain that the World Court could not be voted upon at this session even if reported in January."

"In addition to the disaster to the World Court which this would involve," he added, "there would be dragged down with the court half a dozen appropriation bills and an extra session of Congress would be necessary. The country doesn't want a special session of Congress or of the Senate."

Senator Vandenberg, Michigan, a Republican member who is friendly to the court, said:

"I voted to save the World Court from a needless black eye through inevitable failure at this short session; and I voted to save this session from an inevitable legislative jam which would imperil emergency relief and annual appropriations and thus force an extra session of Congress."

Mansion Known as 'First White House' Doomed

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Powel mansion, considered one of the foremost specimens of colonial architecture and often spoken of as "the first White House," is to be torn down to make way for an open-air garage.

During the Revolutionary era the structure was the scene of many social events. Its living-room has been transplanted entirely to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, and its drawing-room is in the Philadelphia Art Museum.

The exterior is much as it was when Washington went there to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of his wedding, and when the Earl of Carlisle made it his headquarters during the British occupation of Philadelphia.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 17. [To the Editor of The Times:] One of the best things I heard of, and it might be copied everywhere, was done by Uncle Josephus Daniels and his Raleigh News and Observer. North Carolina and Duke University had played a tie game and there was a big demand for them to play a benefit game, but the Southern Conference rules forbid. (That's one thing about a conference, they want to keep the dough in the conference.) Anthony McKelvin of above paper got the idea of having a mythical game, selling tickets—all charity and no football. Well, it went great. You would be surprised how many people will pay not to see football, so why not sell charity tickets all over for a synthetic Notre Dame - Alabama game.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

BEESEMYER WILL PLEAD NOT GUILTY TOMORROW

Swindler Declared to Feel He Can Assist in Salvaging Losses; New Death Threats Sent

Gilbert H. Beesemyer will plead not guilty when he is arraigned in Superior Judge Wood's court tomorrow morning, despite the fact that he has already confessed to embezzling nearly $8,000,000 from the funds of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association. This was the announcement last night of Attorney Le Compte Davis, defending Beesemyer, but accompanying the announcement was a further statement in which it is asserted that the not guilty plea is a move to help the depositors of the loan company rather than a move to try to escape punishment.

DRY APPEAL PREPARED

Supreme Court to Get Issue

Federal Leaders Take Action to Challenge Ruling That Amendment's Invalid

New Jersey Forces Ordered to Carry on Activities in Spite of New Opinion

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Department of Justice acted quickly today to block the latest threat to its prohibition machinery, announcing an "immediate appeal" will be taken directly to the Supreme Court from the New Jersey decision which held the Eighteenth Amendment invalid.

Simultaneously an aroused Federal prohibition director telegraphed a command to his New Jersey forces to "carry on," while two brother jurists there of United States District Judge Clark, author of yesterday's decision, were refusing to follow the striking precedent set by him. A third New Jersey district judge remained silent.

COUNCIL OF WAR

Federal prohibition chiefs lost little time in gathering in a council of war at the Justice Department. U. S. Atty. Forman, summoned from Newark, met for more than two hours with Atty.-Gen. Mitchell, Asst. Atty.-Gen. Youngquist, in charge of prohibition, and Assistant Prohibition Director Jones before the decision to appeal was announced.

Forman was directed to return to New Jersey to prepare the machinery for such action, thus holdin Clark's decision in statu quo until it comes before the highest tribunal.

"The appeal," the Department of Justice said, "will be taken direct to the Supreme Court of the United States under a statute which authorizes such an appeal from a decision quashing an indictment on the ground of the invalidity of the statute upon which it is founded."

POLICY MADE CLEAR

Prohibition Director Woodcock, although not present at the conference, made clear he does not intend there shall be a let-down in enforcement of the national prohibition act in New Jersey, despite the decision. In a telegram to Deputy Prohibition Administrator Tutt at Newark, he said:

"Do not be discouraged by Judge Clark's decision. Carry on!"

At Newark United States District Judge Runyon, hearing the first liquor case that could have been affected, said, "My conception is that the Eighteenth Amendment has been passed on by the Supreme Court and is binding on all judges of lesser jurisdiction."

United States District Judge Avis at Camden, denied a motion to dismiss a padlock proceedings, saying, "I cannot agree that this decision is binding on other United States court judges."

CALIFORNIA COURT MAY GET TEST CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17. (AP)—The United States District Court

"I feel that Mr. Beesemyer can be of untold value to the authorities attempting to restore the assets of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association," said Davis. "If he pleaded guilty tomorrow morning the automatic processes of the court would immediately sentence him to prison, where his aid would be lost to those trying to liquidate the assets of the loan company.

"With his aid a great deal more can be salvaged for the depositors than by any other method. Many of the transactions were intricate and involved, and Mr. Beesemyer tells me he wishes to aid in recouping as much of the losses as he can, and with careful handling of the situation that the loss should not be nearly so great as some anticipate."

ANOTHER PHASE

At the time he issued the statement, Davis did not deny that he also has certain interests of his client in mind, in that any good that Beesemyer might do to recover the stolen money might later be taken into consideration by a prison pardon board.

"Of paramount importance, however," maintained Davis, "as far as the depositors are concerned, is the recovery of as much money as possible and this supersedes any hasty punishment of this man, who, despite reports, is not guilty of everything charged against him."

While Beesemyer's plan of defense was materializing the grand jury yesterday heard more witnesses, including several members of the board of directors of the defunct institution. These included G. R. Dexter, Harry E. Jones and Orville Routt.

"The personal fortunes of some of these men have been absolutely wiped out in the collapse of this organization," said Dist.-Atty. Fitts after hearing their testimony. "They all deny knowing anything about Beesemyer's peculations until he confessed them a week ago."

MYSTERY TRIPS

The grand jury was told by Jones of several mysterious visits to San Francisco made by Beesemyer shortly before he confessed to the embezzlement. Why the trips were taken or who Beesemyer saw there, however, Jones could not say.

"I recall that Beesemyer made increasingly frequent trips to San Francisco during the past few months," Jones said. "He declared at the time that the trips were made necessary by the business of the loan company and I attached no particular significance to the matter then."

Whether Beesemyer's trips were in the interest of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association, or whether they bore any reference to a portion of the $8,000,000 that is missing, Dist.-Atty. Fitts declared later he will strive to ascertain.

Another function of the grand jury yesterday was to instruct the District Attorney to release Rupert L. Fleury, vice-president and auditor of the loan company, who has been held under arrest as a suspected accomplice of Beesemyer despite the latter's assertions that he alone was to blame. He was released last evening.

"Fleury is released upon his promise to hold himself available for immediate call in case we need him," said Fitts.

Dewey Tackaberry, mortgage salesman, and John Boy, bond salesmen, also were heard by the grand jury yesterday, and several witnesses waited their turn in the anteroom. Proceedings were delayed somewhat when the grand jury discontinued the loan company investigation to summon Superior Judge Fleming, who had issued a statement saying the practice of having

EDISON LAUDS PROHIBITION

Bettered Conditions and Improving Enforcement Cited in Reply to Questions by Dry Leaguer

NEWARK (N. J.) Dec. 17. (AP)—Thomas A. Edison expressed the opinion today that prohibition has helped the industrial and economic life of America and that its enforcement is improving daily.

His belief is set forth in answer to a questionnaire submitted to him by Rev. James K. Shields, superintendent of the New Jersey Anti-Saloon League.

The six questions and answers:

Question: Do you approve of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Consituation of the United States? If so, why?

Answer: Yes. It is a necessary aid to permit practical enforcement of prohibition all over the country.

Q.: Has it helped the industrial and economic life of America at home and strengthened the industrial standing of our nation abroad?

A.: Yes, and to a greater extent than realized.

Q.: In your judgment are children better fed and clothed and educated since the coming of national prohibition than they were before?

A.: In my judgment I would say decidedly, yes. Let me cite my experience as a manufacturer, similar to that of other manufacturers. On pay days before prohibition hundreds of pale-faced women, shabbily dressed, some with faded shawls around their heads, appeared at our factory at West Orange. They were waiting to get some of their husband's money before he got to a saloon. Within a year after the amendment not a single woman appeared. Surely we Americans do not want a return to the old state of affairs. Undoubtedly the condition of the mother indicates the condition of the children, although they are perhaps a little better off than she, because she will do everything, even to giving up her life, to protect them.

Q.: What attitude should the womanhood of America hold toward prohibition, and why?

A.: Woman is the custodian of the home and the children. She certainly, if a normal woman, does not desire the introduction of narcotics into her home, which in many cases changes a human being into a brute.

Q.: Are the boys and girls of

AID MEASURES CAUGHT IN JAM

Congress in Little Progress on Relief Bills

President Urges Speed but Debates Continue

Drought Proposal Reported Out in House

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (Exclusive)—The two legislative measures designed to relieve farmers and jobless workers dawdled virtually motionless today in both houses of Congress.

The House of Representatives spent the greater part of the day in debate on whether the drought relief bill should call for $60,000,000 and contain provisions for food, or whether it should call for only $30,000,000 and confine its provisions to aid for crop production, while the Senate refused to recede from its amendments to the $116,000,000 employment bill.

Neither the administration nor the Congressional opposition showed signs of weakening. As things stood at today's close, the relief measures will not be disposed of much before Christmas Eve.

HOOVER ASKS ACTION

In a conference with Senator Watson, Republican, Senate leader, and, in later telephone conversations with Senator Watson and Representative Tilson, Republican, Connecticut, House majority leader, the President urged that both houses press the relief measures forward.

Senator Watson obeyed by announcing to the Senate that there will be no recess until the relief bills are passed and signed.

The President's insistence had its reaction in the House also, where the drought relief bill was taken up in the committee on agriculture and, after a fruitless effort by the Democrats in favor of the larger appropriation, was reported out with the $30,000,000 figure. It is scheduled for a vote and probable passage tomorrow, but a session in conference still confronts it.

The House committee acted after having heard Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and his assistant, Dr. C. W. Warburton, deny that they had ever approved the $60,000,000 food-dispensing measure, as Democratic leaders in the House and Senator McNary in the Senate had asserted.

McKELLAR HITS HOOVER

There were also other repercussions in the fight over relief. Senator McKellar, Democrat, of Tennessee, charged that President Hoover has never finally accounted for the $100,000,000 which he administered for European relief in 1919, and on that ground he said he will oppose the provision in the present $116,000,000 emergency construction bill which would give the President power to transfer funds from one class of projects to another.

Senator La Follette met no opposition in obtaining passage of his resolution calling for the appearance before the Appropriations Committee of Col. Arthur Woods, chairman of the President's employment committee; John Barton Payne, head of the Red Cross, and others. But he received direct refutation of unemployment figures and distress assertions which he had quoted to the Senate two days ago.

Senators Goff, Republican, West Virginia, and Hebert, Republican, Rhode Island, read messages from their home States and cities in which local authorities asserted that Senator La Follette's statistics are exaggerated and that those States are in a position to take care of any situation without Federal aid.

HYDE GIVES VIEWS

Secretary Hyde declared during the stormy session before the House Agriculture Committee the administration is backing the recommendations of the drought relief committee. He said the committee did not specify any definite amount and no mention was made of food loans.

He added belief $25,000,000 will care for the needs and said this is based on estimates before the department and its experience in handling similar loans.

Hyde testified the drought affected only corn, hay and pasturage, with no harm done nationally to the cotton crop, although certain areas suffered.

HOOVER'S COURAGE PRAISED

G.O.P. Senate Leader Says President Faces Greater Peace-Time Problems Than Predecessors

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (Exclusive)—President Hoover is facing greater responsibilities than any of his peace-time predecessors and is meeting his many problems "in a manly and courageous manner," according to the opinion expressed today by Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader in the Senate.

This tribute to the President was paid by the Senate leader as he left the White House after a half-hour conference with Mr. Hoover on the situation surrounding the emergency relief measures at the Capitol.

"The President is probably doing a little better job than we are doing up on the hill," said Watson. He added that there is a private telephone wire between his office and the President's office and that not a day passes that he and the Executive do not confer over this wire.

This was taken as ending some of the talk about a rift between President Hoover and his party leader in the Senate.

Watson declared Congress will stay in session until unemployment and drought relief legislation have been enacted. "The country," he said, "would justly condemn us if we adjourned without passing these bills. I have a resolution in my pocket calling for adjournment on Saturday but we may not be able to get away that soon. Maybe we will not recess until next Tuesday." However, Watson reminded that the Senate seldom goes directly at a problem but generally zig-zags.

"We are zig-zagging now," he said, "but as always we will get there eventually."

in California may be faced with the test of the constitutionality of the Eighteenth Amendment. Joseph E. Connolly said today he is preparing a test case to be submitted in line with the New Jersey case.

He said he will base his arguments on the claim that procedure used in ratifying the Eighteenth Amendment, which effected a transfer of rights from the several States to the Federal government, made the statute invalid.

PROFESSOR ASSERTS RULING WON'T STAND UP

PRINCETON (N. J.) Dec. 17. (AP) Five reasons why he believes the Supreme Court will not declare ratification of the Eighteenth Amendment void were stated today by Prof. Edwin S. Corwin of the politics department of Princeton University. They are:

"Although ratified only by legislatures, it was ratified by forty-six out of the forty-eight States.

"The Supreme Court has said at least three times ratification of the amendment was valid.

"All amendments to the Constitution have heretofore been ratified by the same method as the Eighteenth Amendment.

"The Supreme Court has never declared any part of the Constitution void and is not likely to face the great risk of doing so for the first time in connection with the Eighteenth Amendment.

"The proposition on which Judge Clark relies would if consistently applied invalidate the ratification of all the amendments of the Constitution since and including the Thirteenth."

Prof. Corwin is an authority on constitutional law.

HIGH COURT DECISION IN 1920 BEARS ON ISSUE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—A close study of Supreme Court decisions disclosed today that on June 1, 1920, the tribunal handed down a unanimous decision sustaining the authority of Congress to determine whether proposed constitutional amendments shall be submitted to State legislatures or to conventions.

The effect of the opinion was to place the Supreme Court on record in recognizing the authority of Congress to submit the Eighteenth Amendment as it did, to the legislatures of the several States.

Q.: Should the Eighteenth Amendment be retained as a blessing to our American homes today and to those of future generations?

A.: Yes. Enforcement is getting more practical day by day. We now attack the large manufacturer right in our midst instead of men with flasks and home brews.

JUVENILE GANG DEATHS TRACED

Girl Tells of Killing by Boys to "Thrill" Companions

Kansas City Police Seeking Solution of Five Murders

Theatrical Make-up Used to Shield Youths' Identities

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 17. (AP)—Police investigated a "juvenile gangland" today seeking the solution of five or more murders and numerous robberies.

One slaying has been confessed, officers said, by Everett Haldiman, 17 years of age, asserted leader and gunman of a band of boys and girls between 14 and 19. He is under arrest in Independence, Kan.

Fern McNabb, whose age has been announced at 14 or 15, was declared by police to have told of witnessing several hold-ups and one killing designed to provide a "thrill" for girl companions who rode in an accompanying motor car.

THEATRICAL MAKE-UP

Her purported statement said Haldiman and his companions in crime used theatrical make-up to shield their identity and after robberies removed the coloring in a rendezvous near Dallas, Mo.

Haldiman, Ray Willis Harley, 17; Aletha Rush, 15, of Sioux City, Iowa, and Miss McNabb were arrested in Dallas, Tex., and taken to Independence, Kan. There they face preliminary hearing on murder charges in connection with the killing of John Siebel at his filling station at Tyro, Kan., the 1st inst.

CONFESSION REPORTED

County Attorney Grant obtained a purported confession in which Haldiman is quoted as saying he shot Siebel to death while the other three waited for him.

A second slaying has been charged to Haldiman and Harley, officers asserted, by Miss McNabb.

In a statement she pictured the killing of William Price, a young bakery driver in Kansas City, November 26, and said the boys and girls had driven back to the place of the slaying to view the victim before police arrived. Previously, she said the party witnessed the hold-up of another driver.

The driver's expression was described as "too comical for words."

REDS CLOSE BANK OWNED BY KOREANS

Vladivostok Branch Told to Pay 2,600,000 Rubles, Tokio Press Reports

TOKIO, Dec. 18. (Thursday) (AP)—An official Japanese dispatch from Vladivostok today said soviet authorities yesterday closed the Vladivostok branch of the Bank of Korea, semiofficial Japanese organ for economic activities in Korea, Manchuria and Siberia.

Following a conference between Baron Shidehara, Minister of Finance, and the president of the Bank of Korea, official sanction was given for the withdrawal of the Vladivostok branch.

The official dispatch said soviet representatives sequestrated and sealed the bank's books and documents and demanded immediate payment of 2,600,000 rubles in the form of taxes and various dues for the past three years.

Press dispatches via Harbin asserted the soviet representatives also arrested the bank manager and three other Japanese employees, but this was not confirmed and was doubted in official quarters.

Rumania Police Club Students

BUCHAREST (Rumania) Dec. 17. (AP)—Many persons were injured, two seriously, and eighteen students were arrested during demonstrations of a crowd of 300 Republican students in Bucharest today.

The students first tried to hold their manifestation in front of King Carol's palace, but the police cut them off from the edifice. Thereupon they went to the police president's office and smashed its windows. From there they went to the Masonic Lodge quarters and battered in its doors and windows. The police used their clubs freely in dispersing the students.

Ex-Secretary of Rich Man Held

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—Helen Delaney, 28 years of age, former secretary to Raymond Brooks, wealthy mining engineer of New York and Brookdale, Ct., was held for a grand jury today on charges that she appropriated between $30,000 and $60,000 of the engineer's funds.

The engineer's wife brought a charge of forgery, asserting Miss Delaney raised a $79 check, erased the name of the payee and inserted her own.

SPANISH CROWN NOT SO SHAKY

wrested much of the new world from the Spanish Conquistadors.

The "inside story" of the revolution was revealed today in a statement by Niceto Alcala Zamora, whom the revolutionists proclaimed "president of the republic" Saturday. From his prison cell he told how the plot had begun months ago and was to have flowered in a general strike to begin simultaneously in all cities Monday morning.

Two things wrecked the program. The comandante of the garrison at Jaca lost his head and began a mutiny three days ahead of time, and dissension developed among the plotters themselves.

TROOPS AND STRIKERS SPILL BLOOD IN CLASHES

ALICANTE (Spain) Dec. 17. (AP)—(By Telephone to London)—Rioting and disorder continued throughout this afternoon and early tonight in Alicante and near-by towns, which are the centers of some of the most serious of the many revolutionary strikes now existing throughout Spain.

Police and civil guards, aided by a detachment of the famous Spanish Foreign Legion, have attempted to restore order, but the situation is greatly confused, with telegraph lines down, telephone service uncertain and trains greatly delayed.

Machine guns were mounted at all strategic points throughout the city tonight.

Dispatches from Elche say serious fighting occurred there today between strikers and police, with numerous casualties on both sides. Details were scarce because of poor communications, but military reinforcements were rushed from Alicante to restore order. Unconfirmed reports said the military authorities are court-martialing the leaders of the outbreak.

In Orihuela a band of rioters beat up the Mayor and many fights resulted between strikers and workmen who refused to leave their jobs. Among the injured were three women employed in a silk factory.

Civil guards arrested a revolutionary committee in the town of Monovar.

Foreign Legionnaires rushed from Alicante to Elda engaged in battle with strikers who had taken possession of the railroad station after cutting private and state telegraph lines.

After a brisk fight the sun-scorched warriors from Morocco recaptured the station and marched victoriously through the town, where they planted machine guns at all strategic centers and patrolled the streets throughout the night.

In Alicante authorities raided and closed a republican and labor rendezvous. Among those arrested are the republican leaders, Vicente Antonio, Lorenzo Carbonell and Jose Terez Garcia.

The jails were jammed with prisoner., and the congestion increased as more were brought from near-by towns.

POWER RATES ORDERED CUT

lighting rates for the company's consumers, effecting a saving of approximately $1,400,000 a year. The number of consumers benefiting from this reduction was 427,000.

"In proposing to the commission this plan for reduction of industrial and agricultural service rates, the Southern California Edison Company is conforming to its announced policy of passing on to consumers, in the form of rate reductions, the benefits of economies in company operations," Ballard said. "Lowered rates have resulted in increased consumption of electric energy in our company's territory and our program of expansion of service for 1931 contemplates the addition of 350,000 horsepower of new business from present consumers and approximately 27,000 new consumers whom we expect to apply for service. A major portion of this anticipated total of new business will develop in the industrial and agricultural fields."

MacDonald Upheld by Only Six-Vote Majority

Government, However, Still in Critical Position

Test Comes on Amendment to Expiring-Laws Bill

LONDON, Dec. 17. (AP)—By a majority of only six votes, the smallest it has ever been accorded, Premier MacDonald's ministry survived a division in the House of Commons tonight. Its survival, however, leads to almost as critical a position as if it had been defeated.

The vote came on an amendment inserted by the House of Lords in the expiring-laws continuance bill which proposed prolongation of the Dye Stuffs Act another year. The government is anxious to abolish this act on its normal expiration next month, and therefore urged the Commons to reject the Lords' amendment.

By a vote of 244 to 238 the Commons did so, and the expiring-laws bill thus returns to the Lords for further consideration.

In well-informed circles it is believed the Lords, especially since the encouragement they received from the narrowness of the government's majority, will insist on their amendment. In that case the government either will have to bow to their wishes, which is considered unlikely, or run the risk of another division which might be even closer than that tonight.

Another alternative would be for the government to throw overboard the whole expiring-laws bill. Here again Mr. MacDonald is in a difficult position, because the passage of this bill is necessary to obtain the continuance of various measures, including the Rent Restrictions Act, which the government is most eager to preserve.

Easy way to relieve Colds

Breathing Vapex is the modern way of relieving colds. Merely put a drop of this delightful inhalant on your handkerchief during the day and at each end of your pillow at night.

Then breathe the soothing vapor. In a few breaths, your head clears, your nose opens up, and you are relieved of the distress of a cold.

Vapex is very inexpensive. The $1 bottle contains fifty applications—an average of only 2c apiece. Millions of bottles are sold yearly. It is approved by Good Housekeeping because it is safe for every one—even little children.

For safety's sake, always ask for V-A-P-E-X—the original inhalant—and do not accept an inferior product that claims to be "just as good."

DIRIGIBLE BASE FIGHT DROPPED

Support for Camp Kearny as Auxiliary Pledged

Evans and Swing to Press for New Projects

Representative Cites Peril of Prolonging Battle

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (Exclusive) — Representative Evans of Glendale and Representative Swing of El Centro today abandoned their fight to locate the California naval dirigible base at Camp Kearny near San Diego, in return for promises for support of the Coyle bill making Camp Kearny an auxiliary station to the main base at Sunnyvale, Santa Clara county.

This means that in all probability Congress at this session will approve both projects and that Southern California, while losing out on the major $5,000,000 development, will see the Federal government spending perhaps $1,000,000 at Camp Kearny for a supplemental base which will serve as the port for the giant dirigibles a good share of the time, especially during fleet maneuvers.

BILL'S PROVISIONS

The Coyle bill provides $200,000 for purchase of land at Camp Kearny and $1,000,000 as a starter toward laying out and equipping the field. Assurances were given Evans and Swing today that the Navy Department will back the measure, and Chairman Britten of the House Naval Committee announced he will support it.

The decision of the two Southern California Representatives to drop their opposition to Sunnyvale was said to be in line with the conclusion of civic leaders in Los Angeles and San Diego that in view of the 16-to-3 vote in the House Naval Committee for selection of Sunnyvale all hands should now turn in and help get the important base for California without any further unnecessary delay. Representative Evans, a member of the Naval Committee, announced he will not file a minority report.

DANGER OF DELAY

"I feel," he said, "that by filing a minority report I could prevent passage of the Sunnyvale site bill at this session of Congress but the final result probably would be the defeat of a measure to locate the base anywhere in California. If the control of Congress is changed in the next session, the chances are that the location of the site will be taken from the Pacific Coast. I do not want to be the means of depriving the Pacific Coast of this needed protection.

"I am still thoroughly convinced that Camp Kearny is more desirable, and that the two general boards of the Navy were justified in recommending that location."

The majority committee report favoring Sunnyvale was filed with the House today by Chairman Britten.

PEACE AIM DEFENDED BY BRIAND

Veteran Foreign Minister of France Explains Why He Crusades Against War

PARIS, Dec. 17. (AP)—Aristide Briand, the veteran French Foreign Minister who lately has been charged with weakening the foreign policy of France, told tonight why he is a man of peace.

The elderly statesman, speaking at a dinner given in his honor by the commercial, industrial and agricultural organization, with Premier Theodore Steeg presiding, added he will pursue unflinchingly his work for international harmony.

During the great war, he said, he had been so shocked by its greatness and awfulness he vowed if his country emerged safely he would consecrate his life to the end that war should never come again.

Referring to the criticism he talks too much of peace and not enough of France's security, the Foreign Minister insisted he has always striven for suitable organization of the national defenses.

Old Railway to Be Junked

HARRISBURG (Pa.) Dec. 17. (AP) A railway which traversed twenty-three miles to connect two towns only sixteen highway miles apart, the first line in the United States to operate a steam locomotive, today was condemned to the scrap heap.

The road connects Carbondale, Lackawanna county, with Honesdale, Wayne county. Its owners, the same Delaware and Hudson Company which launched it in 1827, have informed the Public Service Commission that rail experts can evolve no plan to make its continued operation profitable.

Call Withdrawn for Mail Bids

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—Withdrawal of the invitation for bids on air-mail service from New York via Norfolk or Charleston, S. C., to Bermuda, which was to be the first step toward a trans-Atlantic service, was announced today by Assistant Postmaster-General W. Irving Glover.

Glover said he contemplates another call for bids with slightly different provisions in the near future and the recent invitation was withdrawn "because of ambiguities."

PRISONS TO FIT CRIME FAVORED

National Commission Urges Graduated Punishment

Psychiatric Clinics Under Court Control Asked

Massachusetts Law Cited as Model for Other States

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—Diversification of penal institutions to make them fit the crime was recommended today in a report from the National Crime Commission.

This report was by the subcommittee on the medical aspects of crime, which has been at work for several years under chairmanship of Mrs. Richard Derby. These four recommendations are made:

"That the States establish as rapidly as practicable appropriate institutions for the various types of offenders, in order that a greater degree of classification may be brought about.

PSYCHIATRIC AID URGED

"That the larger courts be encouraged to establish their own psychiatric clinics and that the State establish, so far as possible, facilities available to the smaller courts so each court may have available a psychiatric service made up of competent and impartial psychiatrists, psychologists and social investigators.

"That the States extend the principle of the indeterminate sentence and the greater discretion of judges in disposing of cases.

"That as a means of avoiding the scandal attendant upon the prevalent system of psychiatric expert testimony, the States be urged to adopt a law similar in principle to that known in Massachusetts as the 'Briggs law,' providing for the impartial and routine examination under State authority of persons held on criminal charges. The extent of the groups so examinable might well be dependent partly upon the laws of the State and partly upon the availability of competent psychiatric personnel."

MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE

Members of the subcommittee included Mrs. Derby, chairman; Mrs. E. M. Townsend, Judges Frederick P. Cabot and Franklin C. Hoyt; Elton H. Hooker, John M. Parker, Gustavus Pope, E. A. Van Valkenburg, William Allen White, Col. Arthur Woods and Secretary Wilbur of the Department of the Interior.

The committee quoted from reports of the American Bar Association and the American Medical Association favoring attention to mental conditions of those charged with crime.

It reported that out of 1168 courts replying to questions, 110 already have assistance of a psychiatrist. Of 259 penitentaries and reformatories, ninety-three had psychiatrists and thirty-two employed psychologists.

WIFE'S PLEA FOR DRINKER REJECTED

Michigan Judge Again Insists Prisoner Must Tell Liquor Source

CADILLAC (Mich.) Dec. 17. (AP)—Mrs. Frank Harrand, wife of the farmer who has spent most of the time since November 7 in jail here for contempt of court because he has not told who furnished him with liquor, went before Judge Millington today to plead for her husband's release.

Mrs. Harrand drove thirty miles from her farm home, where she takes care of three small children, milks fourteen cows and does other farm work while Harrand is held. She told essentially the same story related by Harrand when he appeared before Judge Millington in Recorder's Court on a charge of drunkenness.

She said Harrand was offered a drink by a group of men standing in the darkness outside a dance hall on November 6. She said her husband took several drinks from the bottle and handed it back apparently without knowing anyone in the group.

Judge Millington announced afterward there was no change in the status of Harrand, who, he has said, will remain in jail "ten years if necessary," until he tells from whom he obtained the liquor.

Harrand's usual reply is: "He can keep me here a hundred years, and I can't tell any different story."

Mexican Inflow Cut Still More

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (Exclusive)—Mexican immigration has now been reduced 95 per cent from what it was two years ago when the United States started tightening up on border visa requirements.

The State Department announced today that in November only 1894 Mexicans were granted visas, as compared with 3986 in the same month of 1928, just before the stricter regulations were put into effect.

Moreover, all 1894 visas last month were issued to immediate relatives of citizens, students and other classes which would not be subject to quota or exclusion legislation if it were enacted.

MEXICAN ECONOMIC SLUMP EXPLAINED

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 17. (AP)—Luis Montes De Oca, Mexican Secretary of the Treasury, appeared before the Senate last night and explained the financial policies of the government of President Ortiz Rubio.

He declared that the Mexican economic crisis is an offshoot largely of the world crisis and the fact that most industries in Mexico are owned by foreigners, with the consequence that profits are sent out of the country.

LATIN AMERICA LAUDS BOLIVAR

Six Nations Join in Tribute to Great Liberator

Centennial of Death Marked at Colombia Shrine

Hero Who Broke Dominion of Spain Eulogized

SANTA MARTA (Colombia) Dec. 17. (AP)—On the 100th anniversary of his death, Gen. Simon Bolivar's last words were made the basis of a plea today for harmony among the nations of Latin America.

Speaking to thousands who listened in the bright sunlight outside the house where Bolivar died, President Olaya Herrera repeated the last plea of the South American liberator for unity.

"Let us maintain alive the fervent call to union which he left us as his last will," the President said. "On behalf of Colombia I ask you to remain united so you may not become assassins of the nation and your own executioners."

SIX NATIONS JOIN

Representatives of Venezuela, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia and Panama, the five other nations which owe their freedom from Spain to Bolivar, were among those who joined in honoring the memory of the liberator. To them the President said:

"The people of Colombia offer you their hand as a sign of fraternal friendship which will join our nations in a sole aim of justice and unified search for happiness."

The thousands who came to this ancient seacoast village where Gen. Bolivar died friendless on December 17, 1830, and where his heart is buried, later attended a four-hour mass at a cathedral. They filled the three - centuries - old church and packed the Plaza outside. President Olaya Herrera and his party were present.

AIR FORCE SHOW

As the cathedral service closed a squadron of ten Colombian army planes, the greatest show of air fighting strength ever assembled in the country, circled overhead

American tourists stood about in small groups, easily distinguishable from the swarthy coastal natives.

Bolivar was born in Venezuela in 1783. He died at the age of 47 years, yet in the comparatively brief span he tore the grip of Spain from the last of her South American empire possessions.

LIBERATOR'S LIFE

Born of aristocracy and wealth, Bolivar at 22 pledged his life to freeing Venezuela from Spain. Five years later, with other members of a junta, he formed the first locally chosen government in South America; the next year he was a refugee on the Island of Curacao.

Yet he built up armies, personally led them in more than 200 bloody battles and opened the way for a victory at Ayacucho, Peru, on December 9, 1824, that forever ended the dominion of Spain in South America.

BOLIVAR EULOGIZED BY PRESIDENT HOOVER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—President Hoover today paid tribute to the memory of Simon Bolivar, liberator of six South American republics, in a statement asserting that "all the nations of the American continent owe him a debt of gratitude."

The statement was read by Secretary Stimson at ceremonies at the Pan-American Union in observance of the 100th anniversary of Bolivar's death.

"The people of the United States join with me," President Hoover said, "in honoring the memory of the great liberator, Simon Bolivar. All the nations of the American continent owe him a debt of gratitude, not only because of his military achievements but also by reason of his prophetic political vision which enabled him to lay the foundations of Pan Americanism as well as to foresee the important part which the nations of America are called upon to play in world affairs."

Secretary Stimson said Bolivar "is one of the few figures in history whose stature and influence, far from being dimmed by the progress of time, grow with each succeeding year." The Secretary of State referred to the liberator as "a great patriot and a great statesman."

Damage Claims of Pardoned Trio Rejected

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 17. (AP)—The State Board of Control, meeting here today, denied the damage claims, totaling $15,000, filed by Phil Rohan, Mike Garvey and Harvey Lesher for asserted false imprisonment on charges of robbery and murder in Los Angeles in June, 1928. The men were pardoned by Gov. Young recently following submission of information showing they had been falsely accused.

The claims were based on a law passed fifteen years ago providing that a man erroneously convicted could obtain damages not exceeding $5000. These were the first claims presented under this law.

The board held the men should take their claims to court.

"EXECUTION SQUAD" CUTS OFF HOT AIR AT BANQUET

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 17. (AP)—A campaign against lengthy after-dinner speeches has been launched here, with initial results highly pleasing to proponents of the movement.

Last night 150 business men and city officials met to celebrate completion of a paving project. Nine speakers were on the program, and they required only twenty minutes between them.

An "execution squad" was on hand to see none exceeded the time limit, which was not announced in advance. Some, fearing they would have to wash the dishes or perform other menial tasks, merely said, "Hello, boys."

City Registrar Jack Grosse, the toastmaster, is convinced the speakers established a record for brevity.

New York City's Army of Killers Sidesteps Chair

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (Exclusive) Although between 350 and 375 persons have been slain in New York City since January 1, last, not a single criminal has paid the death penalty for any of these crimes, the execution records of Sing Sing for 1930, made public today, disclose.

This situation, prison officials say, is unprecedented in the forty-one years the law has prescribed electrocution as the mode of capital punishment in this State. Fifteen persons have been electrocuted at the prison this year.

Sheriff Held With Aides as Bank Robbers

MANDAN (N. D.) Dec. 17. (AP)—A Sheriff, his deputy and two other men are under arrest here today charged with holding up the Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Hurdsfield August 14, when approximately $2000 was stolen.

Those arrested are Sheriff John Gates and his deputy, Joe Wicks of Sioux county, Kenneth McDonald, an attorney of Fort Yates, and A. R. Nord, an insurance agent. Authorities said information from a woman whom Wicks, an amateur pugilist, is said to have beaten, brought about the arrests.

SHEPARD DEATH CASE NEARS END

Major Closes Testimony at Wife-Murder Trial

Woman Declared Drunk on Day She Expired

Army Man Says He Didn't Suspect Poisoning

KANSAS CITY (Kan.) Dec. 17. (AP) The defense brought its case near an end today in the trial of Maj. Charles A. Shepard for the asserted poison murder of his wife with testimony Mrs. Shepard had talked of death and on the day she became ill was "staggering drunk."

Witnesses called in Shepard's behalf after he had completed his own testimony told the jury Mrs. Shepard drank bootleg liquor to excess, was in poor health and despondent, stated on several occasions she did not love her husband, and had hinted at suicide.

Shepard, who had categorically denied prosecution allegations he poisoned his wife at Fort Riley, Kan., in 1929, so he could wed Miss Grace Brandon, young stenographer of San Antonio, Tex., closed his two-day appearance on the stand with the statement that he did not suspect poisoning at the time his wife became ill.

CONVICTIONS IN MONTANA "LICENSING"

Chief Gaunt and Others Found Guilty in Liquor Conspiracy Scandal

GREAT FALLS (Mont.) Dec. 17. (AP)—A Federal court jury today found Ray M. Gaunt, Great Falls Chief of Police, guilty of conspiracy to violating the national prohibition laws in licensing bootleggers under a "nuisance" ordinance.

Twenty-four other persons, including four policemen, were convicted with him.

Money derived from the sale of the licenses, testimony during their trial developed, went into the city treasury.

Witnesses testified bootleggers were permitted to continue their operations as long as they paid $100 as a fine every two months.

Three persons charged with bootlegging, codefendants in the trials, pleaded guilty and were fined $150 each. Chief Gaunt was fined $1000.

ADDRESS BY HITLER FORBIDDEN

Police of German City Act to Prevent Clash Between Opposing Factions

MAGDEBURG (Germany) Dec. 17 (AP)—For the first time since the sensational September election victory of the German Fascist party Adolf Hitler, leader of the party, has been refused permission to speak in a German city.

The police here, fearing clashes between the National Socialists (Fascists) and the Republican Reichsbanner and Communist groups in connection with a scheduled Hitler mass meeting tomorrow, issued an order forbidding not only the Hitler gathering but Communist and Reichsbanner protest meetings the same night.

The police order forbids all gatherings indoors or outdoors on Thursday and all open-air meetings and processions until January 5, 1931.

Tremendous crowds have heard Hitler wherever he has spoken during the past few days.

BONN (Germany) Dec. 17. (AP)—Two National Socialists were wounded, one probably fatally, in riots early today in clashes with Fascists.

YOUNG PARRICIDES FREED FROM CELLS

COLUMBIA (S. C.) Dec. 17. (AP)—The gates of the State prison swung open here today for a brother and his sister who entered it as "lifers" nine years ago when still in their teens, following their conviction of the slaying of their father. In September, 1921, Ira Cook, who was 17 years of age at the time, and his sister Mamie, 15, were convicted with their mother of the murder of their father, Sellers Cook.

BUCHAREST STIRRED BY DUEL CHALLENGE

BUCHAREST, Dec. 17. (AP)—Bucharest society is excited over a challenge to a duel sent by M. Filipescu, president of the American-ien Telephone Company, to Herr Mutius, German Minister here. The challenge is the outgrowth of a letter assertedly sent by Herr Mutius to a newspaper man in which he belittles Premier Mironescu and ridicules Prince Barbu Stirbey for his opposition to Prince Carol's return to Bucharest.

M'NINCH WINS SENATE FAVOR

Committee Votes Acceptance of Hoover Nominee

Opposition of Own Party Fails to Score

Battle From Floor Against Confirmation Promised

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—After a new generation of North Carolina Senators had disagreed over his fitness for the Federal Power Commission, Frank R. McNinch of North Carolina today was given the approval of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee to take with him into the forthcoming dispute in the Senate over his confirmation.

The committee voted, 10 to 5, for approval after listening to Senator-elect Bailey denounce and Senator Morrison defend McNinch. Morrison was fresh from the Senate floor, where he took the oath of office. He and Bailey, both Democrats, will replace the late Senator Overman and Senator Simmons, each of whom saw three decades of service.

DEMOCRATS OPPOSE

The five votes against McNinch, who led the anti-Smith movement in North Carolina in 1928, were all cast by Democrats.

Bailey protested the nominee is not a Democrat and was appointed by President Hoover to reward him for his support.

Morrison defended McNinch, though he said the nominee is a "sorry Democrat."

Bailey not only challenged McNinch's democracy and President Hoover's moral right to appoint him as a Democrat, but questioned his ability, declared contributors to his anti-Smith campaign fund were connected with power interests and accused the nominee of violating North Carolina law by failing to report the contributions.

BACKED BY FRIEND

Morrison said he and McNinch had been warm friends for a quarter of a century, lived next to each other and that he was a member of the Presbyterian Church in which McNinch was an elder.

He described McNinch as a man of "unquestioned character" and said he would fill the position with "fidelity and great intelligence." He denied any connection between McNinch and power interests, except through friendship for himself, explaining he was a heavy stockholder in the Duke Power Company.

ATTACK OF MEYER INTERESTS HOOVER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—President Hoover today evinced interest in a House attack on one of his nominees for the Federal Reserve Board and was told reaction to the assault had been "unfavorable."

Representative Luce, Republican, Massachusetts, answered in a speech charges by another Republican, Chairman McFadden of the House Banking Committee, that Eugene Meyer, Jr., the appointee, was closely connected with international banking interests.

After the Luce speech Representative Tilson, Republican, Massachusetts, the majority leader, said the President telephoned to ask what members had thought of McFadden's statements.

The President was told the reaction had been "unfavorable" and the time chosen "inopportune," Tilson said.

Luce asserted McFadden did not speak for the membership of the banking committee.

Teacher Slayer Hunt Fruitless

MARYVILLE (Mo.) Dec. 17. (AP)—National Guardsmen, county officers and citizens conducted a fruitless hunt today for the slayer of Miss Velma Colter, 19-year-old rural school teacher.

Few clews were developed to aid instablishing the identity of the assailant, who attacked the young teacher after she had dismissed her classes at the Garret county school four miles south of here yesterday.

Posses scoured hills and ravines and barns and vacant buildings through the countryside without success.

Fraud in Fur Farm Charged

DENVER, Dec. 17. (AP)—Federal authorities today arrested Roger W. Taggart at a hospital as a result of his indictment for an asserted fur farm fraud. Taggart was taken into custody on a Federal grand jury indictment charging him with using the mails to defraud. Bond was fixed at $5000.

Indictment of Taggart, the United States Attorney's office said, resulted from an investigation of the defunct Western Fur Farms, Inc., of which Taggart, the government charges, was the principal stockholder.

Teachers Score State Textbooks

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17. (AP) Abolition of the practice of the State printing of textbooks was advocated today by the California Teachers' Association, Bay section, whose annual institute closed here.

The resolution says the teachers considered uniform textbooks for pupils of varying mental capacities a handicap.

ONTARIO LIBERALS DROP PROHIBITION

TORONTO, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Liberal party of Ontario voted in convention today to remove from its platform a plank favoring bone-dry prohibition of liquor sales. The plank has been part of the platform for more than a decade.

The Conservative party, now in power, stands for government control and sale of liquor.

PEACE HERO'S KIN MAY GET PENSION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—They do this sort of thing for nothing, but every now and then Congress remembers obscure heroes. Private William H. Dean of the United States Cavalry died after submitting to yellow fever tests in behalf of science. Now Representative Mapes of Michigan has put in a bill to give both his father and mother a pension of $62.50 a month and to have Dean's name inscribed on the War Department's Roll of Honor.

Backers of Immigration Bar Also Setting Guns

Definite Action Appears Increasingly Likely

Ohio Representative Comes to Aid of Filipino

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—Opponents and sponsors of immigration suspension proposals applying both to quota countries and countries of the Western Hemisphere and the Philippines have marshalled their forces here as definite action appeared increasingly likely.

The Johnson resolution to suspend all immigration for two years except relatives of aliens already in the United States has been reported out by the Immigration Committee but probably will not be taken up in the House until after the Christmas recess

OPINION DIVIDED

Although opinion is divided as to its fate, there is the conviction, in some quarters, the desire to extend means of remedying unemployment is so pronounced the immigration suspension proposal will be supported.

Following hearings by the House and Senate committees on the Johnson measure and a similar resolution by Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, State and Labor Department officials are understood to have conferred today on the merits of the proposals.

Filipino leaders, who appeared at the committee hearings, are understood to feel they have at least an even chance to see the Filipino exclusion provision defeated, unless the Johnson measure is voted on under suspension of the rules, prohibiting amendment. In that case the chances of the measure's passing are admitted to be strong.

FRIEND OF FILIPINO

Representative Cable, Republican, Ohio, came to the defense of the Filipinos today. He held, in a statement to be inserted in the Senate Immigration Committee records, that the Filipinos are not aliens but citizens of the Philippine Islands and nationals of the United States "owing allegiance to the United States and entitled to the protection of the United States," and as such are not subject to exclusion.

Making clear his agreement with the general provisions of the Johnson measure, Cable added his opinion "Congress is without authority to bar the coming of the Filipinos, otherwise admissible under present laws, either to Hawaii or to the mainland."

MRS. OWEN PROVES SELF TO BE SNAKE CHARMER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (Exclusive) — Not only is Representative Ruth Bryan Owen, Democrat, of Florida, distinguished as daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan and as one of the nine feminine members of the House, but she has proved herself to be a first-class amateur snake charmer.

With perfect equanimity, while several of her male colleagues shrank away, Mrs. Owen picked up and handled a live five-foot king snake before members of the Committee on Public Lands. She went so far, in fact, as smilingly to wrap it around her neck.

The reptile was brought to a meeting of the committee by Dr. Howard A. Kelley of Baltimore, who was a witness in behalf of Mrs. Owen's bill to create a national park in the Florida Everglades. He explained that the snake was captured in the Everglades, and that it is of a harmless variety, which destroys diamond-back rattlers.

Dr. Kelley placed the king snake on a table in the committee room, where it wriggled about among the books and papers, much to the alarm of a stenographer a few feet away. In order to quiet the apprehensions of the stenographer and others Mrs. Owen lifted the reptile and demonstrated that it would not bite by stroking its back. One or two other members gingerly picked it up afterward but most of them gave the snake a wide berth.

PEORIA (Ill.) Dec. 17. (Exclusive)—Imprisoned in an old-fashioned folding bed beside the body of her husband, who was crushed and suffocated to death when a wardrobe which was a part of the bed fell on him, Mrs. Laura A. Metzel, 78 years of age, struggled for fifteen hours before she was able to extricate herself today and summon aid.

The accident occurred early last evening as the two were retiring for the night.

DEMOCRATS AIM CONGRESS RULE

Garner Will Call Meeting to Form Organization

First Hint Party Will Try to Command Control

Division of 218 to 216 Lends Uncertain Phase

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—Representative Garner of Texas, the minority leader, announced today he will call the Democratic members of the Seventy-second Congress to a caucus in Washington about March 1 to formulate the organization of the next Congress.

He said in the past Republicans have done this when their majority was certain, and since he believes the Democrats will organize the next House he will issue the call for the meeting.

This is the first indication since the November elections the Democrats will make a pronounced effort to control the next House.

For the next Congress the Republicans have 218 House seats, the Democrats 216, and the Farmer-Labor one, and control of the branch will be in dispute until the next Congress convenes.

COURT APPEARANCE DELAYED FOR DEBUT

Marion Wright

CHICAGO, Dec. 17. (Exclusive)—With her debut into Chicago society over, Miss Marion Wright, 18-year-old daughter of a Chicago steel company executive, is making arrangements to appear in court against William Kuhn, son of a retired California broker, who is accused of attempting to extort $25,000 from her. The case has been continued until January 14. Arrangements to continue the case were made when Miss Wright told Judge Lyle that she could not appear in court until after she had made her debut. Kuhn is at liberty under bond of $7000.

Kuhn, police officials declare, was a former friend of the girl and started his extortion efforts after a quarrel with her. When he was arrested and accused of having written letters to the girl demanding the money Kuhn branded the charges as "ridiculous."

ARIZONA COUNT NOW RELEASED

State Population Increased by 30 Per Cent

Only Two Towns Show More Than 10,000 Inhabitants

Less Than Four Persons on Average to Square Mile

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Bureau of the Census has made public today, in Bulletin form, final and detailed population figures for Arizona as compiled during the 1930 census showing the State's population on April 1 to have been 435,573, an increase of 101,411, or 30.1 per cent since November 1, 1920.

This was the second highest numerical increase the State has ever shown. The highest was 129,808, or 63.5 per cent, in the decade 1910 to 1920.

ALL ON UP GRADE

Of Arizona's fourteen counties, eleven showed increased population. Three declined in the decade Maricopa county, including the capital, Phoenix, recorded the greatest increase, 68.5 per cent. Pima, including Tucson, was next highest—60.5 per cent. The other counties increased in varying percentages from 40.9 for Coconino to 2.2 for Graham.

Maricopa is the most densely settled county, with seventeen persons per square mile in a total land area of 8891 square miles. Mohave county with an area of 13 390 square miles has less than one person to every two square miles.

ONLY TWO CITIES

Phoenix and Tucson are the only cities above the 10,000 mark in population. Final figures for the capital's population show 48,118 inhabitants, an increase of 19,065, or 65.6 per cent. Tucson, the second largest city, has a population of 32,506, a gain of 60.2 per cent over 1920. Douglas, in Cochise county, is just short of the 10,000 mark, with 9828.

The list of incorporated places in Arizona includes in all thirty-four cities and towns. Of these four were incorporated in the decade 1920 to 1930. Tolleson in Maricopa county is the smallest of the new incorporations, with a population of 910. Snowflake in Navajo county is the smallest of all incorporated places in the State, with 659 inhabitants.

EMERGENCY COUNCIL TRAVEL PAY APPROVED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Attorney-General's office today informed R. F. Garner, chairman of the State emergency council of the Adjutant-General's office, the State Controller should pay traveling expenses of council members. Garner sought the ruling when the Comptroller refused to pay such expenses on the ground the law provides for but one meeting of the council. The Attorney-General pointed out a $15,000 fund was created by the Legislature for this purpose.

UNIFORM LAWS FOR AIR BACKED

Lindbergh Testifies Against Diversified Rules

National Aeronautic Parley Closes Sessions

Angeleno Sponsors Public Ownership of Fields

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took the stand today against diversified air rules at the closing session of the national conference of uniform aeronautic regulatory laws. Speaking as an observer, rather than a delegate, he said:

"We seek uniformity not only for this country but in every nation throughout the world. Nonuniform regulations are a great hindrance to the progress of aviation.

"The worth of aviation lies in its ability to transport men and material over long distances in the least possible time. The worth of aircraft will be measured entirely in its ability to do away with barriers of time and distance.

"From a technical standpoint we are now able to look forward to eliminating loss of business time in the United States. I do not believe it is visionary to look forward a few years to the time when a letter can be mailed in New York in the evening and have it delivered in Los Angeles or San Francisco the next morning."

The conference, called by the Secretary of Commerce for an interchange of ideas between the State and Federal governments, observed the twenty-seventh anniversary of man's first flight in a powered airplane by telegraphic congratulations to Orville Wright. Wright made the first flight in aeronautic history in 1903.

The threat of real estate values to airports was cited as an argument for public ownership.

Richard B. Barnitz, Los Angeles airport director, addressing the conference, said as cities grow airport sites become more valuable, "with the consequence if they are privately owned they will inevitably be sold off for subdivision."

Pointing to similarity between problems in regulation of marine and air traffic, George B. Logan of the American Bar Association's committee on aeronautics, suggested applying portions of maritime law to aviation.

As an example, he would make an aviator violating air regulations responsible to the authorities where he lands, regardless of where the violation actually occurred.

BANDITS HACK WAY INTO SAFE

San Diego Store Robbed of $2078 in Cash by Trio

Three Employees Bound and Held Prisoner for Hours

Hamilton's, Inc., Scene of Early-Morning Crime

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 17.—Bound and gagged, three employees of Hamilton's, Inc., were held prisoners for more than three hours early today while three bandits hacked open the safe in the store and escaped with $2078 in cash. The robbery began before 11 p.m. last night when Edward M. Nelson, 2803 Market street, the store janitor, was met on the Seventh-street sidewalk by three men who forced him at the point of a gun to let them in the building. Once inside the store, the bandits intimidated Virgil Akers, 4482 Swift street, and William Hall, 1145 Front street, bakers, who were at work, tied and gagged the three men and locked them in a waiting room on the mezzanine floor.

While one of the bandits remained to guard the store employees, the other two knocked the combination off the safe, chopped open the inside doors with a lather's hatchet, scooped up all the available money and scattered valuable papers and documents about the floor.

Shortly after the bandits left the place, one of the bound workmen freed himself, forced open the door, which had been tied from the outside, and sounded the alarm.

The robbery, which took about four hours to perform, was executed with coolness and precision on the part of the thugs, each of the victims told police.

Rider Goes Over Precipice With Horse and Mule

PASADENA, Dec. 17.—"Chic" Chivvis, former cowboy, who resides in La Canada, narrowly escaped death today when a pack mule, which had been tied to the pummel of the saddle of Chivvis's horse, stumbled on a mountain trail and dragged horse and rider over a fifty-foot precipice.

"The mule was walking behind," related Chivvis, "and he either stumbled, or else the outer edge of the trail caved in. The pack animal shot out into space and the jerk on my saddle caused the horse to rear backward into the canyon. I was thrown into space also, but my fall was broken when I landed on the horse's belly."

The horse and mule escaped serious injury due to the fact that their backs were protected by the saddle and pack. "Wolf," the horse, was cited for bravery in an animal-hero contest last summer. The citation was based on Wolf's heroism in bearing victims of the St. Francis Dam disaster to safety.

Today's accident took place on the trail from Pine Flats to Mt. Wilson.

GOOD FISHING REPORT

OCEAN PARK, Dec. 17.—Excellent fishing weather with daily catches of bonita, perch, sculpin and mackerel are reported at the big barge Billings, anchored two and a half miles off the Ocean Park Pier, by Capt. Max Watt. Nice hauls of rock cod and white sea bass are also being recorded by the pair of deep-sea fishing boats Scandia II and Freedom, in their daily trips off Point Dume.

PACKERS IN OVERHAUL OF HOUSES

Repairs Made to Loading and Scale Platforms and New Equipment Installed

EAST HIGHLANDS, Dec. 17.—Packing-houses of the East Highlands citrus district, which have not been busy for the last week and will not be again until after New Year's, are being overhauled just now ready for one of the heaviest packing years in the history of this district.

Repairs have been made to the loading and scale platforms in all the houses and at the Gold Buckle Association packing-house, where about 1000 cars of fruit will be packed the coming year, two big electric counting machines are just being installed. These count every orange that comes into the packing-house so that there can be no question as to the receipts. With the installation of these counting machines new scales have been installed and other work has been done.

This packing-house has its own precooling plant but the same company operates a house on Boulder avenue in Highland and this year a complete Brogdex plant is being installed in it. This is the material that is used on the oranges to prevent decay, and fruit shipped under it is guaranteed to keep much longer than ordinary fruit.

Packers are prepared for one of the busiest seasons they have ever had, and plans are being made for spreading out the picking so that shipments will not congest in the East.

Institute Hears Communism and Fascism Theme

GLENDALE, Dec. 17.—Contrasting Communism and Fascism as the religions, respectively, of the starving illiterates and of the starving educated class, Frank Bone, former special writer for the New York Times, told the teachers attending the sixth annual institute here that Fascism is merely Communism turned upside down.

"Communism wipes out national boundaries and love of the state, sacrificing the state for liberty; Fascism in turn sets aside the individual and makes the state supreme, with the individual existing merely for the benefit of the state," Bone declared.

Germany, split between the contending forces of Fascism and Communism, stands on the verge of civil war, Bone predicted, adding that the death of President Von Hindenburg, who may not live much longer, is liable to be the signal for the warring elements to spring at one another's throats.

Mussolini, who has imposed his iron discipline on the entire Italian nation, has his eyes on Northern Africa as the territory over which his country must expand and is working to make his dreams come true, while France strengthens her border fortifications and turns Corsica into another Gibraltar in the path of Italian expansion, the speaker declared.

"In order to temporarily relieve the depressed condition, I urge all citizens who need any work done about their premises, yard work, carpenter work, or labor of any kind, to report to me, and I will recommend reliable men to fill the respective capacities," Mrs. Pickard stated.

BODY NOT FROM FIDELITY

San Diego County Coroner Says Corpse Found on Santa Rosa Island Not One of Purse Seiner Crew

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 17.—Coroner E. G. Dodge today announced that the body of an unidentified man found last week on Santa Rosa Island, and believed to be the body of one of eleven fishermen missing from the purse seiner Fidelity, was not a member of the fishing boat's crew. His decision came after a three-day examination in which several men personally acquainted with the crew were called to identify the remains.

Gold dental work found in the mouth of the man recovered from the island by local fishermen, was said to have been the only means of determining the man was not one of the ill-fated Fidelity crew. All of those called here to identify the body, if possible, agreed that none of the boat's crew had had any gold dental work. The body was decomposed to the extent that dental marks were said to have been the only hopes of identification.

Coroner Dodge stated that the body had been exposed for nearly a month, and that all other possible marks of identification had been destroyed.

Local authorities have notified all shipping companies of the body in an effort to determine if any men have been missing. Possibility that the body was that of the radio operator of the S.S. Humboldt, who mysteriously disappeared en route to San Pedro from San Francisco last week, was discredited by the Coroner and waterfront officials.

In the meantime search for members of the Fidelity is being continued on all four channel islands. To date the only clew to the missing ship's fate have been a few bits of wreckage found floating near Santa Rosa a week after the boat was feared to have gone down in a storm.

POMONA KIDDIES JOYOUS

More Than 3000 Youngsters Guests of Elks' Lodge and Theater in Special Holiday Program

POMONA, Dec. 17.—More than 3000 kiddies packed and swarmed a local theater this afternoon, the guests of the theater, and the Pomona Lodge of B.P.O.E., and were entertained at a special program especially selected for their amusement. The hundreds of kiddies, practically all from needy families, received candy and toys, with the compliments of the sponsors of Pomona Valley's greatest charity carnival, which is continuing until Christmas, with the grand climax coming on Christmas Eve. At that time hundreds of baskets of edibles will be distributed by the Elks' organization to poor families in the city.

Hundreds of free tickets, good for any afternoon or evening performance and entitling the holder to candy and toys, were distributed through the co-operation of the city schools, and will be honored from now on until the 24th inst.

Santa Claus, with a score of assistants, was on hand at today's opening show, and, according to reports, was a very tired man at the close of the festivities.

The next feature staged by the joint hosts will be held on Saturday morning, when the price of admission to a special showing of Byrd's South Pole pictures will be one article of groceries, a toy, discarded clothing, shoes, etc., and which is expected to produce several truck loads of edibles to help fill the baskets to be distributed Christmas Eve by the Elks' lodge.

Already offers of assistance are pouring in, one local firm having donated forty sacks of flour and use of five large trucks to haul the groceries, etc., to the lobby of the Elks' home, following the Saturday morning show.

In addition to this, scores have purchased special loge seats to help financially to make this year's charity event one long to be remembered in this city.

Stock and Hay Burn in Barn Fire on Ranch

SANTA PAULA, Dec. 17.—Fire originating in the rafters of a large barn, due to defective wiring, early today destroyed the structure, about twenty-seven sheep, fifty tons of hay, several sets of harness, five saddles and an electric sheep-shearing machine, a quantity of beans and other valuable articles, on the Frank Jauregui ranch in Wheeler Canyon, five miles west of this city.

Preliminary estimates of the damage by the owner set the loss at between $6000 and $8000. Further check-ups were being made today to ascertain if any more live stock had perished.

The large barn was situated in the midst of several other structures but valiant work of the county fire department and residents of the canyon saved the bunk house, garage, several chicken houses and other buildings.

Jauregui was awakened at 1:30 o'clock this morning to see the flames shooting through the roof of the barn. He rushed to the blazing structure and succeeded in freeing his horses before the roof fell in. Lack of water and a stiff east wind handicapped the firemen who fought the flames for nearly an hour before they were subdued.

The work of the fraternity on the Coast has increased in interest since it was organized not so long ago, and at the next convention it is expected there will be delegates from all the campus papers on the Coast.

Corey, president of the United Christian Missionary Society, a leader of international reputation in the denomination.

The program opened at 10 a.m., with addresses by Rev. F. T. Porter of Los Angeles, who discussed State missions; Alden Lee Hill, Los Angeles, who discussed the motive of missions; Dr. Stephen J. Corey and Miss Lulu Garton.

The main address of the afternoon was delivered by Miss Tessie Williams, who is home on a furlough from her missionary station at Mondombe, Belgian Congo.

Following a banquet the conference closed tonight with an address by Dr. Corey on "Men and the World Mission of Jesus."

BOY HIKES WRONG WAY

SOUTH GATE, Dec. 17. — Carl Reese, 12 years of age, residing with his parents, has given up his idea of tramping to Texas. The lad started from his home early in the morning and instead of going toward the Lone Star State headed in the wrong direction and by evening found himself in Long Beach. At about the same time the officers also found the lad, so they took him in charge and telephoned his parents here. The boy is again under the parental roof.

Long Beach Prosecutor Tells of Reversal of Two Convictions

LONG BEACH, Dec. 17.—The City Prosecutor admitted today that a new drive against shore operations of gambling barges appeared destined to be wrecked on adverse construction of the law. Reversal of the conviction of Ray Pullman and Lawrence Smith on charges of displaying tire covers advertising a gambling boat was received here today from the Appellate Division of the Superior Court. The decision held that the defendants were entitled to a new trial because testimony failed to show any movement to the gambling boat by reason of the advertising.

Other cases pending, including a group in which a demurrer on behalf of the boatmen engaged in transportation to the gambling boats, which was filed today, present the same problem, prosecutors admit. Transportation to the gambling barges can be shown but officials doubt that they can prove the necessary connecting link of advertising or solicitation.

Arrests at the docks of persons engaged in transportation to the gambling boats were made where persons who obviously had decided to visit the boats were congregated, and solicitation, suggestion or other acts which might have induced the prospective customers of the gambling boats to seek the docks, present very difficult problems of proof, prosecutors admit.

In the past, all laws designed to check the shore business of the gambling barges, by State or municipal legislation, have been held invalid by the courts.

Many Dig for Hidden Gold of Don Tiburcio

UPLAND, Dec. 17.—The old traditional yarn of hidden treasure in the hills surrounding Red Hill Country Club refuses to be downed and this week an expedition of gold hunters was reported spading up the countryside and part of the golf course at the club.

History relates that once upon a time Don Tiburcio Tapia hid his vast wealth in the ground under a tree near his huge fortress-home built on the highest hill of the group.

He feared the inroads of the "Americanos" and trusted not even his old Indian servant, whom he blindfolded, and had him assist in bearing the treasure chest from the house to its hiding place.

Searching parties have scoured the hills since the days of the Spanish in Red Hill district, but the only treasure known to have been uncovered was a case of old-time whisky.

The treasure seekers this week were warned to keep their shovels out of the fairways of the golf course.

One hole dug by the seekers went down four feet before they were informed they were digging in the exact spot where other seekers sank a ten-foot shaft some time ago and found nothing.

The latest expedition was armed with a gold-detecting device, which was used in conjunction with shovels and picks. The entire course was sounded by the instrument, but no public announcement of findings was made.

The present business depression and approach of Christmas are thought to be filling the bosoms of the ambitious with desire to spend Don Tiburcio's gold.

BRAWLEY AIRPORT IN COMMISSION HANDS

BRAWLEY, Dec. 17.—Management of the municipal airport owned by Brawley is to be placed in the hands of a special commission of three members, according to the statement of Mayor J. C. Fluke, who stated that he had been authorized to appoint the commission. The airport has been directly under the supervision of the City Council in the past, Fluke explained, but this system of operation has been unsatisfactory from the viewpoint of both the Councilmen and visiting pilots, and the new system was adopted in order to provide better service for planes which arrive here.

SANTA ANA BUS FARE CHEAP

Beginning Day After Christmas, Ride in Downtown Area to Cost Only 3 Cents in That City

SANTA ANA, Dec. 17.—Beginning the 26th inst., the city of Santa Ana will perhaps enjoy the benefits of the cheapest local zone bus fare in the United States, when a 3-cent fare in the downtown section will go into effect, according to a schedule submitted by the Santa Ana Bus Lines and approved by the City Council.

The new 3-cent fare, evidently intended to meet the competition offered by the local taxicab companies, charging 10 cents, will be charged for transportation within a zone bounded by First street on the south, Van Ness on the west, Sixth street line on the north, and French street on the east. The former fare was 7 cents.

Likewise the 7-cent fare has been reduced to 5 cents in the central business and residential district, bounded on the south by Fairview street, on the west by Baker street, on the north by Seventeenth street, and on the east by Grand avenue.

An entirely new slate of directors was elected, the first time there has been a complete change in the history of the club. They include E. H. Day, Riverside; Dr. C. H. Castle, Los Angeles; E. Water Problem Solution May Be Found Soon

MONROVIA, Dec. 17.—Solution of the problem of delivering certain waters in Sawpit Canyon, purchased by the city from private individuals, will be reached in the near future, providing the suggestion submitted to the City Council last night is carried out.

The solution discussed by the Council in conference with Arthur Johnson, one of the owners of the water, was that property owners present warranted deeds to the water right, to the city, assuring delivery at the five-point weir box.

Several months ago the city signed an agreement with the holders to buy the water for $1750, providing Louis Bradbury consented to allow the city to divert the water at a five-point weir box instead of an eleven-point box, the present diversion box. Bradbury has never given official consent to such a plan, it was revealed.

Although the city has signed an agreement to purchase the water, the money has never been paid, since delivery of the water has not yet been assured.

BANDITS ACT AS CLERKS

Two Robbers Wait on Drug-Store Customers After Locking Up Clerks; Register Rifled

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 17.—Two of the most cool-headed bandits police say ever operated in the city, last night held up at the point of a gun the manager and a clerk of the Bell Drug Company on Eighth street, locked the two victims in a stock room, sold some merchandise to an unsuspecting customer, dumped $300 from the cash register into a sack, and escaped in an automobile they had left parked at the side of the store.

When the hold-up call came in to police headquarters, the city officers were investigating the burglarizing of the Young Korean Market on Market street. Thieves broke in a rear window, smashed open the cash register and fled with about $35. The burglary was discovered when the store owners returned at 7:30 p.m., after being away for an hour.

Possibility that James Keeney, partner of James Bell in the Eighth and Vine-street drug store, was the target for one of the bandits' guns, but was saved from injury because the revolver trigger fell on an empty chamber, appeared in Keeney's story of the robbery as told to Police Captain Joe Mendez.

Keeney said he had stepped into the rear of the store to answer the telephone. A woman's voice asked him if he had in stock a certain article of merchandise, and he returned to the front of the store to determine if the article was on hand.

Standing in front of the counter at the rear of the front part of the store were two men.

"Just a minute, buddy," one of them said to Keeney, who was bending over to look under the counter. "I'll be with you in a minute; there's a lady on the telephone," he replied, and started to return to the telephone. He was startled by the click of the revolver. An instant later he was being pushed into the rear of the store while one of the bandits poked a gun into his ribs.

"That gun won't miss the next time," warned the bandit, shoving Keeney into a chair. Neil Stone, the clerk, was then brought back with the manager.

Here's Chance to Get Holly and Mistletoe

OWENSMOUTH, Dec. 17.—Here's a chance to get some mistletoe and holly for the Christmas season. Roy L. Glover, owner of a large tract of wooded foothill land in the mountains back of Chatsworth Lake, next Sunday will give away several truckloads to motorists who will come for it.

This is the fourth consecutive year Glover has played Santa Claus in this regard. Last year, when he made his announcement, motorists almost swamped his place. The holly and the mistletoe are in the hills back of Lakeside Park, where Glover and his helpers will be Sunday to pass out the greenery.

Recent weather has not been the most conducive to the best of holly growth but there will be an abundance of the mistletoe, Glover says. Lakeside Park is reached via Van Nuys, and then west out Saticoy street to the extreme western end of San Fernando Valley, where road signs will direct motorists to the park properties.

SENATE ARGUES BABY QUESTION

Fathers Take Active Part in Floor Debate

Maternity and Hygiene Bill Brings on Battle

Vote Will Be Taken Today on Federal-Aid Measure

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (Exclusive)—Everybody in the Senate this afternoon agreed that babies ought to be taken care of. The argument was over who should do the caretaking, the village doctor back home, or the United States government at Washington.

The debate was over the baby bill which Senator Jones of Washington had introduced and which follows the general lines of the now-lapsed Sheppard-Towner bill granting Federal aid to the States for maternity and infancy hygiene. But it developed into a fight of fathers, with Senator Bingham of Connecticut, proud father of seven sons, calling the bill a socialistic invasion of State's rights, and with Senator Davis, Republican, Pennsylvania, who has one son and four daughters, calling the bill a life saver.

The Bingham side of the controversy, backed by a resolution from the American Medical Association terming the legislation "undesirable" and "the product of political expediency" sought to sidetrack it by sending it back to committee. But the Davis faction, supported by two doctor-Senators, H. D. Hatfield of West Virginia and Royal S. Copeland of New York, defeated that motion by a vote of 74 to 14 and thus kept the babies a lively issue to be voted upon tomorrow.

Senator Hatfield, speaking as a Senator, censured Congress for "responding quickly to a call to stamp out hoof and mouth disease in cattle, but becoming suddenly reluctant to helping mothers and children."

Then, speaking as a doctor, he reminded his colleagues that 10,000 blind babies are born in the United States every year. The large percentage of these cases, he declared, will be largely done away with, if the Federal government can send funds and information into remote localities.

SWEENEY SEEKS PRISON PAROLE

Gas Company Embezzler's Plea on Calendar

Goldstein, Slayer, Wants Sentence Fixed

Leo Doody's Case Likely to Cause Discussion

SAN QUENTIN, Dec. 17. (Exclusive)—Edward E. Sweeney, embezzler of $200,000 while employed as land and tax agent for the Southern California Gas Company, who promised, but failed, to disclose a Los Angeles City Hall graft scandal, appears on the regular December prison calendar as an applicant for parole.

The calendar also shows the name of Jacob Goldstein, slayer of his business partner in Los Angeles, for fixation of sentence on a manslaughter conviction, and the name of Leo Doody, Los Angeles gambling bet collector, whose case is one for consideration on a technical basis that promises considerable discussion by the Parole Board.

Sweeney created a sensation during his trial for embezzlement by promising to rock the foundations of the city of Los Angeles, but his promise died in the county grand jury room. He has been in prison since September 22, 1928, and has fulfilled the minimum of his several sentences.

Doody was received here November 22, last, to serve thirty days to a year. He can be paroled by the board next Monday but several legal technicalities are involved, one of which provides application must be submitted thirty days before consideration. In Doody's case this would have meant submission of a parole application as soon as he entered the prison. The board, however, determined to consider the case regardless.

The calendar also discloses that George Pesce and Gus Madsen, convicted in connection with the murder of a nonunion carpenter in San Francisco, are seeking to have their sentences determined, as is Harry Leaser, convicted of bribery in the recent Alameda county graft scandal.

ANCIENT GREEK TEMPLE FOUND

Excavators at Jerash Make Startling Discoveries

Colonnaded Court and Fine Mosaic Floors Dug Up

Dozens of Plundered Tombs Also Brought to Light

JERUSALEM, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Jewish Telegraphic Agency learns a large colonnaded court and the beautiful Temple of Artemis, one of the principal deities of Greek mythology, were uncovered today at Jerash by the joint expedition of Yale University and the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem.

Jerash, the ancient Greek city of Gerasa in Transjordania, is believed to be the biblical Ramoth Gilead. As late as the second and third centuries of the Christian era it was a flourishing center of Greek civilization devoted to the special worship of Artemis. The ruins were found in 1806.

Two fine mosaic floors with inscriptions were laid bare and hundreds of coins were turned up in the remains of buildings from Arab, Byzantine and Roman times.

Dozens of plundered tombs complete with great locks and chains, all containing the remains of interesting offerings for the dead, including terra cotta figurines, masks, lamps and a great variety of vessels, also were found. The pile in front of Artemis's Temple yielded a great variety of lamps and terra cotta ikons.

Dr. C. C. McCown, director of the American school here, and the dean of the Pacific School of Religion at Berkeley, Cal., told the Jewish Telegraphic Agency he and Prof. C. I. Fischer believe further excavations promise even more startling discoveries.

BANKER PROMISED 'RIDE' BY EXTORTIONIST GANG

That Harry Reed, Compton banker, who figured as the victim in an extortion plot, which culminated in a gun battle in North Long Beach Monday night, received another threatening letter which was mailed in Compton Tuesday, was revealed by friends yesterday.

Reed was called a "double-crosser" in this letter and was warned that he would be "taken for a ride" for having attempted to lead the extortionists into an ambush Monday night when they came to the spot they had designated for the money demanded, it was said.

Reed is in retirement at the suggestion of the authorities, while Capt. Stensland of the Sheriff's office robbery detail, declares he has clews which will result in the arrest of the gunmen.

One man, held as a possible suspect at San Bernardino, was released as far as the Reed case is concerned following questioning yesterday by two Los Angeles county deputy sheriffs.

The youth, Donald Lawson Osborne, 24 years of age, 6610 Holmes avenue, Florence, called at the home of E. H. Miller of Loma Linda, near Redlands, Tuesday night with a bullet wound in his shoulder. He said that he had been held up and shot by a bandit. Doctors declared that the wounds were several hours old and communicated with Capt. Stensland.

It developed, according to the deputies, that Osborn was hit by a .38-caliber slug and that powder marks were burned on his coat. The deputies who engaged the gunmen Monday night in the North Long Beach fight, used buckshot.

On the 6th inst., Reed, who is manager of the Compton National Bank, received a letter demanding $10,000 under threat of death to him and his wife. Reed placed a letter at the designated spot and told the extortionists that he did not have $10,000. Later they reduced their demand to $1400 which was to be placed near a telephone pole near Orange avenue and Bixby Road, North Long Beach. A fake cache was placed as demanded and when the extortionists appeared deputies and police opened fire with shotguns. In the darkness and fog the men escaped abandoning an automobile which was later found to have been stolen a short time before. One man was thought to have been wounded.

It is understood that in the letter received Tuesday the gunmen made no mention of one of their number having been wounded in the shotgun fusillade, Monday night. However death was declared for Reed having worked with the authorities in an effort to capture them, it is reported. The handwriting is said to be the same as that of the other threat letters received.

VEIL LIFTS OVER BURIAL OF EX-CZAR

French General in Book Tells How He Took Royal Ashes From Siberia

PRAGUE (Czecho-Slovakia) Dec. 17. (AP)—The newspaper Ceske Slovo today published excerpts from a book by Gen. Janin, French officer who was with the Czecho-Slovak Legion in Siberia in 1919, which purports to reveal the whereabouts of the ashes of the former Czar of Russia.

Janin says following the execution of the Czar, Czarina and their children by the Bolsheviks, he took their ashes in a casket to France. After Russian circles had refused to take charge of the remains, the general adds, he secretly buried them in his own family grave. He asserts with the ashes are the remains of jewels and other ornaments which the royal personages wore when shot.

Dispatches published in 1924 said Gen. Janin had brought the ashes of the Russian royal family to France, but just where they have been placed appears to be a closely guarded secret. The general opinion was that they were in the care of Russian royalists, who would return them to Russia in case the soviet regime ever fell.

Three Chicago Criminals Shot to Death as They Attempt Robberies

CHICAGO, Dec. 17. (AP)—Three robbers were killed tonight in hold-ups in widely separated sections of the city.

First to be shot down was a man tentatively identified as Henry Escalona, 20 years of age. He was shot by Richard Seibold in a hold-up of Seibold's North Side butcher shop.

The second victim was one of a quintet which held up a soft-drink parlor on the South Side. After they had emptied the cash drawer Joseph Novotny, 20, son of the proprietor, ran from a rear room with a shotgun. A patron rushed the robbers and in the resultant melee the robber was wounded fatally.

Policeman Michael J. Neery accounted for the third, shooting down an unidentified man who tried to rob a Loop clothing store.

Admission of First Group to America Recalled

Band of Twenty-three Has Grown to 4,500,000

Hoover and Other Notables Send Messages

BOSTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—American Jews commemorated in Faneuil Hall tonight the 275th anniversary of the grudging admission to the New World of the first company of Jewish pioneers.

From that first company of twenty-three settlers who knocked twice at the gates of New Amsterdam in 1655 before Gov. Peter Stuyvesant permitted them to enter, the Jews of America have grown to 4,500,000.

Their part in the transforming of the United States from a struggling fringe of settlements on the outer edge of civilization into one of the foremost nations on the earth was recognized tonight in messages and speeches by prominent fellow Americans from President Hoover down.

"The Jewish people have brought to this country both the treasurers of their ancient tradition and the pioneer spirit that looks forward hopefully into the future," wrote President Hoover in a letter of greeting. "They have thrown themselves whole-heartedly into the task of the nation's upbuilding."

SWINDLER PLEA TO DENY GUILT

continuous grand juries will be discontinued next year.

The jury adjourned at 4 p.m., with the announcement that more witnesses on the Beesemyer case will be heard tomorrow, and that possibly Building and Loan Commissioner Whitmore, under fire because his department did not discover Beesemyer's defalcations for five years, will be among the next witnesses heard.

Whitmore, it is apparent, is scheduled for embarrassment from other sources, also. Attorney S. S. Hahn announced late yesterday that a mass meeting of depositors in the loan company will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the American Legion clubhouse, 2035 North Highland Boulevard, under the auspices of an organization to be known as the Guaranty Building and Loan Depositors' Protective League.

Hahn said that Ralph J. Reese has been elected president of the league, and together with Joe Watson, a heavy depositor and an attorney, will head tonight's meeting.

Guards continued yesterday on duty with Whitmore to protect him against threats made against him during the past few days. At the same time Mrs. Beesemyer was the object of a threatening missive and she and her 17-year-old son Elmer fled from their home to the protection of friends.

The threatening letter, addressed to Mrs. Beesemyer, was a carbon copy of one dispatched to Beesemyer in the County Jail. The letter to Mrs. Beesemyer was directed in care of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association and fell into the hands of the Hollywood police, who turned it over to the Sheriff's office. The original, received at the County Jail, also was turned over to the Sheriff's men for investigation.

Contents of the missive, written on ruled loose-leaf notebook paper and dated the 14th inst., are as follows:

"I have my life savings in the building association you robbed and, as many others, no doubt, I cannot afford to lose it.

"Unless you give up at least $5,000,000, so that we poor people can get our money, I will not kill your son and wife, for death is too good for them, but I will first put out the eyes of your son, and if the money is not forthcoming shortly, I will also put out the eyes of your wife, then yours.

"So better be quick about it, as I will not mention a set time."

The letter was signed "A poor laborer."

In preparation for tomorrow's grand jury session the District Attorney's office yesterday seized records of the Investors of America, 6331 Hollywood Boulevard, a concern in which Beesemyer was interested. A stock-selling permit to this company was suspended a few days ago by the Corporation Commission.

Definite action which may be of considerable importance to creditors and stockholders of the building and loan association may be taken today as the result of an informal conference held last night in the chambers of United States District Judge Cosgrave. The conference was attended by L. G. Campbell, deputy State Attorney-General; Stanley A. Steindorf, attorney for the State Building and Loan Division, and Joseph L. Lewinson, attorney for a group of depositors of the association, who recently filed an application for a Federal receivership.

Mr. Steindorf, representing Charles A. Whitmore, State Building and Loan Commissioner, is said to have submitted a proposal that instead of a Federal receiver, one or two outstanding men, who will engender public confidence, be named as receivers for the Guaranty company, under jurisdiction of Commissioner Whitmore and the State courts pending determination of whether the company is bankrupt.

This is said to hinge on determination of the question as to whether shareholders, or depositors, can be classed as creditors of the concern. It is the contention of Mr. Lewinson, attorney for the petitioning creditors that the depositors are really creditors, but he concedes that the general creditors have a priority over the depositors. It was intimated last night that this question will be determined today.

UNION PROTESTS DENIED

Protests were denied yesterday by the City Council against the improvement of Union avenue between Second street and Acacia street. The proceedings for the improvement of Fuller avenue between Melrose avenue and Oakwood avenue were abandoned on a protest of 76 per cent.

GRAND JURY HEARS "FINIS"

Judge Fleming, Called for Querying on Interview, Repeats Stand as to Conclusion of Service

The Los Angeles county grand jury paused during its investigation of the $8,000,000 shortage of Gilbert H. Beesemyer yesterday to make sure that Superior Judge Fleming, newly elected presiding judge, doesn't want a grand jury next year.

The inquisitorial body summoned Judge Fleming and the reporter for The Times, who quoted the jurist as saying the District Attorney, the court and the public service in general do not require the continuous services of a grand jury.

Judge Fleming told the grand jury that the interview was correct, "so far as a conversation can be set down on paper, exactly as delivered," and that he did, in fact, mean what he said when he informed the grand jury, in response to their resolution requesting they be allowed to continue in office sixty days longer, and he thought "they ought to conclude their labors in two weeks," after spending three months and $50,000 in investigating the city administration, and indicting three Negroes.

Judge Fleming added, however, that if at the first of the year, there is any real reason why the grand jury should continue in office, "for a few days," he sees no reason why they should not be permitted to do so.

"However," the judge added, "they will not be expected or permitted to take up any new investigations."

The text of the resolution passed by the grand jury last week, asking for an extension of the time of their service, is as follows:

"Whereas, serious charges of irregularities, misfeasance and malfeasance in office, and wanton waste or misappropriation of public funds by public officials in the municipal government of the city of Los Angeles have been brought to the attention of this grand jury, which charges reflect on the efficiency, character and official integrity of certain public officials and may necessitate criminal action: and

"Whereas, this body, in recognition of its sworn and bounden duty in such cases, has undertaken and now has under way a thorough and proper investigation of such charges, in order that all evidence pertaining thereto may be assembled and the public vindicated and protected as well as that the innocent may be cleared of suspicion and restored to public confidence; and

EXTENSION URGED

"Whereas, there is no legal limitation of a grand jury session to the calendar year, and evidence already adduced is sufficient to warrant and demand a complete hearing without interruption or suspension by those familiar with and who have in hand present pending matters of immediate grave civic concern which inexcusably require the continued pursuit, analysis and affirmative determination thereof, by the examination of witnesses and a just and proper consideration of all circumstances and conditions, Now, therefore, this grand jury resolves:

"That the Hon. Walton J. Wood confer with the Hon. William C. Doran and the Hon. John L. Fleming, to the end that this grand jury be continued intact and in session for a period of sixty days or such additional time as may be requisite to a complete and proper determination of imminent matters in an honorable and conscientious manner. And be it further

"Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the grand jury, and that copies thereof be delivered to the above named members of the Superior Court of Los Angeles county."

COURT'S REPLY

Judge Fleming's answer, under date of the 11th inst., follows:

Frederic I. Morris, Esq., Foreman,
Grand Jury of Los Angeles County,
Los Angeles.

Dear sir:

In acknowledging the communication from the grand jury of Los Angeles county, under date of the 9th inst., with inclosed copy of resolutions adopted by that body, although I have as yet no official authority in the matter, I will say at this time, in order that you may know my attitude, that the law, as I understand it, contemplates the calling of a new grand jury each year; and in view of the length of time the 1930 grand jury has had to consider and dispose of matters now pending before it, and the available time still remaining, it is my desire that the present grand jury complete the investigations and recommendations it now has in hand before the expiration of the current calendar year.

Yours very truly,
[Signed]
JOHN L. FLEMING.

BEESEMYER INVOLVED IN NEW ACTION

Carl Maier Syndicate of Which Swindler Was Sole Trustee Sued by Group

Another Beesemyer business enterprise was thrown into the courts yesterday when the Carl Maier Syndicate, of which Gilbert H. Beesemyer, admitted embezzler of nearly $8,000,000, was sole trustee, was sued by S. Carl Jessen and five other stockholders, who ask for a receivership and an accounting.

The complaint sets forth that the syndicate's wells yield 1000 to 1200 barrels of oil a day, in addition to commercial quantities of natural gas. It is asserted that Beesemyer diverted and misappropriated to his own use funds that should have been distributed among stockholders.

AID COMMITTEE DISCUSSES PLAN

Legislative Group of County Organization Meets

Three Proposed Measures Pondered at Session

Friedlander, Buzzell and Shaw Ideas Weighed

Three measures looking to relief for persons out of work and aid for needy were discussed yesterday afternoon at the first meeting of the legislative committee of the county-wide unemployment committee, of which Supervisor Shaw is chairman. They were:

The new bill proposed by Attorney Jack Friedlander, former State Corporation Commissioner, to relieve home owners out of work from the burden of taxes for a period of three years during times of economic stress. The measure will be presented at the next Legislature in January.

An amendment to the county salary ordinance, proposed by J. W. Buzzell, union official, permitting the establishment of a five-day work week.

FRIEDLANDER'S PLAN

Legislation outlined by Supervisor Shaw providing that a person would have to be a resident of the county for three years before charitable aid could be extended to such person.

Under the legislation, as outlined by Friedlander, the Governor would be authorized to appoint an equity tax commission during times of financial stress. The membership of the commission would be comprised of not less than five and not more than seventeen representative citizens, who would serve without pay. The commission would be empowered to extend the time for the payment of taxes for a period of three years to equity home owners whose sole income is derived from salaries or wages.

Attorney Friedlander declared that he had made an investigation of taxes in the office of the County Auditor and found that about 20 per cent of the payments at present are delinquent. Out of 803,296 parcels of property 161,046 are delinquent, he said.

CHARITY ELIGIBLES

Speaking on his county salary ordinance amendment, Buzzell declared that if such amendment is adopted by the Supervisors it will create at least one-sixth more positions in the county.

Supervisor Shaw declared that many persons who are reaching the age when they must seek the aid of charity come to California, manage to eke out an existence for one year and then seek support from the county. He believed that by extending the residential limit to three years a great saving could be made by the county. The Supervisor said that New York State requires a residenceship of five years before county aid can legally be given to the applicant.

BEDSIDE HEARING SOUGHT IN SUIT AGAINST ACTRESS

A bedside hearing of the annulment action of Hugh C. Leighton against Pauline Frederick Leighton, his actress wife, is planned by Attorney Benjamin F. Bledsoe, it was announced yesterday.

Leighton is confined to his bed with an illness, and Bledsoe declared he is too weak to stand the ordeal of appearing in court, or of testifying with newspaper reporters or spectators present.

Miss Frederick, through her attorney, Morris G. Herbert, has announced that she will not contest the case, but will permit it to be defaulted.

Leighton has asked that his marriage be annulled on the ground that Miss Frederick was a wife to him "in name only," and did not perform the obligations of her nuptial contract.

Emmet Flynn's Wife Receives Divorce Decree

Emmet J. Flynn, motion-picture director, often left her alone at home and refused to explain his absences, it was asserted yesterday by Mrs. Geneive Flynn, testifying at her divorce trial.

"He also refused to accompany me to parties or to go with me when I called on friends," she testified.

Judge Bowron granted her a decree. He also approved a property settlement agreement whereby Flynn is to pay $100 a week toward the support of Mrs. Flynn and their daughter, Mary Gene, 8 years of age, who remains in the wife's custody. The Flynns married September 8, 1914, and separated October 24, last.

SALESMAN WINS DIVORCE

His wife went on a motor tour of the country with another man while he remained here to work, Phil Mata, salesman, yesterday testified at a hearing of his suit for divorce from Veada Mata. Superior Judge Craig granted Mata a divorce.

NO NEED TO BE TIRED OUT IN MID-AFTERNOON

By Eating or Drinking Something Sweet This Zero Hour Can Be Avoided

Millions of people engaged in business have the common problem of fighting fatigue in mid-afternoon. This condition is due, not only to the fact that energy has been expended during the early part of the day, but that business invariably speeds up in the afternoon and makes its greatest demands on the worker.

Scientific tests have proved that this mid-afternoon fatigue can be overcome or lessened materially by eating or drinking something sweet. The type of nourishment which has been used in the experiments are candy, ice cream, cookies, cakes, milk, carbonated beverages and the "athlete's cocktail"—a glass of water sweetened with sugar.

It is the sugar in these snacks that refreshes the system. Of all food products, none is more quickly digested than sugar and its energy becomes available immediately.

Since candy, cakes, ice cream and sweet beverages are within reach of nearly every one there is no need to endure the "gone" feeling during the daily zero hour. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

REFINERS URGED TO CUT OUTPUT

Standard of Jersey Reviews Gasoline Outlook

Action Necessary to Avoid Bad Market in 1931

Shell Official Discusses California Status

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Emphasizing the necessity of curtailment of gasoline production by oil refiners to avoid a bad gasoline market next year, the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey in its company publication, the Lamp, states that its subsidiary and affiliated companies have consistently restricted their gasoline output for two years just passed.

While the total United States gasoline stocks reported by the Bureau of Mines showed an increase of 46.29 per cent at the end of October, 1930, over the total for the corresponding date two years before, the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey stocks increased in the same period only 2.83 per cent, it was pointed out.

For the past year ended October 31, last, the industry showed an increase of 10.19 per cent whereas the Jersey company from November 29, 1929, to November 28, 1930, reduced stocks 5.16 per cent.

The Lamp refers to the company's stock acquisition plan for employees inaugurated nine years ago. At the close of October this year there were 26,380 participants in the plan, or a gain of 2838 over January 1, last. On the first of next year a new price will take effect for the first half of 1931, determined by the average price of stock exchange sales for October, November and December, this year.

CALIFORNIA OIL OUTLOOK IMPROVES

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—George Legh-Jones, president of Shell Oil Company of California, and director and member of the executive committee of Shell Union Oil Corporation, on his departure for Europe today stated that the petroleum situation in California offered some encouragement for improvement as well as proving the wisdom of general conservation and curtailment of production the world over.

Curtailment in California fields, he said, is on trial and its results will have a far-reaching effect upon other fields. Conservation and curtailment are a necessity dictated by sound economic reasoning which more and more producers are accepting as the only means to establish the industry on a sound basis, he declared.

Prices are about as low as they can go and any future change should be for the better, Mr. Legh-Jones said. The petroleum situation generally is pretty well appreciated and there is an increasing tendency the world over to co-operate and devise remedies to improve the industry and place it on a sound basis, he added.

Advance Buying Noted in Steel and Iron Trade

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. — Further expansion of forward contracting is the significant feature of the current situation in iron and steel, while buyers are still extremely conservative in estimating their requirements in the coming months and lean to the view that business activity will show a gradual rather than sharp recovery, according to the Iron Age.

There is increasing evidence of the belief that the market is scraping bottom and that the next major change in the price trend will be upward.

Pig iron contracting has continued active at Chicago and New York where melters have covered 60 per cent of their first quarter needs and has shown improvement at Cleveland where bookings of the week total 22,000 tons. Sheet contracting is in impressive volume and at Chicago is described as the heaviest in fifteen months.

Deposit Urged of Ajax Bonds

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Bondholders' protective committee of Ajax Rubber Company has sent a letter to holders of Ajax first mortgage 8 per cent bonds urging deposit of their bonds before the expiration date the 29th inst.

The committee states that the trustee under the mortgage securing the bonds is preparing to foreclose the mortgage and to exercise its power of sale as to certain of the properties pledged.

BANK UNIT DECLARES DIVIDEND

Security Company Votes Payment of Beneficial Interests

Directors of Security Company have voted a cash dividend of $240,000 payable on the 31st inst., to stockholders of record of that date, it was announced yesterday. This is at the rate of $2 per unit of beneficial interest.

The Security Company was formerly the investment unit of the Security Trust and Savings Bank prior to the consolidation of that bank with the Los Angeles-First National Trust and Savings Bank to form the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles. All of the stock of Security Company is held by J. F. Sartori, Maurice S. Hellman, Dr. M. N. Avery, Willis D. Longyear and Charles H. Toll, as trustees.

At the date of the consolidation, March 30, 1929, the trustees issued pro rata to the stockholders of the Security Trust and Savings Bank certificates of beneficial interest in the stock of Security Company held by the trustees. These units of beneficial interest were 120,000 in number, being one unit of beneficial interest for each share of stock of the Security Trust and Savings Bank outstanding at that time.

The dividend will be paid to the trustees on the 31st inst., and the trustees, in turn, will distribute the money to unit holders of record at the close of business of that day. The checks will be mailed to them on or about January 5, 1931. It is stated by the directors that the dividend will be paid out of current earnings.

Record Travel West Sighted by Rail Chief

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—"If the outlook for passenger travel is any criterion, we may expect a decided trend upward in all lines of business with the opening of the new year," today said L. M. Allen, vice-president and passenger traffic manager of the Rock Island lines. "An exceptionally large number of people seem to be planning to spend Christmas with distant friends or relatives.

"Most encouraging of all is the fact that business to the winter resorts of Arizona and California bids fair to surpass all winter tourist travel hitherto enjoyed. This is, however, only partly due to the general business improvement. Much of the interest evidenced is result of the growth in popularity of the resorts themselves.

"There is little doubt but that the Golden State Limited will be operated in two sections and often in three sections during the period of heaviest travel to the Southwest."

Tone of Retail Trade Hesitant

Buying is very conservative in retail circles of Los Angeles, according to the weekly summary of business issued yesterday by the Bradstreet Company. Large merchants report that while sales are holding up fairly satisfactory, purchases are being restricted to lower-priced merchandise, it was stated.

Weather conditions continue favorable and citrus growers, while they received a good price for the crop in the season just closed, are not buying very freely as agricultural districts report sales "materially below a year ago, according to the summary.

RISKS OF SHORTS INCREASE

Odds Heavily Against Successful Selling for Decline; Figures Show Market Well Deflated

BY EARLE E. CROWE

One of these days the amateur short sellers in the stock market are coming in for a severe drubbing. Without venturing to state that stocks are either on the bottom or are headed for lower levels, it is obvious that the mathematical odds are heavily against profitable operations on the short side at this time.

Most traders now aligning themselves with the short interest, and brokerage houses report the number is increasing daily, have probably given little study to the chances in their favor. The spectacle of seasonal industrial, oil, bank and utility stocks breaking through one resistance point after another is enough to arouse cupidity for profits on the down side without further thought.

PATH MADE EASY

In the last few weeks the career of the short seller has been made easy by the forced liquidation of large blocks of stock by large investors in need of capital. Investment trusts as well as private investors have contributed to this selling, helped along by the new buyers coming in at prices figured out as the logical bottom of the decline. The new buyers find the theoretical bottom swept out by the selling of distress stock and they in turn lose confidence and jump for safety.

At some point this forced selling is certain to dry up. And when it does the short interest will be left with only its own momentum, which easily slows up at this point in the cycle, and then the costly operation of covering short positions will begin.

The extent of deflation in brokers' loans, the decline in stock market averages and the drop in the average market price of listed shares will show the nature of the odds against the short seller.

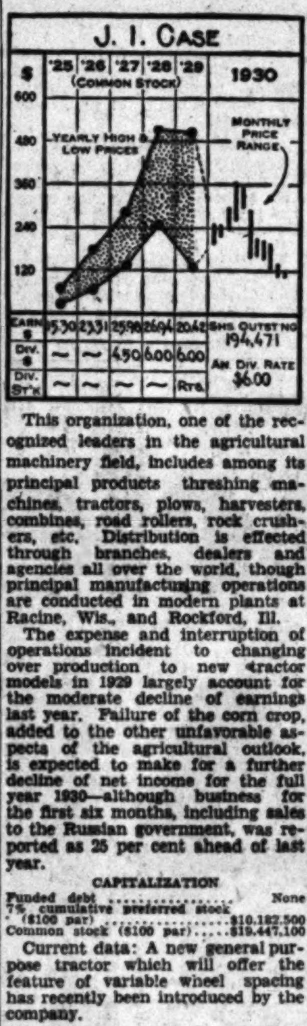
AT LOW EBB

Brokers' loans at their high in 1929, totaled $6,804,000,000. Last week the total was only $2,099,000,000 or a drop of almost 70 per cent. Right here is incontrovertible evidence of the risk the short seller runs. Nearly 70 per cent of the margin business has been wiped out, the elimination of which was largely responsible for the success of the trader for the decline. Obviously, the stock on margin in brokerage offices is not large in amount at this time, and the short seller will have no substantial help from the forced liquidation of margin accounts.

In September, 1929, the stock market, as measured by the New York Times averages of fifty stocks, was at a high of 311.90. Yesterday the average of the fifty stocks closed at 143.98. This is a decline from the high of approximately 53 per cent, or a depreciation in price that seriously lessens the chances for additional profits on the downward side.

If it were assumed stock prices were dropping to nothing, the chances of success for short sellers have been more than cut in half. But since no sane person will contend American corporate wealth is worth nothing, not even anything for good will, it looks as if the odds against the pessimist are too formidable except for the inveterate long-shot gamblers.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



This organization, one of the recognized leaders in the agricultural machinery field, includes among its principal products threshing machines, tractors, plows, harvesters, combines, road rollers, rock crushers, etc. Distribution is effected through branches, dealers and agencies all over the world, though principal manufacturing operations are conducted in modern plants at Racine, Wis., and Rockford, Ill.

The expense and interruption of operations incident to changing over production to new tractor models in 1929 largely account for the moderate decline of earnings last year. Failure of the corn crop, added to the other unfavorable aspects of the agricultural outlook, is expected to make for a further decline of net income for the full year 1930—although business for the first six months, including sales to the Russian government, was reported as 25 per cent ahead of last year.

Extra cash dividends were paid by thirty-nine companies, twelve of them paying more than one extra. Twenty-two companies paid stock dividends, including three of which are on a regular stock dividend basis.

Railway Mutual to Pay Regular

Railway Mutual Building and Loan Association yesterday declared its regular semiannual dividend on membership shares and began distribution of more than $77,000 in interest and dividends to its members and investors.

Resources totaling $2,516,365, growing from a start of $4000 in November, 1926, were shown in recent audit by certified public accountants.

BOND CONCERNS EFFECT MERGER

Los Angeles and Bay City Units Combine

Drake-Riley-Thomas Joins Bradford, Kimball

New State-wide Investment Organization Formed

Development of a new State-wide investment banking institution maintaining offices in eight California cities has been effected through a consolidation of Drake, Riley & Thomas, and Bradford, Kimball & Company, it was announced yesterday.

The new organization resulting from the merger is to be known as Kimball, Riley & Salterbach, Ltd. Its offices will be maintained in Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Santa Barbara, Pasadena, Oakland, Sacramento and San Jose.

HOUSES PIONEER

Drake, Riley & Thomas was founded here in 1912 and has been active in both underwriting and retailing securities in Southern California for the past eighteen years. Bradford, Kimball & Company was established in San Francisco eleven years ago and has maintained a similar position in the northern end of the State.

It is estimated that approximately $75,000,000 of corporate and municipal financing has been underwritten in whole or in part by both institutions.

The consolidated organization will open new offices in Los Angeles today in the Security Title Insurance Building. The former business of both Drake, Riley & Thomas and Bradford, Kimball & Company in Los Angeles will be conducted in these new quarters.

OFFICERS ELECTED

James Sheldon Riley is chairman of the board of the new partnership and will be in direct personal charge of operations in Southern California. Mr. Riley opened the first offices in Los Angeles of E. H. Rollins & Sons in 1909.

Philip C. Salterbach, partner of Bradford, Kimball & Company for many years, is president of the new company. Gerald B. Barnard, also a partner of Bradford, Kimball, and formerly in charge of its Los Angeles office, is a vice-president and will serve as an executive in the Southern California territory. B. A. Walter, formerly of Drake, Riley & Thomas, is treasurer.

INSURANCE UNIT NAMES PRESIDENT

H. M. Wheeler Succeeds Lee A. Phillips as Head of Rule & Sons, Inc.

Election of H. M. Wheeler as president of Rule & Sons, Inc., reputed to be the largest general insurance concern in the western States, was announced yesterday. He succeeds Lee A. Phillips, who requested Mr. Wheeler to assume the office because of his long experience in the insurance field.

Mr. Wheeler has been president of Wheeler Brothers & Pierce, which with D. W. Pierce, Sr., he built up from small beginnings over a period of time. In 1926 the local insurance business of this company was merged with Rule & Sons, Inc., Wheeler Brothers & Pierce maintaining a general agency business only with agents and brokers. Mr. Wheeler continued as its chief executive while Mr. Pierce became executive vice-president and general manager of the Pacific American Fire Insurance Company, which post he continues.

Rule & Sons, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Pacific Finance Corporation, transacted a premium business of more than $6,000,000 last year. In addition to its Los Angeles office, the company has branches in San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, Oakland, Fresno, Long Beach and San Diego.

In commenting on the prospects for the insurance business in 1931, Mr. Wheeler said yesterday that from present indications there should be a gradual upturn to normal. No further changes in the officers or employees of the company are contemplated at this time, he stated.

NEW ECONOMIC IDEA GROWS

Argument for Unemployment Insurance Held Gaining as Number of Idle Workers Mounts

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The sentiment in favor of unemployment insurance in the United States appears to be growing. With from 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 men out of work, the end of this distressful situation does not yet seem to be in sight. In fact, the number of unemployed probably will not reach its maximum until February, 1931.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, says there has been a decided increase in unemployment since the earlier part of the year, and that the increase has followed directly "the drop in business activity and industrial production."

In a letter to the writer of this column, Mr. Green says:

"Up until the month of May, 1930, the decline in business activity and industrial activity seemed to be checked, but beginning with the month of June, the general trend has been downward again.

"Our figures of 16.1 per cent out of work more for 1930 are considerably higher than the level of unemployment in January and February of last winter, for normally there is a considerable increase in unemployment from November to February.

"So if unemployment increases in the usual proportions, this year, there will be 22 per cent out of work by February, 1931," concludes Mr. Green, in referring to the unemployment figures of the men and women associated with the American Federation of Labor.

Stanley Resor, New York advertising man, has given the students of Yale University some intriguing illustrations on the importance of advertising in the modern newspaper. He says the governments of the world might well profit by working closer with the news mediums of the day for the purpose of bringing about a business recovery.

Successful business men know how to use newspaper space effectively to make both their own businesses and the newspapers attractive and prosperous.

For example, Mr. Resor described how one New York newspaper, in its Friday edition, contained fifty-two pages which, set in ordinary type, would represent 1890 pages—or 6 volumes of 315 pages each. Now the equivalent of this six volumes of reading matter sold by this paper was not paid for by the purchaser's 2 or 3 cents—the price of the newspaper.

"Advertising, which is three-fourths responsible for the high quality and abundant quantity of the news which appears in our papers, was responsible for the difference," said Mr. Resor. "To keep abreast of the growing complexity of life, we must have full knowledge to judge local, State, national and international affairs. So the advertising column is the medium—the mystic chord — which keeps us abreast of both the news and good service. Who will say where one stops and the other begins?"

Can a newspaper exist without advertising? Hardly, unless it be endowed. And an endowed institution is in constant danger of "taking it easy" and resting on its own—when, if it has nothing to fall back on, it must be alert and aggressive.

A 6.10% INCOME

Secured by Electric Power Revenues

Salt River Valley Water Users' Association, composed of land owners in the highly fertile Salt River Valley of Arizona, operates under United States Government supervision vast irrigation and hydro-electric developments, including the famous Roosevelt Dam. We offer:

SALT RIVER VALLEY WATER USERS' ASSOCIATION
6% Refunding Gold Bonds, due 1956
Price 98½ and Interest, to yield over 6.10%

These bonds are the direct obligation of the Association and are secured by the pledge of revenues from the sale of electric power. Net power income is over 1¾ times all bond interest requirements. The Association sells power wholesale to the Central Arizona Light and Power Company serving the City of Phoenix and to other substantial industrial concerns.

Principal and interest requirements may also be met by the levy of unlimited assessments against all lands in the Salt River Project which alone have an appraised value of more than $76,000,000.

These bonds combine, we believe, sound security and decidedly liberal return. We shall be pleased to furnish detailed descriptive circulars on request.

Massachusetts Investors Trust

LEADERSHIP
HOW MUCH OF YOUR CAPITAL IS HANDED BACK TO YOU—IN THE GUISE OF "DIVIDENDS"?

Since 1924 Massachusetts Investors Trust has considered income as "dividends in cash from stocks owned, interest on money in the bank or on call, or stock dividends that were paid in lieu of cash."

Rights, stock dividends, stock split-ups and profits from the sale of securities, are capital gain, and as such should be retained in the interest of the shareholders to increase their invested capital and income yield.

Massachusetts Investors Trust has adopted this policy of true protection to its shareholders, believing that investors will learn the value of those trusts which do not distribute capital in the guise of dividends.

This conservative management policy of Massachusetts Investors Trust has set a standard for other reputable trusts.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stock Market Stages Sharp Rally After Early Bear Attack Marks Twenty-five New Lows

Swamped under another selling attack which in the early hours forced twenty-five issues, or more than half the number traded, into new low ground, the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday turned sharply about and headed in an upward direction. Since a number of the less active issues failed to be brought out on the rallying movement prices at the close were highly irregular but practically all of the more popular traders recorded a net gain on the day.

All of the leaders, with the exception of Transamerica, hit unprecedented low prices early in the session. Strong on the recovery were Standard Oil of California advancing from a new low at 42⅛ to 45 3-4 for the day's net gain of 2 3-8; Union Oil, rising from a new low at 20 3-8 to 22, up 1 point on the day, and Union Associates, which crashed through 20 to 19 3-4, rallying to 21 1-4 for a net gain of 1 1-4 points.

Southern California Edison, hit a new low at 40½ and jumped to close at 42 3-8, up 7-8 net after a turnover of 6700 shares. Rio Grande broke to 4 5-8 and shot up to 6, for a net loss of 3-8 after a turnover of 11,700 shares. Richfield sank to 4 1-8 and closed at 4 3-4, up 1-4 net.

Transamerica continued to be traded in excess of 20,000 shares and from a low at 12½, ran up to 13 7-8 and closed at 13 3-4, up ½ net. Pacific Finance rallied from a new low at 12 to 12 3-4, off 1-4 net. Claude Neon hit 12 3-4 and rallied to 14, up 1 net.

Failing to recover, or not being traded in the latter part of the session new low marks appeared at the close for Byron Jackson, at 4½; Security-First National Bank, 83; Citizens' National, 82½; Pacific American Fire Insurance, 26; Pacific Gas and Electric, 40 3-4, and the preferred, 25 7-8; Pacific Public Service, 18; Richfield preferred, 8; Edison original preferred, 53; Western Air Express, 9½, and Hal Roach preferred, 5.

Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, which has not been traded for some time, crossed the board at 390, off 15 points.

Sales aggregated 66,735 shares valued at $1,411,622; previous day, 56,419 shares valued at $1,215,983.

IF YOU are putting aside any funds as a nest egg, you naturally want to make an investment which offers you an opportunity to make a profit and also maintain more than ordinary security for your capital. An approved way to secure both these essential features is to invest in several successful companies instead of one.

Cumulative Trust Shares offers you this opportunity; it offers you an interest in the 34 great companies listed at the left. Common stocks of all these companies are deposited in specified amounts under a carefully drawn trust agreement with The Bank of America, N. A., New York. Certificates representing ownership in this fixed group of stocks are issued by the Trustee. They are called Cumulative Trust Shares. Each share, therefore, represents an ownership interest in these successful companies.

An investment of approximately $100 minimum, or more, represents a participation in the composite profits of the leading companies in 14 industries. The holder knows exactly what securities underlie his certificates. An investment in Cumulative Trust Shares (as presently constituted) based on average prices of the underlying stocks for 1921, would have appreciated to more than 576% of the original investment figured at average prices of the underlying stocks for the first half of 1930.

Study the list at the left. You know most of these companies at least by reputation because they are among the largest and most prosperous in America. The products they make and the services they render are almost a part of your daily life.

Los Angeles security dealers will tell you gladly more about the advantages of this grouped investment.

FACTS ABOUT CUMULATIVE TRUST SHARES YOU SHOULD KNOW

Cumulative Trust Shares are certificates of ownership in the above fixed group of common stocks trusteed with The Bank of America, N. A., New York.

These Shares provide practically complete accumulation of capital. All distributions in excess of cash dividends are retained in the portfolio excepting small fractions of shares resulting from stock dividends and splits. All rights are sold and profits resulting from such sales are distributed by the Trustee as income. The balance is automatically reinvested in shares of the company issuing the rights.

Any stock in the unit may be eliminated for sound investment reasons at any time in compliance with the provisions of the Trust Agreement.

Proceeds of the sale of any stock eliminated are returned to shareholders. There can be no substitution.

As the dividends of these companies are paid, these sums are held by the Trustee and distributed to the owners of Cumulative Trust Shares twice yearly.

These Shares may be converted into cash, at any time or in multiples of 500 Shares, they may be converted into the underlying securities.

Moody's composite rating of the stocks in the Portfolio is A.

RALLY ON MART HALTS DECLINE

at the rate of 1,000,000 shares an hour, the largest volume attained on the decline.

The weekly steel trade reviews were only mildly favorable in that they repeated previous assurances that forward demand was improving and buyers were moving cautiously, expecting business to improve gradually rather than briskly.

Optimistic statements on the petroleum outlook appeared and there was also the announcement California operators had voted to cut the State's allowable production by 40,000 barrels on January 1, bringing the amount to 500,000 barrels daily.

Copper held firm. Large users, having some time ago satisfied their requirements for the next few months, naturally are not interested in the market at this time. Approval of the merger of two large African producers was regarded as a constructive step, since it should facilitate the world curtailment program.

AVERAGES GAIN

The day's average gain by ninety active stocks was 5.3 points, which was even larger than the recovery accompanying the rise in copper prices not long ago. Utilities, with 3 to 5-point gains in American Telephone, North American, Public Service of New Jersey, American and Foreign Power, Electric Power and Light and others, led with a rally of 7.4 in the twenty issues used in the index.

Industrials climbed 5.3 on the average, with United States Steel, Westinghouse, Bethlehem Steel, Union Carbide, National Biscuit, American Tobacco B, Anaconda and General Electric up 2 to 4. Rails displayed marked recuperative powers, especially Baltimore and Ohio, which closed 6 points higher as the directors were voting the regular quarterly dividend. New York Central, which had sagged to 108 1-4, closed at 111 1-8, a net rise of nearly 3. Atchison, Union Pacific and others finished 2 to 3 above Tuesday's final prices.

High flyers included Auburn Auto, Case and Worthington Pump, up 10, and Allied Chemical and Air Reduction, with 7-point gains.

Except another advance of 1-4 cent in the Spanish peseta, there was little of note in the foreign exchanges.

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

The articles of incorporation of the Kettleman Hills, North Dome Association are expected to be filed with the Secretary of State within a few days, according to a statement issued late yesterday evening, following an informal session held by the Kettleman Hills oil and gas conservation committee.

Details of the future development of the Kettleman Hills oil field have been discussed for months by the group of operators who comprise the North Dome Association. It has been headed by William Reinhardt, official of the Shell Oil Company, and the action taken yesterday indicates that the task of formulating a plan for the orderly development of that important oil field is nearing a satisfactory completion.

While practically all difficulties have apparently been satisfactorily handled, the filing of the articles of incorporation is one of the final moves preparatory to adoption of the unit plan of operation. A little more discussion is necessary, according to word yesterday, and Mr. Reinhardt's committee is scheduled to meet again tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the assembly rooms of the California Oil and Gas Association.

Peak Believed Passed

The peak in daily oil production in the Venice field is believed to have been passed. The situation is judged by the number of drilling permits issued for that district during the past few weeks, and the normal decline in flow from a majority of the producing wells.

According to figures supplied by Umpire Neil H. Anderson, Venice production has dropped to less than 4,000 barrels of oil a day, and it is believed that a greater decline will be noticed within a few days. Last week only four permits were issued by the State Mining Bureau for the drilling of new wells at Venice, while in the past the number was much greater each week. The active drilling campaign now is in the southwesterly portion of the field.

Two new wells were being brought in yesterday. The Union Oil Company's Townsite No. 1 was swabbing for production, and the Barnsdall-Cypress Combination's Gage No. 8 started flowing by heads, and early estimates checked the flow at about 600 barrels daily. Both of these projects are in the southwest end of the field where some of the best producers have been completed.

Preparing to Offset

The Shell Oil Company is grading site for Morris No. 1 as a direct offset to the Mohawk Petroleum Company's Wharton No. 1, in the Weed Patch district nine miles southeast of Bakersfield. Mohawk's Wharton No. 1 is drilling below 5000 feet and to date has not encountered top of the oil sand discovered by Shell's Porter-Day No. 1, which is deepening.

Gets Surprise Flow

Drilling in the southeastern portion of the Signal Hill field, the Republic Petroleum Corporation yesterday got the surprise of its life when it completed Long Beach No. 1 at 7256 feet.

All around this location are wells which have been putting out from 75 to 150 barrels of oil per day, and it was not expected that this well would go over a few hundred at most, but when it went on production it turned out 1600 barrels in twenty-four hours and looked as though it might go to 2000 barrels.

The company attributes considerable of its success on this job to the care and attention of Clate Severns, its drilling superintendent, who recently joined Republic forces after having been drilling supervisor of the Superior Oil Company for a number of years.

Completion Nears

The Standard Oil Company's third casing-head gasoline plant on the north dome of the Kettleman Hills field is expected to be completed within a few days. This plant will care for the anticipated production from the company's No. 65, a direct offset to the Superior Oil Company's Huffman No. 1, on Section 29, 21-17. Standard's No. 65 at present is suspended temporarily, with bottom of the hole at 7438 feet, and is expected to resume drilling soon.

Drilling Permits

Of the thirteen permits to drill issued last week by the State Mining Bureau four were for the Venice oil field, one each at Signal Hill, Newport district, Seal Beach, Torrance, San Luis Obispo county and three in the fields of Kern county.

Following are the permits: International Petroleum Corporation's No. 3, Union Oil Company's Townsite No. 6, No. 7, and Duncan Oil Corporation's No. 1 at Venice. Vega Oil Company's No. 1 on Sec. 14, 2-10, in Los Angeles county; George Wolfe's Hermosa No. 1 at Hermosa Beach; M. A. Oil Company's Masters & Daniels No. 2 at Signal Hill; Continental Oil Company's McGrath & Selover, No. 25, at Seal Beach; T. F. Gesell's No. 1 at Newport; Cuyama Valley Oil Corporation's No. 1 on Sec. 12, 10-27, in San Luis Obispo county; Standard Oil Company's McPhail No. 2 in North Belridge district; General Petroleum Corporation's Sill No. 9 at Kern River; George S. Wright's Glide No. 1 at Round Mountain.

Brings in One

The Plymouth Oil Company's No. 12 in the southeasterly portion of the Signal Hill field started flowing yesterday at the rate of 600 barrels of oil a day, having been deepened recently to try out the deeper zone. The Davis Investment Company's No. 17 in the same general vicinity maintains a steady yield of 1800 barrels daily. The Signal Hill oil field yesterday produced 97,200 barrels of oil.

Wheat Price Up After Dive to New Recent Low

CHICAGO, Dec. 17. (AP)—In a sudden outburst of fresh strength, grain scored late gains today, despite a downfall earlier that smashed records, which extended back to 1901. The late advance in grains was stimulated by a sharp rise in quotations on securities and by correct anticipation that the government report today would show curtailment of previous forecasts of the corn yield. Temporary acute weakness of grain was associated with pressure of newly harvested wheat offerings to Europe from countries of the Southern Hemisphere.

Wheat closed unsettled, from a ⅛ cent net decline to an equal advance, compared with yesterday. Corn closed at ⅝@1¼ cents gain, oats ⅛@½ cent up, and provisions from 5 cents setback to a rise of 22 cents.

At the outset, wheat plunged to the lowest for July delivery since twenty-nine years ago, when, outdoing by 4⅛ cents today's collapse, the market fell to 63⅝ cents.

The government crop report made public after the close was construed as somewhat bullish regarding corn, the official figures showing 13,000,000 bushels less corn produced this season than preliminary returns had indicated. The wheat report appeared bearish, the final estimate being 11,000,000 bushels greater than preliminary returns.

Provisions were swayed by the action of grain.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Dec. 17. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Demand for heavy rolled steel products reflects the usual let-down in consumption while activity in the first quarter contracting is restricted. Specifications have been affected less by the inventory period than in former years, because of the fact stocks have been at a low level for many months, and the decrease from the November volume has been only moderate.

Disgusted with superlatives!

THEY'VE MADE FUN OF US . . now and then . . through 37½ years . . for being an "old-fashioned, small-town institution" . . until we are PROUD of that description . . of the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA.

They've pictured us as high-booted, goateed farmers in overalls, sitting around a country-store stove, whittling in close proximity to a sawdust-box cuspidor—until THREE STATE OF CALIFORNIA RECORDS came to the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA. Then we're congratulated, with a sniff.

WE'VE STUCK TO ECONOMY . . and we haven't been stuck . . through four major depressions . . and THIS one doesn't call for any change of pace, plan or progress . . and we don't have to go BACK to conservatism and caution . . because we never LEFT that base.

You've got to KNOW your business to sleep with peace of mind and contentment, when you carry UNLIMITED LIABILITY back of $3,400,000 paid-in capital, surplus and reserve, as we do in the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA, for YOUR 6% safety.

If you are unashamed to have retained a small-town complex for economy, caution and conservatism, in the handling of hard-earned money, then we speak YOUR language, and going UP to the 10th floor offices of the MUTUAL, in Los Angeles, won't be a burdensome journey, please.

"It is my firm conviction," he said, "that the moment this country joins with all the other industrial countries in setting up its own tariff, the moment the world sees us negotiating with our dominions for imperial economic unity, there will come into the minds of Europe and the United States doubt as to whether the high tariff system will be of ultimate benefit to the world."

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Explica Montes de Oca los Aprietos Económicos de Méjico

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Diciembre 17.—Luis Montes de Oca, ministro mejicano de Hacienda y Crédito Público, se presentó anoche en el senado y explicó el programa hacendario del gobierno del presidente Ortiz Rubio.

Declaró que la crisis económica de Méjico, no es, en gran parte, más que una derivación de la crisis mundial, y se acentúa por el hecho de que la mayoría de las industrias del país están en manos de extranjeros, y éstos envían sus utilidades fuera de Méjico.

La Heredera de Stinnes se Casa con un Compañero de Viaje

LONDRES, Diciembre 17.—Fraulein Clarenore Stinnes, hija del difunto Hugo Stinnes, se casó hoy, de modo muy tranquilo y sencillo, con Carl Soederstrom, productor cinematográfico sueco, que la acompañó hace dos años en un viaje alrededor del mundo.

La novia llevaba un abrigo de ardilla gris y un sombrero negro. La pareja saldrá dentro de pocos días a hacer un viaje de bodas por Suecia y Alemania.

Es Muy Ensalzado el Valor de Hoover

WASHINGTON, Diciembre 17.—El senador Watson, después de visitar hoy al presidente Hoover, dijo que el jefe del ejecutivo está luchando valerosamente con "los problemas más arduos que se le han presentado a un presidente de esta nación en tiempo de paz".

El líder republicano dijo estas palabras: "el presidente está probablemente haciendo labor más útil que la que hacemos nosotros los de esa colina."

Dice el senador Watson que hay un teléfono particular entre su oficina y la del presidente, y que, en estos últimos tiempos, no se pasa un día sin que él y el señor Hoover tengan alguna conferencia.

Manifestó su opinión de que el congreso debería seguir en periodo de sesiones hasta que se voten leyes para aliviar la escasez de trabajo, aun cuando haya necesidad de trabajar durante las festividades. "El país", añadió, "nos condenaría, y con justicia, si entráramos en vacaciones antes de aprobar esas leyes. Traigo en la bolsa una moción que pide se clausure el período el sábado; pero parece que no podremos retirarnos para esa fecha. Quizá podamos hacerlo el martes."

Dijo el senador Watson que el senado nunca ataca directamente un problema, sino que procede por zigzagues. "Ahora estamos en pleno zigzag", agregó; pero, como siempre, llegaremos de modo seguro a la meta."

Desmoche de Palabras Inútiles en los Banquetes

ST. LOUIS, Diciembre 17.—Se ha iniciado aquí una campaña contra los largos brindis y discursos de fin de banquete, y los primeros resultados son harto lisonjeros para los promotores del movimiento.

Anoche se reunieron 150 hombres de negocios y funcionarios municipales para celebrar la terminación de una obra de pavimentación. Había nueve oradores en el programa, y les bastaron veinte minutos, en total, para decir lo que llevaban dentro.

Había allí listo un "pelotón de ejecución" para cuidar de que nadie se pasara del límite de tiempo. Algunos, temiendo que se les condenara a lavar los platos o a desempeñar otras tareas humildes, se contentaron, al tomar la palabra, con decir: "¡Hola, muchachos!"

El registrador municipal Jack Crosse, que fue el maestro de ceremonias, está convencido de que los oradores han batido en esta vez el record del laconismo.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

V.

Era su otro amigo un gato de afiladas uñas. Un día trató Clara de descubrir de dónde venía el ronrón del minino, y éste le dio tales arañazos, que la madre de la niña tuvo que regalarlo. Entonces no le quedó más amor que el de la muñeca de palo (The other friend was a cat with sharp claws. One day Clara tried to find out where the kitty's purr came from, and the kitten scratched her so badly that her mother gave it away. Then there was only the wooden doll to love).

Aunque su madre cosía todo el día junto a la ventana, donde había luz, y hasta muy tarde en la noche, sentada al lado de la lámpara, había a menudo bien poco que comer en la casa (Although her mother sewed all day by the window, where there was light, and late into the night, sitting close to the lamp, there was often very little to eat in the house).

Outlook Declared to Be Most Promising

In the midst of wailings about [illegible] depression, Jackson A. "Then, in the eighties, we had [illegible] real-estate boom. Prices [illegible] boosted to outrageous figures. [illegible] it also collapsed, resulting in great hardships. SINCLAIR LEWIS AWARD DECRIED

Teachers Told by Dr. Lyman Nobel Choice "Tragic"

Institute Speaker Deplores Ugliness in Literature

Educators Given Assurance of Salary Stability

Awarding of the Nobel prize to Sinclair Lewis was decried by Dr. R. L. Lyman of the University of Chicago, president of the National Council of English Teachers, in his address yesterday at one of the two general sessions which began the last day of the Los Angeles Teachers' institute. Dr. Lyman said: "It was one of the tragedies of the last few months that this prize had been given to a portrayer of life's ugliness."

"Truth that is clean and wholesome and uplifting is the ideal of true literature," he maintained. "Artists and etchers in the city of Chicago, which is not so beautiful and not so wicked as it is painted, can go down on avenues where street cars jangle and rumble, with ugliness all around, and can find things of beauty that the average eye cannot see. They can portray ugliness as just a dim background. Those who put beauty in the foreground are artists and not Sinclair Lewises."

GOAL OF EDUCATION

The speaker's topic was "The Place and Function of Literature in the Curriculum" and he told the teachers that "our schools of the future need to be concerned less about vocational training and preparatory training and more about the culture and refinement that must be built into the lives of people who will live in small homes and occupy a small place in the social life of the future."

J. L. Van Norman, president of the Board of Education, who presided at the session, assured the teachers during a short opening address that they need not be alarmed at "rumors of financial difficulty that threatened to shorten the regular ten months of school and lower teachers' salaries."

FINANCES SOUND

"There is no foundation for this," he said. "While we must economize, there will be no drastic measures such as these. The school district is in good condition financially. We will operate within the budget and possibly will have a slight surplus. Teachers need not worry as to pay checks.

"There has been a $1,000,000 saving this year over the previous year. Yet no salaries have been cut. The children have not suffered, although if the community continues its growth we will have to face the necessity of a bond issue to build more school buildings."

"The Philosophy of Leisure" was the topic of Dr. H. T. J. Coleman, who spoke at the other general session, at Trinity Auditorium. He predicted that the educational problem of the future will be the problem of leisure, "of teaching mankind how to use the spare time which is coming to the race," through shorter working hours.

MEDAL AWARDED

D. C. McWatter, director of the American Red Cross in Los Angeles, was presented with the Ling Gold Medal at a session of the health unit of the institute at Patriotic Hall yesterday. Tribute was paid to his service as director of the Red Cross and the Community Chest by Senator J. W. McKinley in making the presentation. The medal is awarded by the Ling Foundation, established in memory of Peter Hendrick Ling to forward child health work.

Cartoons by former students of the continuation school, including Alex Perez, Bill Golden, Jimmy Carmichael, Joe Noonan and Luis Cordero, were shown yesterday at a session at Metropolitan High School of the continuation education of employed minors section. Addresses were delivered by H. V. Adams of the Security-First National Bank and Dr. Frederick Horridge of Long Beach.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Among the social events of the day were a luncheon of the Elementary Principals' Club at the Ambassador, dinner of the Speech Arts Association of Southern California at the Pollyanna Tea Room, a banquet of the California Vocational Association, southern section, at the City Club, at which Chester H. Rowell spoke on "The Place of Vocational Education in Our Changing Civilization;" and a dinner of the journalism section of the institute at the Women's Athletic Club, at which Alma Whitaker of The Times, spoke on "Supervising a School Publication."

With the ending of the last day of the local institute, teachers from

Among the large group of aides to Santa Claus are Amy S. Wilkening and L. H. Little, who are handling many of the letters which go to the postoffice.

CULVER CITY VOTERS PUT MAYOR OUT

Kinkead Recalled and Dobson Wins Election as Potential Successor

Harvey W. Kinkead was recalled yesterday as Mayor of Culver City in a special election held in that city. The vote was 820 for recall, and 536 against.

Frank H. Dobson, retired attorney of 9906 Washington Boulevard, Culver City, was elected to the City Council and potentially to Kinkead's office as Mayor, by a vote of 801. Under the system governing the office there, however, the City Council alone has the power to elect one of its own members as Mayor, and can either select Dobson or some other Councilman.

A bitter campaign, starting last September, found its climax in yesterday's recall election. The charges made against Kinkead by his foes were general incompetence, inefficiency and wasting of the people's money.

The petition asking for Kinkead's recall was signed last September by 518 persons. Kinkead had only taken office as Mayor the previous April.

At the time the petition against Kinkead was circulated, a recall petition was also brought out against D. E. Clark, then Councilman. Clark was voted out of office, being succeeded by Albert J. Cody.

Dobson, slated by Kinkead's foes as the new Mayor, said yesterday:

"I am convinced there has been and is much room for improvement in our city administration, along with a need for reform along many lines."

One of the organizations indorsing the movement for Kinkead's recall was the Community Betterment League.

DINERS WILL HONOR MEMORY OF WILSON

M. Pierre de Lanux, director of the Paris Information Office of the League of Nations Association, will be the principal speaker, and Mrs. William G. McAdoo, daughter of the late President Wilson, will be guest of honor.

GIRNAU SAYS ARMED MAN STRUCK HIM

Publisher's Left Eye and Nose Badly Battered but Friends Declare He Fell

Frederic H. Girnau, stormy petrel of Los Angeles occasional journalism who was recently involved as editor and publisher of the Coast Reporter with a series of suits growing out of the publication of his political weekly, last night was lying in his room in a downtown hotel with a badly battered left eye and nose.

Girnau's own story of his injuries was brief. He first denied his identity but later admitted he had been beaten.

"I went to my garage near Seventh and Los Angeles streets at 1:30 o'clock this morning to get my automobile," Girnau said, "but as I neared the corner a man stuck a gun in my ribs with his right hand and lashed out with his left to my eye."

Friends of the publisher who were with him late yesterday afternoon said Girnau fell to the sidewalk and bruised and scratched his nose and face.

"I will make no complaint to the police," Girnau added. "I know who did it and we will take care of this thing in our own way."

RADIO QUARTET TO SING

Patients of the Good Samaritan, the California Lutheran and the County hospitals are assured of a good measure of Christmas cheer with the announcement that they will be visited in person on Christmas Eve by the Superior Chefs, radio male quartet. The quartet, known as the Sunny Four, will sing carols at each of these institutions. A portable organ has been donated for the occasion by the Southern California Music Company and Miss Leila Isbell will be the accompanist. The personnel of the quartet includes Messrs. Meis, Rand, Gray and Powers.

CONTRACT ACT UPHELD BY DECISION

State Registrar Gains Victory in Battle to Enforce His Rulings

By a decision declared of great importance in connection with the operation of the State's Contractors' Law, Superior Judge Gates yesterday dissolved a restraining order obtained by Martin Brkich and R. N. Burnett, who questioned the right of the State Registrar of Contractors to hold hearings.

Brkich and Burnett were cited by James F. Collins, director of the department of professional and vocational standards and, as such, Registrar of Contractors, to appear for a hearing on charges that they had violated the contractors' law by assertedly abandoning a contract without legal excuse.

Superior Judge Gates did not rule on the question of whether or not the act conferred quasi-judicial powers on the registrar in connection with the hearings, but held that the plaintiffs had an adequate remedy, as provided for in the act, in their right of appeal and therefore there was no necessity for a writ of prohibition.

Collins declared the decision was of vast importance in connection with the functioning of the department, which regulates fifteen business activities. Keith Carlin, attorney for the department; J. W. Morin of the State Builders' Exchange, L. G. Campbell of the Attorney-General's office, and Joseph A. Boland appeared in the case.

MOTOR TESTS DELAY ENDURANCE FLYERS

Further motor tests on the trimotored monoplane in which they made a short flight last Sunday in an attempt to set a new world's air endurance record delayed the six-man crew of the ship in leaving the ground on a second attempt yesterday. It was stated at Grand Central Air Terminal, base of the flight, that the plane may get away today.

STREET OPENINGS URGED

A. P. Lewis and other property owners yesterday filed with the City Council a petition for the opening and extending of Graham avenue between One Hundred Seventh and One Hundred Eleventh streets to a uniform width of fifty feet. The petitioners also ask for the opening and extending of One Hundred Eleventh street between Monitor avenue and Graham avenue, this thoroughfare also to be fifty feet wide. The Council referred both petitions to City Engineer Jessup and to the Street Opening and Widening Committee.

OIL PRODUCTION FACES NEW CUT

Curtailment Committee Sets 500,000-Barrel Limit

Marketing Territory Can't Absorb More Now

Slashes Already Effective Have Conserved Much

Declaring that it is impossible for the California oil industry's marketing territory to absorb a daily production which has been exceeding 600,000 barrels of petroleum per day, the State-wide general committee on curtailment of production decided yesterday forthwith to cut California oil production to an allowable of 500,000 barrels per day.

JOHN A. BROWN

Telegrams informing the various operators of the new allowable are being dispatched by officials who have aided the curtailment program during the past year, and machinery is in motion for the prompt enactment of the most stringent cut in daily production ever suggested by the general committee.

DECISION REACHED

The general committee on State-wide oil curtailment went into session at 10 a.m. yesterday in the assembly rooms of the California Oil and Gas Association. Paul Boggs, chairman of the group since its organization earlier this year, presided. Members of the committee stated their opinions on the curtailment program, its degree of effectiveness in so far as several fields are concerned: cited the present overproduction that has kept the flow far above 600,000 barrels daily, and within two hours had reached the decision that if the present yield is maintained the purchasing companies will be unable to absorb it.

According to members of the general committee, the move to slash the State's daily output to 500,000 barrels is thought to be the only method to prevent an absolute withdrawal by purchasers of crude oil, such as occurred in the midcontinent fields. According to a statement released yesterday the new curtailment program is in line with the recommendation of the Federal Oil Conservation Board presented at the meeting of the American Petroleum Institute in Chicago last month. This new curtailment agreement contemplates bringing the Kettleman Hills and Venice production into line with all other fields in the State.

Mr. Boggs announced the appointment of a special subcommittee which will revise the present curtailment program and place it on a firmer basis. John A. Brown, president of the General Petroleum Corporation, is chairman of this group. He will be assisted by William C. McDuffie of the Pacific Western Oil Company, Ralph B. Lloyd, Ventura-avenue royalty owner; William Reinhardt of the Shell Oil Company, and Paul N. Boggs of the Union Oil Company.

That curtailment of oil production in this State is to continue for at least three years was the opinion expressed by members of the general committee.

MUCH CONSERVED

The general committee praised the co-operation of a majority of the oil producers and asserted that the plan has resulted in untold benefit, not only to the industry itself but to the State as a whole.

According to figures submitted, the potential production in California since the beginning of curtailment in November, 1929, amounted to 358,000,000 barrels of oil, and the actual production under the plan has amounted to 206,000,000 barrels, representing a conservation of 152,000,000 barrels held in the ground.

The committee indicated that had the 152,000,000 barrels been produced, a disastrous market condition would have resulted, reflecting itself in other lines of business throughout the State.

Yuletide Rum to Go in Sewer

Approximately 2000 quarts of Christmas brandies, whiskies and liquors, destined to augment the holiday bootleg market, will gurgle down the sewer at Central police station because Frank P. Polizi, 26 years of age, failed to make a boulevard stop on San Fernando Road, near Newhall yesterday morning.

When Polizi failed to make the stop, Motorcycle Officers McCurdy and Tibbedeaux chased him. They said they found forty-five five-gallon cans of high-proof alcohol.

Polizi was booked for possession and transportation of liquor and his sedan was confiscated.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

If Beesemyer is disposed to be fussy about it the District Attorney may not find it such a cinch to convict him as it sounds.

There is a case very similar to Beesemyer's in the records of our courts.

Some years ago the auditor of one of our big corporations stole what was to us—at that time—a lot of money. He confessed. Swimming in tears he confessed to the directors; he confessed to the newspapers; he confessed to everybody who would listen.

He was tried once and convicted. His case was appealed and the Supreme Court reversed the conviction. He was turned loose—and went on confessing.

The difficulty in that case was the difficulty that may arise in this case. He refused to confess from the witness stand; his confession was not taken under conditions that made it evidence, and it was impossible—because of the condition of the books—to establish the fact that a crime had been committed independently of his say-so.

THE BIG SHOW

Preparations are in the making for the publicity to notify the folks that we are getting up a grand fiesta year.

I never could understand why all the interesting things in California are concealed like a lodge secret. We can't expect tourists to keep coming out here to look at the thermometer and admire the climate.

A HISTORIC SHRINE

Take, for instance, the town of Yuma, where most of the tourists yell bloody murder because they have to wait five minutes while their baggage is being examined.

Yuma could easily be turned into a tourist shrine. It is one of the most interesting places in the West.

It is the place where Capt. Juan Bautista de Anza crossed the wild waters of the Colorado, bringing the first pioneer women to California. A great many of the proudest old families of California look back to a grandmother who crossed that river ford on a mule with a baby in her arms.

Yuma is fragrant with the memories of the great explorer, Father Garces, and his tragic end. It is the site of old Fort Yuma; nearby was the place where the last of the great California bandits was killed.

Most potent fact of all, near Yuma were the beginnings of the Aztec race who were to migrate to the south and establish the great empire of Montezuma.

Why not let the folks in on some of these points of interest?

HELP:

The next thing this country will need by way of relief will be relief from the relief bills now before Congress.

NOT WET YET

Enthusiastic rum drinkers need not place too much hope upon the decision of Federal Judge William Clark. Every one with a present thirst will be dead and buried before the lawyers get through appealing the case.

THREE KILLED BY AUTOIST

Man and Two Women Run Down Crossing Street; Driver, Pasadena Youth, Held

Three persons were killed when struck by an automobile driven by a 20-year-old youth at Pasadena avenue and Avenue 52, last night. The youth, Richard Marble, of 2045 Monterey Road, Pasadena, was held by the police.

The victims of the tragedy were:

Samuel Cooper, 71, years of age of 224 North Avenue 51.

Mrs. Samuel Cooper, his wife, 68.

Mrs. Erminie Johnson, 60, of 338½ North Avenue 57.

The police were unable to obtain any witnesses other than young Marble's sister Jean, 17, and Margaret Isett, 16, who were in the car with him. According to their version, the car was traveling at a moderate rate of speed when it approached the crossing. The three victims, they assert, linked arms and suddenly stepped from the curbing into the path of the machine.

When the ambulance arrived the three were dead. According to relatives the trio had started out for a motion-picture show.

Struck by an automobile as she attempted to cross a street intersection near her home, Mrs. Sarah J. Stanton, 75, was so seriously injured that she died before the police ambulance reached Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Police declared the accident unavoidable and declined to place charges against Charles M. Roberts of 843 North Stanley avenue, driver of the car. The woman, according to witnesses, stepped in front of the Roberts car in attempting to cross

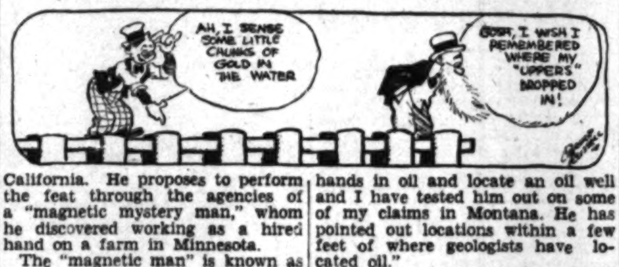
MAGNETIC MAN CAN 'FEEL' GOLD IN THEM THAR HILLS

Alois P. Swoboda, "the strong man" whose bulging muscles adorned advertisements in scores of magazines some years ago, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday with the announcement that he has abandoned his attempt to teach the secret of health, and hereafter will devote his energies toward discovering and recovering all of the untold, unknown mineral wealth in



AH, I SENSE SOME LITTLE CHUNKS OF GOLD IN THE WATER
GOSH, I WISH I REMEMBERED WHERE MY "UPPERS" DROPPED IN!

California. He proposes to perform the feat through the agencies of a "magnetic mystery man," whom he discovered working as a hired hand on a farm in Minnesota.

The "magnetic man" is known as John Dahlgren and Swoboda claims for him a "magnetic sense that can detect veins of gold, pools of oil and hidden deposits of all other precious minerals." Dahlgren, who is a heavy-handed, square-jawed, stolid Scandinavian, is somewhat deficient in the English language and yesterday he permitted Swoboda to explain his claims of a "mysterious power."

"This man can take a piece of gold in his hand and walk around in the hills and if there is a vein of gold around can detect it instantly," asserted Swoboda. "He can rub his hands in oil and locate an oil well and I have tested him out on some of my claims in Montana. He has pointed out locations within a few feet of where geologists have located oil."

"Does he know anything about geology?" Swoboda was asked.

"Geology?" exclaimed Swoboda,

JOB ASSURANCE FAVORED

State Chamber Sponsors Move to Revive Confidence of Workers and Stimulate Buying

The spirit of Christmas took over the reins of the Southern California council of the California State Chamber of Commerce for a telling moment yesterday at the Alexandria. This developed when Herbert F. Clark, acting chairman of the industrial committee, offered a recommendation, which was adopted without a dissenting voice, favoring the extending of assurance to Southern California workers of the stability of their positions.

It was proposed that the program be worked out through the various chambers of commerce of the Southland.

It was stated that the recommendation, if followed, would re-establish the confidence of the employees and enable them to make plans for their expenditures during the Christmas season and the rest of the year.

The industrial group also favored speeding work on Federal buildings.

Lieut.-Gov.-elect Frank Merriam, Director Hecke of the State Department of Agriculture and numerous other State officials were present at the noon meeting of the council, at which committee reports, prepared after meetings during the morning, were presented. Dr. T. C. Young, chairman of the Southern California council of the State chamber, presided.

ROBBERY TOTAL CLIMBS HIGHER

Bandits and Purse Snatchers Get $497 in Cash

Victims in Drug Store Made to Sit at Fountain

Film Director Held Up as He Puts Car in Garage

In seven robberies and two purse snatchings, which swelled this month's total, up to midnight, to 188, as compared with 141 for the same period last month, bandits obtained $497 in cash from twelve victims. There were only eighty-eight robberies reported during the first sixteen days of December, last year, according to police records. Burglaries increase dto 342, as compared with 311 last month and 298 in December last year.

The most spectacular hold-up of the latest series occurred in a drug store at 2202 West Eleventh street. Two bandits, flourishing revolvers, walked into the store while the manager, Jacob Rosoff, and an employee, Miss Evelyn O'Donnel, were waiting on two customers, H. P. Hantz of 1019 South Lake street and G. W. Howard of 1121 South Lakeview avenue.

SIT AT FOUNTAIN

While one remained at the door the other bandit compelled the victims to sit at the soda fountain with their hands on the counter.

"My partner will plug the first guy that moves," he warned them as he pocketed his own pistol. He then forced Miss O'Donnell to open a cash register from which he took $84. The pair fled in an automobile which they had left parked in front.

Attendants at service stations were victims of four other hold ups. Harry Marks was robbed of $100 by two bandits at 4778 South Figueroa street. A. W. Beaver was robbed of $18 by two Negro bandits at 2424 Santa Fe avenue. At 4675 Melrose avenue one bandit obtained $18 from Joe A. Della, and Hugh Crea reported losing $40 to a bandit at Fifth and San Pedro streets.

FILM DIRECTOR ROBBED

The Negro bandits who held up Beaver added $120 to their plunder when they stopped G. W. Thompson in front of his home at 2025 LaSalle street and robbed him of that amount.

Alfredo Verrico, motion-picture director, reported a bandit held him up as he was putting his automobile in the garage at his home at 1626 North Las Palmas avenue and robbed him of $20.

Victims of purse snatchers were Mrs. B. Hagenios, who reported losing $80 in front of her home at 1023 Blaine street, and Miss Ida Dechter, who was robbed of $40 near her home at 127 North Hoover street.

Burglars broke into the office of Noah Beery's Trout Club at 1509 North Vine street and, after jimmying open several desks, obtained $52 in cash.

Forget-Me-Not Drive to Begin This Morning

To make the streets of Los Angeles and near-by communities a "field of blue," more than 1000 young women and girls will be out early this morning for the first of "Forget-Me-Not" days.

During the coming four days, these workers, all of whom have volunteered their services, will sell little blue forget-me-nots in the interest of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

Nine Los Angeles county chapters of the D.A.V. have joined forces for this campaign, which is to raise funds to finance the liaison service of the organiastion, which aids disabled men and women in the adjudication of their claims for Federal compensation.

NOBLE ANNIVERSARY SET

W. D. Noble, 70 years of age, retired rancher, and his wife, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Milton Ostrom, 5415 Hubbard avenue. Six children and six grandchildren will be present. The children are D. W. Noble of 213 East One Hundred and Twentieth street; C. L. Noble of 121 East Jefferson street, G. B. Noble of 523 Sadler street, Mrs. Ostrom, Mrs. William Brown of Sequim, Wash., and B. C. Noble of Seattle. Mr. and Mrs. Noble settled in Los Angeles two years ago.

"SWAPS" BY JUDGES NOT PERMITTED

Informal Trading Among Superior Court Justices Banned by New Rule

At a meeting of Superior Court judges in the Courthouse yesterday afternoon to discuss court rules only one minor change was adopted, this having to do with the "trading" of departments by the judges.

Hereafter no trade can be made without a permanent appointment by the presiding judge. Heretofore it has been the custom of judges who desired different work than the court to which they were entitled by the seniority rule to make informal swaps with other judges, without losing the right, under the rules, to resume their duties in their "own" court when they so desired. A "vacation absence" of sixty days is permitted, however.

No assignments were made at the meeting yesterday, it having been decided to defer this matter until the new judges are inducted next year.

MAGNET MAN 'FEELS' GOLD

"say, he never heard the word until a month ago. In fact he never went farther than the third reader and then they had to burn the schoolhouse down to get him out."

"What are you going to do with him?" was the next question.

"Well, I'm afraid he is going to cost me a lot of money because I believe in him so much that I'll dig wherever he points out," replied Swoboda. "This fellow also can go into a trance and communicate with departed spirits. He can discourse with Plato, Socrates, Houdini, Cleopatra, Moses or anyone else you might mention. Yet he has had no education and about the only practical thing he has learned so far is that you can't plant corn until snow is melted.

"Twice his neighbors tried to lynch him because he foretold some kind of a tragedy in the community. I heard about him accidentally, and in my enthusiasm made him a proposition. He astounded me with his trances and only last night he talked with Francis Bacon. Bacon told him that Shakespeare actually wrote all the Shakespearean plays and that he only copied them."

"But what about this gold and oil business?" he was asked.

"Oh, yes," Swoboda said. "I am going to take him down into Death Valley and give him a whack at the gold veins that are supposed to exist there. Also I am going to take him up to where the famous Lost Horse mine is supposed to be. In the meantime we expect to locate enough oil fields to produce gas at 5 cents a gallon. This wealth will be distributed to the economic welfare of—"

"Wait a minute," exclaimed the kuestioner. "Is there any gold near here?"

Swoboda looked appealing toward Dahlgren. The latter, who was sitting on the edge of a bed in the Cecil Hotel, quivvered slightly. Then he raised his hand slowly and closed his eyes for a moment.

"I feel the pull in that direction," Dahlgren said in an undertone. The reporter rushed to the window and looked in the direction the "magnetic man" was pointing, and then exclaimed:

"Marvelous, simply marvelous, he's pointing directly at a bank across the street."

FERTILIZER PLANT OPPOSED

Complaint against the establishment of a fertilizer plant, which the petitioners term a nuisance, at 14045 Burbank Boulevard, was made before the City Council yesterday by Mrs. Floyd Ward and others. The Council transmitted the complaint to its City Planning Committee.

YULETIDE SPIRIT RULES CHAMBER

ler, vice-president of the regional council, expressed their pleasure at the action of the directors of the State chamber in adopting a resolution favoring Congressional reapportionment according to population. Miller emphasized the fact that the action of the directors bespoke a spirit of State unity, such as has been one of the ambitions of the State chamber.

One of the highlights of the meeting was a report by Morris Rathbun, acting chairman of the publicity committee, to the effect that the 1931 Fiesta Year program gives every indication of being a great success. The State will be thoroughly organized for the undertaking by January 1, Rathbuun said, declaring more entertainment events have been arranged than there are days in the year.

Co-operation has been extended by the national advertising agencies, railroads, steamship lines, air lines and bus companies, the chairman reported.

Will Fischer, chairman of the conservation committee, recommended that the southern council ask reconsideration by the acting director of finance, Rolland Vandergrift and Governor-elect Rolph of the budget allowing only 16 per cent of the amount requested for fire-prevention work.

D. C. McDaneld of the aeronautics committee stated that the committee agreed with the stand of the agricultural committee that planes entering California from foreign countries should be inspected at or near the border.

SAFETY MEASURE STRESSED

Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish, chairman of the street and highway safety committee, stressed the importance of safety measures to insure a Christmas untouched by sadness. It was also brought out that motorists have shown an extraordinary lack of caution in approaching grade crossings even though wigwag signals are in operation.

Wallace S. Woodworth, chairman of the highway committee, expressed the desire of the committee that the State's secondary highway program, as prepared by the State Highway Commission, be adopted by the Legislature without charge in the bill as it now stands.

The chairman continued that the Southern Pacific has agreed to sign up all of its holdings in Riverside county in furtherance of the State chamber's scenic highway program.

A new infestation of the pink boll worm in cotton in Arizona has become widespread, H. W. Postlethwaite, acting chairman of the agricultural committee, reported, urging that the State Department of Agriculture review its machinery for the protection of California and strengthen its protective program if necessary.

Merriman Giving Aqueduct Advice at Open Meeting

Metropolitan Directors Will Have Pasadena Session

Scores Expected to Listen to Noted Engineer

Announcement was made yesterday there will be a public meeting of the Metropolitan Water District board of directors at Pasadena next Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of giving officials and citizens of every city in Southern California the opportunity to hear Thaddeus Merriman personally deliver the recommendations of the special engineering board of review on the Colorado River aqueduct route.

In making a definite announcement of the meeting, Chairman W. P. Whitsett of the district board stated this session will follow the meeting of the board members Monday for the purpose of officially receiving the Merriman report.

PLACE OF MEETING

The Pasadena meeting will be held at Culbertson Hall at the California Institute of Technology, located at the corner of California street and Wilson avenue.

The session will start promptly at 2 p.m. and will be attended, it is expected, by several hundred prominent Southern California officials and civic leaders.

The other members of the engineering board of review who are serving with Merriman are Richard R. Lyman, consulting engineer of Salt Lake City, and A. J. Wiley, consulting engineer of Boise, Idaho. Mr. Wiley will not be present at the Pasadena meeting, it was stated, because of the fact that he is to leave Southern California the last of this week for the Panama Canal, where he has been called as a consultant by the United States government.

VAST PROJECT

Chairman Merriman, who is chief engineer of the New York City water system, has declared that the Metropolitan aqueduct from the Colorado River is the greatest engineering enterprise in America. It is expected that he may compare the Colorado aqueduct with the gigantic Catskill aqueduct, which he operates for New York City and which now is the largest water supply system in the world.

Pasadena was selected as the meeting place, Chairman Whitsett said, instead of the regular district headquarters in Los Angeles because it was on December 21, 1928, that the Metropolitan Water District was organized in Pasadena.

PAIR TRY TO TAKE LIVES WITH POISON

Woman, Facing Divorce Contest, and Sweetheart Enter Suicide Pact

Mrs. Ruth Silverschmidt, 27 years of age, will be unable to appear in her divorce suit against her husband, William, today, because she is in the General Hospital suffering from poison swallowed yesterday in an asserted suicide pact with Richard Allen Springer, a sweetheart. Both Springer and Mrs. Silverschmidt are in a serious condition.

The asserted suicide attempt followed the objections of the parents of both Springer and Mrs. Silverschmidt to the friendship, the young woman told the police yesterday. Mrs. Silverschmidt filed suit for divorce against her husband several months ago, and in turn was named in a cross-bill. Judge Yankwich was to hear the case today.

The suicide attempt was made at the home of Mrs. Lillian E. Thompson, 4153½ Monroe street, a sister of Mrs. Silverschmidt. Mrs. Thompson returned home to find the couple writhing on the floor. Mrs. Silverschmidt is the daughter of C. E. Austin, 816 North Kenmore avenue.

"Of course we objected to her going with another man until she was divorced," Mrs. Austin asserted.

Venerated Pair of Early Days to Be Honored

Special ceremonies in honor of San Bernardino de Sienna and San Juan Capistrano, venerated as leading apostles and humble sons of St. Francis, will be conducted Sunday by the Holy Name societies of Southern California in the municipal auditorium at San Bernardino.

Recalling the traditions of the life of these two brilliant scholars, who tramped Italy arousing the religious fervor of the people, members of the Los Angeles and San Diego diocese will gather at the ceremonial at 2:30 p.m.

Very Rev. M. O'Gorman, diocesan director, and Very Rev. P. Dunne, dean of San Bernardino will have charge of the ceremonies, with many other distinguished personages of the church participating in the program.

Device Amazes Dr. De Forrest

"Complete amazement" over the perfection and possibilities of a new airplane radio direction finder recently announced as havin been tried out successfully was expressed last night by Dr. Lee De Forrest, radio scientist, as he stepped out of a Transcontinental and Western Air plane at Alhambra.

Dr. De Forrest returned to his bride after a trip to Pennsylvania, during which he personally participated in an Appellate Court hearing brought by the Western Electric Company.

The new radio direction finder will be placed on planes of Transcontinental and Western Air.

FARM LEADERS GATHER

Marketing Problems to Be Tackled at State Convention Sessions Opening Today

Ways and means of tackling California's greatest farm problems are to be discussed today and tomorrow by agricultural experts and growers at the Sixty-third convention of California Fruit Growers and Farmers at the Alexandria. Although affiliated agriculture groups held sessions yesterday the formal opening of the convention is scheduled for 9:30 this morning with A. C. Hardison, vice-president of the State Board of Agriculture, presiding. At the evening session R. W. Blackburn, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, will preside.

Chief among the speakers today will be J. R. Howard of the Federal Farm Bureau of Washington; George Sehlmeyer, master, California State Grange, Sacramento; Dr. C. B. Hutchison, dean of the College of Agriculture, Berkeley; Nils A. Olsen, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Washington, D. C., and A. T. Spencer, of the California State Board of Agriculture.

On the program also will be the reading of a paper prepared by C. C. Teague of California, and member of the Federal Farm Board, who is now in Washington. G. H. Hecke, director of agriculture, will present his report of the work done by the State board during the last year.

The marketing situation appears to be the most serious faced by the growers, according to addresses made at the group meetings yesterday.

Many of these difficulties gradually ar being overcome, according to Fred N. Bigelow, associate chief, division of markets, State Department of Agriculture, who made the principal talk before the associated groups yesterday.

"After some of the shipping problems had been ironed out the growers found themselves facing a more serious situation at the market centers," Bigelow asserted. "The Commission Merchants and Deciduous Fruit Buyers' Act f California has eradicated many intolerable practices.

"It has tended to eliminate the 'fly-by-night' dealers who were without responsibility and who caused heavy losses to growers and shippers. More than 900 complaints were investigated and adjusted by the division of markets up to December 1. More than $115,000 has been recovered for the growers who ordinarily would have suffered a total loss for much of their products.

"More than 300,000 carloads of agricultural products were shipped from California last year. This is more than 25 per cent of the agricultural products of the entire country and it readily can be seen how important it is to have these products guarded at their ultimate markets."

Following today's session a banquet will be held at 6:30 at the Alexandria. The principal address will be delivered by Frank C. Mortimer. Horace Dunbar will be toastmaster.

Still Operated in Wrong Place, Say Witnesses

Pasquale Asturino, 45 years of age, 320 South Russell avenue, Monterey Park, picked out the wrong spot for the operation of a still, according to Federal prohibition officers. United States Commissioner Head was told that Asturino planted a still across the street from V. L. Woolman, a Federal dry agent.

The officers and Chief of Police Young of Monterey Park raided the place and found a sixty-gallon still, fifty gallons of liquor, 400 gallons of mash and an expensive car, it was testified.

Asturino was held in the County Jail in default of $2000 bail.

Legion Group Gives Disabled Veterans Party

More than 100 members of Star Post of the American Legion gave a Christmas party and distributed presents to the disabled veterans at the San Fernando Veterans' Hospital last night. The Star Post is composed almost exclusively of deputy sheriffs and county employees. Heading the group of Legionnaires were Commander Carl May, Sheriff Traeger and Undersheriff Dewar.

Scores of bathrobes, house-slippers, pajamas, toothbrushes and boxes of candy and cartons of cigarettes were distributed. Musical entertainment was furnished by artists from KFI and KECA.

SEAL FUND CASH NEEDED NOW

Garland Points to Work Projected

Dividends Paid in Health

Scene at City Health Clinic with mother smiling because her baby gets a clean bill of health. Funds from the Christmas Seal Sale support this work.

William May Garland, treasurer of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association, yesterday urged those who have received a letter containing Christmas Seals from the association, to remit at once. Garland revealed that the many activities which the association sponsors to prevent the spread of tuberculosis depend for their maintenance upon the funds raised through the seal sale.

"During the last fifteen years," Garland said, "the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association has been the foremost agency preventing the spread of the white plague. We need $100,000 to carry out our work during 1931. Unless we raise this amount, we not only will find it impossible to inaugurate the new projects which the city's growth demands, but it will even be difficult for us to maintain our present activities."

A request for issuance of a petition calling for an annexation election for territory adjacent to the Tuna Canyon addition was filed with the City Council yesterday by Carlin G. Smith and others. PARK PURCHASE PROTESTED

Federation of State Societies Opposes Royal Palms Project in Letter to Supervisors

Asserting there should be no further waste of public money in unnecessary projects the Federation of State Societies, of which Dr. M. R. Parmelee is president and C. H. Parsons is secretary, yesterday filed a protest with the Board of Supervisors objecting to the county leasing the Royal Palms acreage at White's Point for park purposes.

In a letter to the board the federation says:

"The executive committee of the Federation of State Societies in regular session assembled joins with the Municipal League and the realty board and with uncounted thousands of the citizens and taxpayers in opposing the leasing of the Royal Palms by your body for this county.

"It is not necessary for us to itemize all the many and serious objections as many of them are set forth by other organizations. In addition to any we have seen given we desire to call your attention to the general depression and to the fact that there should be no further waste of the taxpayers' money in unnecessary projects. We, therefore, protest most emphatically to your body against any further action to acquire the Royal Palms.

"With the most sincere good wishes and assuring you of our hearty cooperation in all matters pertaining to the real interests of the people of this county, we are

"The Executive Committee of the Federation of State Societies,

"C. H. PARSONS, Secretary."

After voting an intention to lease the acreage, the Board of Supervisors recently ordered the proposition placed in escrow pending an investigation as to the titles to the property and the physical improvements upon it.

BANDIT PAIR SOUGHT FOR TWO CRIMES

Victim of One Hold-up in Palos Verdes Hills Has Bullet Extricated

Deputies from the Vermont-avenue Sheriff's substation last night were believed to be close on the trail of a pair of bandits who the previous night perpetrated two hold-ups in the Palos Verdes Hills and escaped after wounding one of their victims.

Carl Bergmanson, 607 Plymouth street, yesterday underwent an operation at the Hermosa-Redondo Hospital for the removal of a bullet from his body, received when he resisted the bandits and fired three shots at them when they accosted him and his companion, Jessie Glennie, 1562 Carson street, Torrance, while seated in a parked car near the Palos Verdes Administration Building.

At least one of the two bandits is believed to have been wounded by Bergmanson, whose car was perforated by several bullets. One of the bullets entered Bergmanson's body on the left side near his arm pit and lodged in the vicinity of his shoulder blade.

Following the shooting, which commenced when Miss Glennie refused to get out of the car and slid down beneath the shelter of the cowl, Bergmanson drove to Redondo for aid.

The two bandits, according to Deputy Sheriffs Kiracofe and Angier, are of the same description as the pair who a short while before held up and robbed L. J. Smith, 7922 Bell avenue, and a companion in the same locality.

Divorce Won on Wife's Date Book

A little black book yesterday was introduced in evidence by Rudolph N. Carriger when he sought a divorce from Esther E. Carriger. The husband offered the date book, which he said his wife kept, to show that she had a list of other men's names, with photographs and annotations, whom she associated with.

The Carrigers married October 24, 1925, and separated July 30 last. Judge Yankwich granted the decree.

UNIONIST SEIZED AS HARASSER

Inciting Two Children to Display Papers in Front of Theater Asserted

Accused of trying to incite children to harass a theater, the manager of which a union is trying to force into a union contract, Joe Dufrane, 29 years of age, was arrested and jailed yesterday by Detective Lieutenant Hynes. Hynes reported that Dufrane and others induced an 8-year-old child and another 13 to sell certain papers in front of the theater.

The papers state that they are an extra edition of a weekly paper boasting that it is union labor's official mouthpiece and carry emblazoned material which Hynes said caused the boys to violate the antipicketing ordinance. Hynes said that he did not arrest the boys because he believes they were incited to break the law without an understanding of what they were doing.

In a crowd which collected around the boys, Hynes said, were T. H. Eckerson, manager of the union two years ago when an officer was convicted of outraging a theater after it broke with his union and manager of the same union today while another of its officers is facing charges of similar outrages.

"In my long experience," Hynes said, "I never before have seen little children used to harass a place of business the managers of which would not submit to union demands."

STECKEL CONTEMPT HEARING POSTPONED

Superior Judge Vicini of Amador county, sitting in Los Angeles county by order of the Judicial Council, refused yesterday to hear the contempt hearing against Chief of Police Steckel and Detective Lieutenant Hynes of the "Red squad" because, he said, such a proceeding should be conducted in the court where it is instituted.

Inasmuch as it is the custom in Los Angeles county, where there are forty-eight departments of the Superior Court, for the presiding judge to grant restraining orders and designate other courts for the hearing on the injunction, Superior Judge Doran could not hear the case, and it was referred back to Superior Judge Gates. At a conference in Judge Gates's chambers facts in the case were stipulated by attorneys on both sides and argument on the points of law continued until tomorrow at 10 a.m.

Chief Steckel was cited for contempt when police arrested a newsboy selling copies of a union labor publication, after Judge Doran had signed a restraining order. The Chief and Detective Hynes asserted the news venders were violating the antipicket law, because the paper in large headlines proclaimed a certain theater "unfair to union labor."

Appeal Court Again Rejects Plea of Cordish

For the second time, Division Two, District Court of Appeal, yesterday denied the appeal of Nat Cordish, former president of Mutual Motors, Inc., and of Mutual City, Inc., from conviction in Superior Court on a grand theft charge for assertedly having obtained $1928.06 from the State Credit Corporation on March 8, 1926, through false representations.

Yesterday's decision was handed down after a rehearing. The court affirmed the lower court's judgment and an order denying a new trial.

Former Police Official Lauded at Bribe Trial

Reeve Houck, former Mayor of Culver City, and other leading citizens yesterday testified as character witnesses for Macy O. Bernard, former chief of detectives of Culver City. Bernard is being tried by a jury in Superior Judge Craig's court on charges of asking and receiving bribes from liquor-law violators for "police protection."

Houck, William K. Smith, Police Commissioner of Culver City, and Rev. Archibald K. Stewart testified that they had known Bernard to be a good policeman and a law-abiding citizen.

The hearing will continue today.

Today's Bible Text

I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; salvation and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God.—Rev. xix:1.

SUPPLY AND DEMAND

Senator Norris is worrying over the rise in the price of steel, but if history repeats itself most of us will hope it is a sign of better times straight ahead.

JUST AN ECHO

Those who occupied hotel rooms during the last Republican National Convention in Chicago can testify that such things as rackets were not unknown before the reign of Al Capone.

FRONT PAGE

The front page carries account of a few persons shipwrecked during the year. But the 2,000,000 persons carried on the high seas without accident do not even get a back-page story. Safety is not news.

FEZ

No nation can try to be like another, says President Mustapha Kemal Pasha, sadly. Kemal ought to know. He should have stuck to his fez and not exchanged it for a derby. He had a picturesque top piece.

CORN-FED

An Iowa girl and a Missouri boy have been picked as the healthiest couple of the nation. The girl scores 99.7 per cent perfect and the boy 98.7. She is 15 and he is 20 years of age. Hope to see them in Hollywood!

MILLION-HAIRESS

Sarah J. Walker, colored, became a millionairess from an invention to straighten kinky locks. She built a $250,000 mansion at Irvington-on-the-Hudson and furnished it for $350,000. She even had a gold-leaf piano. When she died not long ago, her effects were auctioned off by her heirs. Her hairs enriched her heirs.

EXIT TO THE SHOWERS

Bruce Caldwell, former all-American Yale football star, now conducts a collegiate cateria at New Haven, Ct., for his alma mater. And Ted Coy, ex-idol from the same school, has slid down off the shoulders of his frantic fans into selling brushes from door to door. The boys who plug away at their studies acquire their headlines later in life.

IN DEFENSE OF MAIN STREET

They teach other things besides football at Notre Dame. Nor do they mind paying high prices for first-class instruction. For example, they recently paid Gilbert K. Chesterton a fancy honorarium for a six weeks' lecture course. The British satirist was well received at the university, but he failed to make a hit with the South Bend Chamber of Commerce, as he referred to this noted seat of learning as a "small town" several times in an interview with a New York Times representative.

Mr. Chesterton volunteered the information to the reporter that there were two sides to Main street, and that Sinclair Lewis saw only one side, that on which the sun never shone. "I really found Main Street a most charming and entertaining thoroughfare," he said, "and I found its citizens a most commendable lot of people. There is a friendliness about them that is strangely lacking in an English small town. The familiar manner in which the grocer greeted a college professor gave me a start. Grocers do not do that in England."

This friendliness spelled democracy to Mr. Chesterton—a kind of democracy "still absent in England." He enjoyed the "healthiness about the people," their "making no attempt to obtain city pleasures in the country" and their manifest willingness "to forego urban attributes." The life of the Notre Dame faculty pleased him. It made him wonder "whether these people in this little town are missing anything in life. Are they deprived of any real pleasure, living in a small town?"

As the recent census gave South Bend a population of 103,677, making it what we call in this country a real city, it is no wonder that the Chamber of Commerce is not reprinting and broadcasting Mr. Chesterton's remarks on the place, however amiably inclined he may be toward its Main Street and willing to defend it against such carpers as Sinclair Lewis.

JUDGE CLARK'S DISCOVERY

The decision of United States District Judge Clark in wettest New Jersey that the Eighteenth Amendment is invalid, not having been ratified by conventions in the various States, is one that probably will be made short work of by the Supreme Court, if and when the case reaches that body. It may be disposed of by the Circuit Court of Appeals. The flurry of hope that it has created in the bosoms of those anxious to get rid of prohibition has a very slight and tenuous foundation, since the decision was reached by a process of judicial hairsplitting seldom adopted by modern courts and rather in disfavor. Some lawyers say the point raised by Judge Clark has already been decided by the Supreme Court, others that it has not. On this question it is not for a lay journal to express an opinion, perhaps. Yet here is one fact, at least, which is significant:

On June 7, 1920, deciding unanimously a group of causes, since known as the "Prohibition Cases," the United States Supreme Court, in conclusions written by Justice McReynolds, said: "That amendment (the Eighteenth) by lawful proposal and ratification has become part of the Constitution, and must be respected and given effect the same as other provisions of that instrument."

Here is a broad as well as a flat statement which declares that the Eighteenth Amendment is part of the Constitution and became so "by lawful proposal and ratification." And while the Supreme Court, at times, reverses itself, the occasions are infrequent. It is true the fight at that time was on the method of proposing the amendment, rather than of ratifying it, but it is plain the court had no doubt that the ratification was valid; otherwise it would not have been specifically mentioned.

The contention of Judge Clark, in brief, is that the power of dealing with intoxicating liquors (a part of the general police power) was reserved by the Tenth Amendment, "to the people;" and further that a power reserved "to the people" can only be surrendered by the people, and not by State legislatures. Here a bit of explanation is necessary; in legal theory a constitutional convention, or a convention called for the purpose of ratifying a constitution or an amendment, is not a representative body but actually has the popular sovereignty vested in it; in other words, while a Legislature represents the people, a convention is the people. Thus the preamble of the United States Constitution says, "We, the people of the United States . . . do ordain and establish," etc., although the words were written by delegates to a convention. The constitution of California makes a similar declaration in its preamble. Thus, thinks Judge Clark, only conventions could have power to ratify an amendment surrendering powers "reserved to the people."

This is a distinction appealing to the intellect rather than to the reason. It is a pretty piece of fine-spun logic, but the stuff of which valid laws are made is a tougher and a firmer fabric. A court trying to find an excuse for setting aside the Eighteenth Amendment might make use of it, but there is nothing in the history of the Supreme Court to indicate that that body seeks an excuse for its decisions. It customarily gives solid reasons.

What is there to show that power to deal with liquor was "reserved to the people"? Judge Clark says so, but others might have a different belief. This is probably the weakest link in his chain of argument.

In three-quarters of a century or more, there has not been a single decision of the United States Supreme Court favoring the liquor traffic, with the possible exception of the "original package" decision in the early '90's, a decision which was in effect reversed a score of years later when the Webb-Kenyon Act was upheld.

Until there is something more far-reaching than this opinion of Judge Clark's (which applies only in his own court) there will be no occasion for worry about whether the Eighteenth Amendment is in the Constitution or not.

CRIME AND PSYCHIATRY

Recommendation for general adoption of the Massachusetts plan of dealing with the mental health of criminals is the principal feature of a report by the Committee on Medical Aspects of Crime of the National Crime Commission. The Massachusetts plan provides for examination, by alienists appointed by the court, of every person charged with murder and of every person charged with more than one felony, before his trial, and for making the report of the examination a part of the court record. It has other features, but this is the principal one.

The plan has been in effect since 1921 and is reported to be working admirably. It is found that, in the majority of cases, the defense does not even attempt to upset the findings of the court's psychiatrists and that the "battle of experts" which is an objectionable part of so many criminal trials has virtually been abolished in Massachusetts.

It will be noted that the plan provides for examination, whether or not an insanity defense is made, and that the report is valuable in aiding the court in its disposal of the case as well as in aiding the jury to reach a just verdict. Even if sane, the defendant may have abnormalities which will call for treatment rather than incarceration, it is pointed out. The Massachusetts commission so far has found about four-fifths of the defendants examined to be practically normal, and one-fifth insane or otherwise abnormal mentally. This is an interesting commentary on the frequently heard opinion that all criminals are insane.

The report says that California is one of the seven States "particularly well equipped along psychiatric lines," meaning there are many real experts on the subject readily available.

One important conclusion reached by the committee is that "it matters not at all for the protection of society whether the man who commits an antisocial act is sane or insane. The only point at which this question enters is when the treatment to be applied—the sentence—is being considered after it has been determined that he did commit the act. Whether sane or insane, the man must be prevented from doing further harm." This would seem to be obvious, but is so often lost sight of that it needs to be emphasized.

A REAL BEEHIVE

The Department of Commerce does not make much noise during the course of the year, but that this quiet masks a tremendous amount of activity is disclosed by Secretary Lamont in his annual report. The department not only keeps a finger on the pulse of trade, in itself no small job, but keeps looking around for new employments for dollars and for hands.

This phase of its work, industrial research, is perhaps the most interesting at present. New uses for cornstalks, leaves and cobs, for the waste products of cotton plants, for straw and grain hulls have been found during the year and commercial methods have been discovered for developing a whole series of new sugars. Wastes of the fisheries are being converted into useful products through department discoveries, including the discovery that salmon, sardine and tuna oils are a good and cheap source of vitamins for animal feeding. New methods of fish farming make waste water areas productive. Another research agency of the department during the year carried on fourteen different projects for the elimination of wood waste. Distribution of treated wood, resistant to decay and insect attack, has been arranged for. A booklet, "How to Judge a House," is in preparation.

Then there is the Bureau of Standards, which has found out what causes transverse fissures in steel rails, has improved methods of cement testing, has devised a new measurement of the brightness of light and a new method of petroleum analysis. Other bureaus and agencies have improved the factors of safety in the mine, the factory, the home, and on ships at sea. The aeronautics branch lighted 3321 miles of airways, established and lighted fifty-six intermediate landing fields, equipped 5650 miles of airways with telegraph typewriters for forwarding weather information, installed thirteen radio stations for broadcasting weather information, completed two radio beacons and nearly completed twenty-seven others. And this was only a small part of its work.

The Department of Commerce is in truth a beehive.

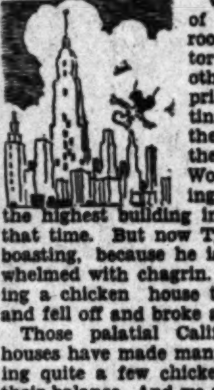
This is encouraging, but lots of us won't feel at all comfortable till it's definitely closed.

Woolworth Roofer Falls From Chicken House



William Tyrrell of Glendale is a roofing contractor and until the other day he took pride in admitting that he was the man who put the roof on the Woolworth Building in New York, the highest building in the world at that time. But now Tyrrell has quit boasting, because he is feeling overwhelmed with chagrin. He was roofing a chicken house the other day and fell off and broke a leg.

Those palatial California chicken houses have made many men, including quite a few chicken raisers, lose their balance. And we suspect that in this case the ex-New Yorker was so astounded when he realized that the handsome edifice on which he was working, with its automatic electrically controlled heating and watering systems, was for chickens only that he got momentarily dizzy.

Old-Time Hospitality

In the days of the big cattle ranchers and of lonely prospectors' shacks in the mountains, when human habitations were far apart, if one arrived at a house and found no one at home he was expected to enter and cook himself a meal or two, but to leave things shipshape when he left. The unwritten law of the land demanded honesty and no doubt many a bad man or bandit of those days entered a lonely house when its owners were away, passed a night or two in the owner's bed, but never pried into the owner's private papers and took the same pride in leaving everything shipshape that a gentlemanly bank defaulter of modern times might take in leaving the washbowl in the Pullman dressing-room clean.

OLD WESTERN HOSPITALITY

Those days are not wholly past. One does not have to drive many hours from Los Angeles to find prospectors' cabins. And our friend, L. J. Garnsey, reports an incident which occurred the other day in his sequestered village of De Luz, in northern San Diego county.

Stranger Had a Hunch

De Luz is off the beaten track. Most of its residents were born there on land their parents pre-empted. It has no residents who mean the Middle West when they speak of home.

A De Luz rancher reached home the other day and saw a young hobo on his rear porch. He asked what the stranger wished.

"I already made myself at home, thanks," said the stranger. "When I found there wasn't anybody home I just went in and got myself something to eat."

"That's okeh. Did you get plenty? Come in and we'll fix up something more."

"No, thanks. I'd really better be on my way."

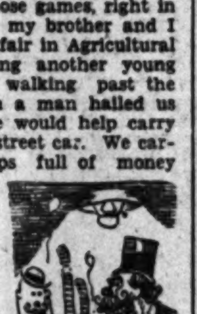
When the rancher went into his house he realized that what the tramp had said was true—he was much better off "on his way." For the tramp had not respected the ancient laws of hospitality. He had ransacked the house in a search for valuables.

Looked Like a Lynching

The tramp had vanished, but the indignant rancher met a neighbor and told him of the occurrence. The neighbor recalled that up the road "a piece" was a house the owners of which were away. He drove up there and looked in. He saw a strange man there and went back for a gun and the rancher whose house had been ransacked. They returned and caught the stranger ransacking again and "arrested" him. With grim faces, they made him get into a car and started away with him for parts unsaid. Knowing the treatment accorded such intruders in the old days and realizing how the old-days atmosphere still hangs about De Luz, the tramp began to beg to be turned over to officers. His captors drove on in grim silence till they reached a spot which seemed far removed from the world of men. There they got out a tow rope, threw one end over an oak branch—and let their captive escape while intent on what appeared to be preliminaries. They didn't need bloodhounds to follow his scent, but they made no attempt to follow him. They couldn't because they were choking with suppressed laughter.

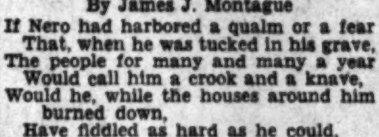
How We've Progressed

In these halcyon days when banks have to have armored cars, it is interesting to see how we have advanced since this was a wild west town. Garnsey was here forty-five years ago. "I saw lots of money handled then without any guards or anyone thinking much about it," he writes. "There was a saloon and gambling hall on Main street about opposite Commercial. There must have been $50,000 or $60,000 in the money boxes at those games, right in sight. About 1894 my brother and I were here for the fair in Agricultural Park. One evening another young man and I were walking past the grand stand when a man hailed us and asked if we would help carry some grips to the street car. We carried out eight grips full of money and piled them on the platform and rode uptown with them, then carried them from Main street over to Spring street, at Third. The bags contained about $10,000, and I don't think there was a gun in the crowd."



NOT IN THE CLIQUE

Analysis of Gen. March's story of the Wood episode serves to confirm the story of National Guard generals that the General Staff of the Regular Army was determined that little of the glory should go to men who were not West Pointers. But inasmuch as Pershing had the command few will blame him for not letting the Roosevelt-backed fame of Gen. Wood dim the luster of his own achievements in France.



FEARLESS OF THE FUTURE

By James J. Montague

If Nero had harbored a qualm or a fear
  That, when he was tucked in his grave,
The people for many and many a year
  Would call him a crook and a knave,
Would he, while the houses around him burned down,
  Have fiddled as hard as he could,
Taking care to keep out of the hot part of town?
  He probably would.

If Paris had dreamed that by running away
  With the wife of a personal friend
His somewhat unusual conduct some day
  Might set people talking, no end,
Until they had started a whale of a war
  Which plunged the known world in distress,
Would he still be the villain of poetic lore?
  That's a pretty good guess.

Would the Borgias, who flavored with poison their wine
  To be drunk by some little loved guest,
Who said as he sipped it: "That's certainly fine."
  Then sank to his eternal rest,
Have served better stuff if they'd ever foreseen
  The rough reputation they got
In the day when men's ethical conscience grew keen?
  Most certainly not!

And sometimes I fancy that even today
  Small trouble we're likely to borrow
In looking ahead to what people will say,
  Who will not be on hand till tomorrow.
Posterity yet has not joined the parade,
  From its voice there is nothing to fear,
The rogue and the rascal are only afraid
  Of the folks who are here.

Wants Prompt Action

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Real estate and banking interests of this State should take prompt steps to demand that the Governor summarily remove the present head of the Building and Loan Department of the State. This is no time to temporize and side-step a very serious situation—explanations and evasions do not impress people favorably. Real estate is vitally affected because thousands of property owners are reducing their indebtedness through building and loan associations, and they should be assured that their funds are being handled honestly.

By Whose Permission?

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have often wondered as I pass the corners of Vermont and Sunset and Hollywood boulevards why big billboards calling attention to Mooney meetings come to be placed on city property, Barnsdall Park.

It might be interesting to know who gave permission to use city property for such purposes, who obtained and who sanctioned the permit. This has been going on for over a year now that I know about.

Fastest Trains

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your issue of the 8th you carry a story concerning a change in time of trains on the Espee and therein you designate the Daylight Limited of the Espee as "the fastest long-distance train in the United States." This statement is hardly accurate.

For long-distance running the Southwestern Limited and the Knickerbocker of the New York Central lines probably lead all others, the latter train making the 1156 miles, St. Louis to New York, at an average speed between terminals of 50.7 miles per hour.

The fastest train regardless of distance on the New York Central at the present time is the Empire State Express, covering the 438 miles between Buffalo and New York in eight and one-half hours, including six stops, at an average speed for the elapsed time between terminals, of 51.43 miles per hour.

For a short distance the Detroiter on the New York Central Lines runs from Windsor to St. Thomas, 109.6 miles, in one hour and fifty-five minutes, an average speed of 55.75 miles per hour.

Too Many Uncertainties

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] If some method can be devised whereby a referendum vote can be taken regarding the prohibition question, and a fair vote and count can be reasonably expected and both sides be bound to abide by the result, by all means such a vote should be taken, but judging by past experiences, what reason has any person to think that an honest expression of public sentiment would be obtained?

Who could guarantee an honest count of the ballots in our large wet cities?

If the outcome should be adverse to the wets, what reason have we to think that they would honor, respect and obey the verdict any better than they do the present law?

Why go to all the expense of such a campaign and election, where so many uncertainties are involved and so small a chance that justice would be done, or conditions be made better?

Worldly or Spiritual?

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I cannot sufficiently commend the letter from R. Baily Carson of Eagle Rock in The Times of Thursday, December 11, regarding the taxing of church property. This subject is constantly being brought up by thinking taxpayers. The church organizations buy expensive corners and build thereon structures that are used but once or twice per week, only for an hour or two and only half full.

But, were they filled to the doors, every hour in the day and every day in the week, it would not justify their being untaxed.

AS OTHERS SEE US

It is sometimes refreshing and illuminating to see ourselves in the mirror of other's opinions. Three rather surprising viewpoints of America are noted in G. K. Chesterton's weekly from his own pen. In the first place he states that he is weary of having America's ways laid to her youth. He points out that this has been done for five generations and she may no longer be said to be in the adolescent stage. He sees America rather as an elephant with pleasing and unpleasing aspects, and with traits belonging to the prehistoric ages. Even her skyscrapers, he says, remind one of Babylon. Next, he refuses to consider skyscraper towns symbolic of all America. He has found mid-western towns which might have been transplanted from Poland or other European countries. Third, he speaks of an American oddity, the institution of the front porch, a part of the frame house in Middle Western towns and country—and suggests that such a homely gathering place may be conducive to a race of philosophers.

GIVING ONESELF

BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

Solving the problem of Christmas giving—and to some it really is a problem—at this late date may seem an enterprise hardly worth while; the time for gifts is so close! And when it comes to original ones made by the giver, it might look almost foolish to suggest, now, ways and means to that end. Yet this is sufficiently out of the ordinary to be worth recording and emulating.

A young woman who is making her way through business college by doing housework mornings and nights, and naturally to whom every nickel counts, still had the urge for Yuletide giving. She also possesses a sense of beauty, a thrifty but ingenious mind and a will to do. So, in brief, here's the way she went about meeting the situation that confronted her:

She asked the chatelaine of the house where she is employed for all the old bottles, jars and such that accumulate in any domicile these days of foods in glass. From these—pickle jars, olive bottles, cold-cream containers, and what not—she selected the most artistic and unique in form. Then she took over the envelopes from last year's Christmas cards—saved that they might constitute a mailing list for this season—and from them extracted the vari-colored, many-hued tissue linings, most of them of great beauty. With her shears she clipped these into pieces of odd shape, often picking out from them bits of real worth, for the linings of holiday envelopes are rarely lovely these times.

Then, with a pot of glue, she stuck these bits on the bottles, harmonizing hues and designs, evolving vases, jardinieres and other such creations of rare chromatic beauty, bizarre, or even startling. Outlining the varied patches with black ink brought out a sort of stained-glass effect which did much to enhance the whole. Over all, she put shellac, which gave a shine or gloss to the rest, accentuated the colors and blended them into completion. Presto—with her only expense a few cents for glue and the like, she has her gift problem worked out most entrancingly.

Now, don't think that these creations of hers are amateurish, or look home-made; quite contrary. Some are futuristic or cubistic in appearance—designedly so—but some are so fragile and dainty that they actually suggest Favrile or Tiffany glass, or Wedgwood pottery; some are as delicate as a peach-blow vases. It all depends upon the tints used; whether emphatic and moderne, or soft and tender and antique; also, the inherent color sense of the maker, which in this instance is true and fine.

The time required to create such a gift is small; in one Sunday this girl made a dozen or so, but of course, she is quite expert by now. Some she has put into tissue-lined holiday boxes and they make a present that "looks a million," especially when they are in pairs. One is simply entranced by their sheer loveliness; they seem unbelievably valuable and worth while. Some of her friends are going to have a lot of unsuspected joy when they open these boxes Christmas and glimpse the realization which little they can anticipate from mere description.

The idea is passed on for what it may be worth. There is still time to utilize it.

SCHOOL FOR BEGGARS

BY SUZANNE PEHKOFF

The most remarkable institution of learning in the world flourishes in Canton, China. It has a student body of 4500, the ages ranging from 14 to 50. It is called a "Beggars' University" and it was established and is run by the Bureau of Social Affairs of the Canton municipal government. The objective, however, is not to make bigger and better beggars of the students, but to salvage them by teaching them some useful calling.

The constant influx of beggars from other towns had given the authorities great worry, as their numbers made them a nuisance on the streets. So the "university" was established and the police proceeded to round up their prospective students. The institution is not a jail, despite the fact that its reluctant students were literally dragged there by the police. It has large dining halls and clean dormitories and offers an extensive curriculum to its guests. They are first taught to read and write, and are allowed to absorb as much as their limited education will permit them to, of the doctrines propounded in the past by Dr. Sun Yat-sen, so that they can think suitably regarding the political situation.

After their intellectual training is disposed of, they are taught useful crafts so that they can earn an honest living. They learn carpentry, and the institution has had sales of great quantities of rattan chairs, tables and chairs made by inmates whose whole former lives had been those of mendicants. Useful work is found for them before they leave and during the past year it is stated that hundreds have left with jobs assured, completely rehabilitated and able to make their own way in the world.

NOTHING NEW

Exporting and importing between the United States and Smyrna is nothing new, according to Dr. Julius Klein, assistant Secretary of the American Department of Commerce. He says we have traded with Smyrna since 1790. When President Mustapha Kemal Pasha ordered the adoption of the Roman alphabet there were already several thousand American typewriters in Turkey. Farm implements and automobiles are at present our chief export to this part of the world.

YULETIDE PAGEANT READY

The third annual Christmas pageant, to be given Saturday night on the Spring-street steps of the City Hall, yesterday received recognition as the official civic Yuletide celebration when Mayor Porter issued a proclamation commending it to public attention. In the message he remarks the affair is representative o. all Los Angeles since its participants are drawn from every section of the city.

The colorful spectacle portraying the Nativity, is to be enacted by 600 Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls and city playground children, beginning at 8 p.m. It is sponsored annually by the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department in co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations.

COMMITTEE NAMED

It was pointed out that the power bureau is indebted to the City Treasury $3,720,000, representing tax money spent, for interest payments and sinking funds on power bonds. The bureau six months ago had cash in the amount of $3,864,000 and an additional $3,400,000 allocated to the retirement of bonds. It also has $4,000,000 in unsold bonds. The harbor department has a balance of $4,713,000 owing the general city fund and has in cash on hand from revenues $3,298,000 and capital funds of about $2,147,000.

The committee appointed by Mr. Austin, who called another meeting for next Monday, includes:

Mayor Porter, Chief of Police Steckel, Charles C. Stanley, Texaco Company; E. Snapper Ingram, City Council; Francis Drake, Board of Police Commissioners; D. C. MacWatters, secretary Los Angeles Community Chest; Clark E. Bell, New York Life Insurance Company; John E. Coffin, president Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association; E. J. VETERAN WINS DIVORCE

His face stopped a clock which his wife threw at him, Walter Lawrence Guibert yesterday told Superior Judge Sheldon in getting a divorce from Clara Blanche Guibert. The husband, a shell-shocked Marine Corps veteran now employed in an automobile agency testified that his wife had rages, during which she threw the clock and plates at him. She also made the night rounds of cabarets with another man, complained the husband. The Guiberts married in Oakland, August 24, 1918, and separated September 20, 1929. Judge Sheldon granted a decree.

MEXICO TO SIFT COURT TILT FACTS

Contempt Action Named at Vice Consul Will Be Reviewed in Washington

Further details of the attempted contempt of court action against Joel Quinones, Mexican Vice-Consul, by John Zaring, justice of the peace of Belvedere township, were asked yesterday by the Minister of Foreign Relations at Mexico City.

The request for all the information surrounding the case on trial, the placing of the Mexican official in custody and the remarks asserted to have been made by both the justice and Deputy Sheriff J. B. Davis, custodian of the diplomat, is preliminary to placing the entire matter before the Mexican Embassy at Washington, the consulate here announced.

Handling of the entire matter will be taken through diplomatic channels and consummated in the regular routine, it was said, and the information requested has been forwarded by Rafael De la Colina, Mexican Consul.

Vice-Consul Quinones was held in custody about one hour Friday, last, on orders of the justice when he appeared in court as attorney for Antonio Garcia, Mexican national, charged with drunkeness, and attempted to review some evidence in the case. A personal apology was accepted by the Mexican official from Davis after the matter was presented to Sheriff Traeger. Justice Zaring was advised that he was without jurisdiction in his citation and the $5 fine was dismissed.

PRICE FIXED ON CRUDE IN VENICE AREA

Action by Standard Said by Observers to Presage Cut in Retail Costs

Coincidental with the announcement yesterday by the State-wide Committee on Production Curtailment in California oil fields, the Standard Oil Company of California announced last night that beginning today at 7 a.m. it will establish in the Playa Del Rey oil field at Venice a scale of prices for crude oil at the well as follows:

For 20 to 20.9 deg. gravity, 74 cents a barrel; 21 deg. gravity, 77 cents; 22 deg. gravity, 81 cents; 23 deg. gravity, 84 cents; 24 deg. gravity, 87 cents; 25 deg. ravity and above that, 90 cents per barrel. It is believed that most of the oil in this field ranges 22 to 23 deg. gravity and therefore will come in the 81 to 84-cent class.

Standard has a pipe line connection in the field and can begin taking crude today. The Shell Oil Company and Union Oil Company both have pipe line connections there and are expected to meet the Standard's posted price today.

For several months Venice crude has been the football of the petroleum industry, its price ranging from 35 to 90 cents per barrel, the most of it probably selling at prices between 55 and 70 cents per barrel, without price stability.

Standard offered no explanation last night for posting a price for Venice oil. Producers said it probably was done to encourage producers to co-operate with the committee, which is seeking to curtail oil production all over the State.

It is believed by some observers that the establishment of a price for Venice crude may be followed in a day or two by a substantial cut in the retail price of gasoline. The price range in Los Angeles at present, is from 12 cents to 20 1-2 cents per gallon.

Two Men Fined for Distributing Red Literature

Found guilty of violating the city ordinance by distributing Communist literature, two men, Dane Drummond and Juan Colveaux, were fined by Municipal Judge Northrup yesterday.

Drummond was arrested in San Pedro by Police Officer Kitsman, who testified he was throwing Red handbills in automobiles on Tenth street. He was fined $50, but elected to serve ten days in jail insteady of paying. Colveaux was arrested by Officer Beher outside a theater at 511 North Main street, where he had attempted to distribute radical literature, witnesses called by Deputy City Prosecutor Reynolds said. Colveaux paid a $15 fine.

Increases Made in P.E. Award

Superior Judge Hazlett yesterday increased to $328,738 the amounts of the award to the Pacific Electric Railway in condemnation of its sixty-foot right of way extending 7850 feet on American avenue from Willow street, Long Beach, to Anaheim. The increases totaled $39,998 over the tentative judgment of $288,740 made by Judge Hazlett on May 31, last, when he presided in Long Beach at the proceedings instituted by the city of Long Beach.

Judge Hazlett's amended awards were allotted as follows: Land, $100,000; reconstruction, $153,948; overhead, $22,440, and amortization funds, $52,350.

BUILDING RULES OUTLINED

Proposed Regulations for Structures in County Would Not Place Limit on Height

Buildings of the future in unincorporated territory of Los Angeles county would have no height limit, but would be restricted to a cubical content not to exceed 125 times the area of the site on which they are built, under the provisions of an ordinance that will be proposed to the Board of Supervisors by the County Regional Planning Commission following a public meeting yesterday.

The regulations for the new style of construction were discussed by members of the Los Angeles County Regional Planning Commission, of which Carl Bush is chairman, at a meeting held in the Hall of Records Annex attended by builders, architects, public officials and utility men, traffic experts and city planners. The meeting was the culmination of a series of conferences held at different times throughout the year to discuss the subject.

The regulations agreed on yesterday and which will be submitted to the Board of Supervisors at an early date are as follows:

"No building shall be erected in the unincorporated territory of the county of Los Angeles which exceeds a height of 150 feet from the curb level or contains more than thirteen floors, or the cubical content of which exceeds 125 times the area of the site upon which the building is to be erected.

"Provided;

"(1.) That if the owner shall dedicate for light and air purposes a setback on all sides of the site upon which the building is to be erected of not less than twenty feet, a building of greater height may be erected.

"(2.) That any portion of such building erected to a height of greater than 160 feet shall be setback on all sides of the site upon which a building is to be erected of not less than thirty-five feet.

"(3.) That where a dedicated alley exists the twenty-foot setback may be measured from the center of the alley, and that no further setback above 160 feet on that side of the building facing such alley shall be required.

"(4.) That no portion of any building site included in the calculations of the volume of a building erected under the provisions of this ordinance and upon which a dedication for light and air has been accepted in accordance with this ordinance, may be included as a portion of any other building site for the purpose of determining the maximum cubical content thereof."

Fully seventy-five men and women interested in the new building measure were present at the gathering. Before the discussion took place a set of models representing different types of structures was exhibited and explained by A. E. Williamson, zoning engineer of the commission.

The engineer explained in detail the existing provisions of the city of Los Angeles as exhibited by a model representing a 150-foot height building of thirteen stories, comparing this with other models showing the application of the provisions of the new ordinance as they would apply to buildings of greater heights, but at the same time not exceeding a 150-foot height-limit building in cubical content or usable floor space area.

One of the models on exhibition showed a building erected on a lot 200x150, towering to a height of 525 feet, still with only the cubical content of the 150-foot building. It showed in detail the provisional setbacks for the admission of light and air to adjoining properties as well as to street frontage.

The high building showed a setback of twenty feet from adjoining property lines at its base. An additional setback of fifteen feet was shown at the 160-foot level. Above that height no further setbacks are required by the proposed ordinance except as the architect may see fit.

Engineer Williamson also explained that the twenty-foot setback required by the ordinance would be dedicated to the county as light and air easements, not to be built upon, but could be used by the building owner for pedestrian ways, parking facilities, shrubbery or anything not of a permanent building nature. It would be a surface easement entirely, and being such could be used underneath for basement facilities or for automobile storage.

Many present at the meeting expressed their views and were heartily in accord with the regulation as proposed. They all pronounced the regulation as practical and exceptionally easy of interpretation and in their opinion would cause no hardship whatsoever to property owners and builders.

TRADE HELD AID TO YULE SPIRIT

Bruce A. Findlay Lauds Part Played by Business

Advertising Given to Great Festival Commended

Views Expressed in Radio Educational Address

But for the assistance industry and business give Christmas, this great festival would not enjoy the prominence it does, Bruce A. Findlay, manager of the public relations department of the Chamber of Commerce, said over radio KMPC yesterday. He spoke in the series of educational broadcasts being conducted by the Los Angeles Advertising Club with the sponsorship of the University of Southern California. His subject was "What Would Christmas Be Without Advertising?"

BRUCE A. FINDLAY

"The celebration of Christmas would differ little from that of other festivals were it not for the dramatic splendor of the Star of Bethlehem and the beauty of the Christmas carol, with their appeal to our imagination," said Mr. Findlay.

WIDELY ADVERTISED

"May we in all respect and reverence suggest the first Christmas was advertised widely? The Star of Bethlehem was the first great symbol that led the wise men and shepherds to turn their eyes and their minds toward the journey, that they might tender their offerings of love and appreciation—it was the first visual medium of announcing Christmas.

"When the heavenly host broadcast their carols of joy and happiness, wishing men pease and good will, the first spoken symbol of Christmas was given to the world. Ever since that memorable evening Christmas has been widely advertised, and the symbols have changed but little.

FREQUENT CRITICISM

"How frequently we hear it said that merchants have so commercialized Christmas that the spirit of the season is entirely lost. But in general the advertisements of merchants and manufacturers have carried the message to every nook and corner of the land.

"There are no justifiable grounds for objections to merchants making a profit out of Christmas, for business is the backbone of most peace on earth, and there is little good will toward men when the lunch pail is empty.

"Because merchants advertise wares that may be given to loved ones as tokens of affection and appreciation, it is unreasonable to point the finger of derision.

"We do not look with any less wonder and admiration at the work of Michelangelo in the Sistine Chapel because he was commissioned to do the job. We marvel no less at the beautiful art works to be found throughout Europe because some artist made a profit out of his job. The artist, too, must live. Does Caruso's voice thrill us less because a talking-machine manufacturer made a profit from the record and the instrument?

ENTHUSIASM CATCHING

"And so, we should have no objection to the merchant, as well as to the preacher, urging men and women to give expression to their highest emotions at Christmas time.

"Many a merchant lifts his own morale and that of his employees far above the ordinary level by enthusing himself, and them, with the Christmas spirit; for clerks cannot pass on to their customers something they themselves do not possess. Enthusiasm is something that cannot be taught; but it can be caught."

Pantages Says He May Produce Films in Europe

Announcement that Alexander Pantages plans the establishment of a chain of studios in the principal capitals of Europe was declared yesterday by the theatrical man to be "a bit premature." Pantages said he has had such a plan in mind for some time but that no definite program will be launched until his present difficulties in the courts are satisfactorily settled.

"I believe such a scheme for producing foreign talking pictures would be successful but I am not in a position at the present time to carry it out," he said. "If things turn out all right for me I may enter the producing field."

It is his idea to produce at least ten pictures in France, Spain, Italy and Greece or Germany and after the foreign versions are made to produce them in English. He feels the success of such foreign talent as Greta Garbo, Marlene Dietrich, Emil Jannings and Maurice Chevalier warrants the production of pictures under such a plan.

SERVICE GROUP WILL HEAR SPEAKER TRIO

The Army-Navy-Marine Corps Association will hold its monthly dinner-meeting at 6:15 p.m. tomorrow at the Alexandria. Speakers will include Capt. Alton F. Parker, U.S.M.C. Reserve, who piloted Admiral Byrd on some of his polar flights; Lieut. Col. William P. Upshur, U.S.S. California marine officer of the battle fleet, and Superior Judge Stafford. An exhibition of dancing will be given by pupils of Mrs. Rosalie Warr's school. It is probable, according to Maj. A. B. Miller, secretary, that Lieut.-Col. LeRoy P. Smith, president of the association, will have recovered sufficiently from his recent illness to be able to attend the meeting.

GIRL'S BETROTHAL ANNOUNCED

Wedding Will Take Place February 4

Miss Louise Innes

FORMAL announcement is made this morning by Will A. Innes of South Hudson avenue of the engagement of his attractive young daughter, Miss Louise Innes, to Robert Daniel Cavanaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cavanaugh of Sycamore avenue. The wedding is to be an event of February 4.

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Of more than usual interest to members of the younger social set of the Southland is the announcement made this morning by Will A. Innes of South Hudson avenue, of the engagement of his charming young daughter, Miss Louise Innes, to Robert Daniel Cavanaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cavanaugh of Sycamore avenue, the wedding to be an event of February 4.

The news was told to a coterie of intimate friends of the young bride-elect at a charmingly appointed luncheon with which she entertained yesterday afternoon at the California Club, ostensibly in honor of her attractive young houseguest, Miss Eleanor Roberts of Evanston, Ill. who by the way will remain in Los Angeles until after the wedding and of course will be in the bridal entourage.

Miss Innes is one of the most popular members of the younger set of the Southland, having lived here all of her life, and is actively interested in the Los Angeles Junior League and is a prominent member of The Spinsters.

She was graduated from Marlborough School and after finishing at Bennetts School, Milbrook, N. Y., traveled abroad.

She is the granddaughter of the late Daniel Innes and Mrs. Innes of this city. She and her father make their home with her aunt, Mrs. Willard James Doran (Sara Innes) at 217 South Hudson avenue. Her fiance is a Stanford man and affiliated with Chi Psi Fraternity. He is one of the newly elected members of The Bachelors, but with their marriage both Miss Innes and Mr. Cavanaugh will be automatically dropped from The Spinsters and The Bachelors clubs.

Many lovely affairs are being planned in honor of the betrothed, and Miss Innes will shortly announce members of the bridal party, including Mr. Cavanaugh's best man and ushers.

Church Ceremony

One of the lovely weddings of the week was that of last evening when Miss Mariam Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry Reid, became the bride of Edward Lindsey Redman, the ceremony being performed at 8 o'clock in the Chapel of St. John's, with Rev. George Davidson officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, made a quaint and charming picture wearing her mother's wedding gown, thirty-four years old, of rich old ivory satin, fashioned in Empire model, with large leg-of-mutton sleeves and the corsage filled in with rare old lace. The long veil of tulle was held in place by a cap of the same lace, and sprays of orange blossoms and she carried a sheaf of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Rush Cameron Hinsdale (Bernice Rosner,) was her only attendant, wearing a frock of turquoise blue satin, with close-fitting hat and slippers to match, and carrying a sheaf of apricot colored roses and sweet peas.

Eugene Crothers Brown served as best man and Benjamin Winslow and Curtis Mick ushered.

The bride who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry Reid of West Fourth street, is a native daughter of Los Angeles. She was graduated from Marlborough School, and later attended University of California at Los Angeles where she is affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority.

Mr. Redman is the son of Mrs. Delphia E. Redman of 6115 Orange Drive. He attended University of California at Berkeley, where he was affiliated with Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity and Phi Phi, honorary fraternity. Later he attended University of California at Los Angeles where he met his bride and he also studied law at University of Southern California. After an extended motor honeymoon through the North, Mr. and Mrs. Redman will return to make their future home here.

Birthday Celebration

Celebrating the joint birthdays of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Conant, who have the same natal day, December 14, their talented daughter, Miss Dorothy R. Conant, entertained with a musicale Sunday evening at their home, gathering together a coterie of old friends, this having been an annual event for several years. The program was in charge of Ted Bliss, and artists were the Hollywood Girls, Miss Dorothy Conant, 'sellist; Miss Berenice Smith, pianist, and Miss Buda Orth, violin; Knute Erickson, comedian; Miss Ruth Donegan, soprano; Howard Paxton, tenor, with Mrs. Paxton at the piano; Miss Florence Hart Allen, reader; Clarence Crary and Miss Doris Dolan, Mrs. Billie Danburg, Miss Mary Christine Albin, Dave Robinson, Mrs. Mary Melton, Leslie McGuire, the Robinson twins and Conant trio, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Conant and Miss Conant.

Among the guests included were Col. and Mrs. F. M. Rublee, Messrs. and Mmes. A. E. Williamson, Knute Erickson, F. D. Pen Dell, Ernest E. Sutton, James E. Waters, John A. Christensen, Ernest M. Pratt, E. A. Jacobs, H. K. Clover, Harry Tyler, Byron J. Walters, W. L. Linville, Walter M. Danberg, Howard Paxton, Mmes. Martha Truzzell Schouse, Bowers, Florence Hart Allen, Jessie M. Black, Misses Schouse, Ruth Adams, Paxton, Emma Bowers, Berenice Smith, Buda Orth, Virginia Jones, Grace Vaughan, Doris Dolan, Mary Christine Albin, Olivia Baker, Ruth Donegan, Vi'ate Christensen, Florence Kitzmiller, Evelyn Pickrell and Messrs. Annual Formal

Some fifty members of the University of Redlands chapter of Alpho Xi Omicron with their friends attended the sorority's annual formal dinner held at the El Mirador Hotel, Palm Springs, on the desert last Saturday evening. A special program featuring Marianne Edwards and Newell Hurst was presented with Miss Alice Lind, president, giving the address of welcome.

Patroness alumna members were Mmes. R. P. Garner, Florence Simonds, Ivar Westerberg and E. W. Hawkins, while among the active members were the Misses Elinor Van Duyne, Dorothy Gardner, Thelma McCroskey, Mildren Bradbury, Charlotte Hollister, Mildred Perrin, Marjorie Gibbons, Kathryn McAfee, Minnie Cockroft, Percilee Beck, Vera Leech, Eula Neery, Ruth Wanless, Mildred Burditt and Vivian Bailey.

Among the guests were Irwin Rust, Earle Poo!e, Sanford Burnham, John Cothran, Martin Fox, Alvin Stacey, Merwyn Davies, Ross Miller, Basil McAfe, Everett Vivian, Leonard Walker, Elwyn Snedicor, Charles Hampson, Lorne McCertney, Donald Drener and Mathew Sturdevant. Dr. Ivar Westerberg and Dr. E. W. Hawkins were among the honor guests.

Delightful Affair

Hon. and Mrs. Harry F. Sewell of Whittier entertained at the Hacienda Country Club near Whittier, Tuesday evening the 9th inst., with a supper-dance in celebration of their fifteenth wedding anniversary.

The assembly room of the country club was transformed into a garden effect with potted plants, palms and a profusion of flowers. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Sewell in receiving were Mrs. M. H. Cox, mother of Mrs. Sewell, and Mr. Sewell's mother, Mrs. W. I. Power.

An orchestra of six pieces furnished the dance music. Supper was served at midnight. The romance which so happily led to the altar fifteen years ago began when both were students at the State University at Missoula, Mont. The Sewells have lived in Whittier for the past ten years, and are prominent in the social and civic affairs of the community.

Mr. Sewell, who is Assemblyman for the Sixty-eighth District, will return to Sacramento January 5, accompanied by Mrs. Sewell.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

FRUIT TAPIOCA

Heat in a double boiler one and one-half cupfuls of milk, to which has been added four tablespoonfuls of sugar, bring to a boil and stir in gradually one-half a cupful of quick-cooking tapioca, stir until it boils, and cook for fifteen minutes, allow the mixture to cool, then fold into it one cupful of whipped cream to which has been added one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, pour the mixture into a ring mold, and place in the ice box for four hours, unmold on a round dish and fill the center with preserved peaches and apricots, sprinkle over all a half a cupful of blanched almonds that have been toasted and shredded and half a cupful of maraschino cherries.

CHEESE BISCUITS

Sift one and one-half cupfuls of sifted flour with three level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of sugar, and half a teaspoonful of salt, work into these two tablespoonfuls of butter, and when the mixture is like coarse meal, add three-quarters of a cupful of grated American cheese, and mix to a smooth dough with two-thirds of a cupful of milk, roll out on a floured board, cut into rounds or finger-shaped pieces, place on an oiled baking sheet, half an inch apart, and bake in a moderately hot oven.

POTATO SOUP

Heat four cupfuls of milk to the scalding point, add to it one medium-sized onion into which has been pressed two whole cloves, when the milk is boiling hot stir into it one cupful of mashed potatoes, heat two tablespoonfuls of butter and add to it two tablespoonfuls of flour, blend well, and gradually add it to the milk and potato mixture, stir and cook for ten minutes. Remove the onion, season with celery salt, white pepper and finely chopped parsley and serve with croutons.

STUFFED SHOULDER OF LAMB

Have the butcher remove the blade bone from a shoulder of lamb and fill the space left with a dressing made by mixing two cupfuls of bread crumbs with a seasoning of salt, paprika, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a teaspoonful of poultry spice, one tablespoonful of grated lemon rind, and one-fourth of a cupful of chopped capers, stuff the shoulder and sew together. Sear the meat on all sides, place in a large saute pan four slices of bacon, over the bacon two finely sliced onions, and three stalks of chopped celery. Place the meat on top of this with just enough water to keep from burning, add more water as it cooks, cover and simmer gently for an hour and one half until the meat is tender. Remove to a hot platter, drain the vegetables from the gravy and arrange around the meat, thicken the gravy with two tablespoonfuls of brown flour.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

A Necessity

The old-fashioned carpet sweeper is just as much in demand nowadays as before the advent of the electric vacuum. It is necessary for the in-between cleanings, removing crumbs, etc. If the electric vacuum were used every time for the lighter work we would soon be buying new rugs.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORTON W. BURGESS

STUMPY IS UPSET

Whoever truly is in need
Will find that Nature taketh heed.
—Jerry Muskrat.

While Stumpy, the three-legged young Muskrat, was afraid of the snow because it made his presence known to his enemies, he enjoyed it, too, after a fashion. He liked to sit beside the open water, where he could dive in at the first hint of danger, and watch what went on about him. It was surprising how many people he saw. It wasn't that there were more about. No, that wasn't it. It was because against the white snow they were more readily seen. Blacky the Crow, Sammy Jay, Tommy Tit the Chickadee, and Slatey the Junco he saw nearly every day. Several times he saw Peter Rabbit long before Peter came near enough to speak. Twice he saw Reddy Fox at a distance. He was quite satisfied to see Reddy at a distance. And of course all these little people saw him.

"I don't see how anyone can hide when all the world is white. I mean I don't see how anyone can hope to keep from being seen unless hiding under or in something," said he. "Brown coats never were intended for a white world."

"True," replied Jerry Muskrat. "Quite true. But there are people who have white coats, and a white world just suits them. That reminds me, one of these is a fellow you had best watch out for."

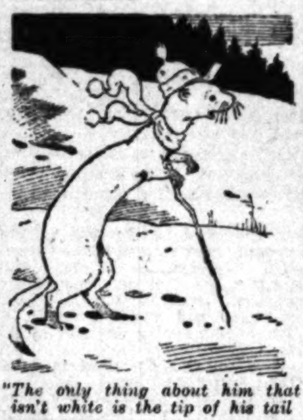
"Who is he?" asked Stumpy.

"Shadow, the Weasel," replied Jerry. "He is a little fellow, but it would be just like him to attack you if he should discover that you have but three legs, and unless you could get him into the water I am afraid you would not have much chance."

"I saw him once last summer and he wasn't white; he was brown," said Stumpy.

"He has changed his coat, or Mother Nature has changed it for him since then," said Jerry. "It was brown in the summer but it is white now. It is as white as this snow. The only thing about him not white is the tip of his tail. This is black. Watch out for him. He is dangerous any time of year, but more so now than any other time because he is harder to see."

Stumpy promised that he would watch out and then promptly forgot all about Shadow the Weasel. You see Shadow was a rare visitor to the Smiling Pool and those living there seldom thought of him.



"The only thing about him that isn't white is the tip of his tail

He wasn't what might be called a regular enemy. The very next morning Stumpy climbed out on his favorite tussock, and after a look all around to make sure that all was safe, began to make his toilet. He was combing his fur with the nails of his one front paw and thinking how peaceful and safe everything was when he saw a Mouse come out of a little hole in the snow, sit up to look about and start for another little hole beside a stalk of goldenrod. As the Mouse scurried along, making a pretty trail of fine footprints in the snow, he passed or started to pass what Stumpy had taken to be a little lump of snow. He had noticed it when he had first climbed out on the tussock.

Just as that Mouse was opposite that little lump it came to life. Yes, sir, it came to life with an abruptness that was startling, to say the least. There was a squeak of fright from the Mouse and that was all. A slim, trim little person in a white coat had pounced on him with a fierceness dreadful to see. It was so sudden and so wholly unexpected that Stumpy was so startled he fell over backward into the Laughing Brook with a splash. When he ventured to put his head out of water for a look he was just in time to see a rapidly moving tiny black spot against the white snow. He guessed what it was. He guessed it was the black tip of a tail.

"That must have been Shadow the Weasel, and he was sitting right there all the time," gasped Stumpy.

He was right. That is just who it was.

Novelties, Ideas, and Suggestions

By OLIVE GRAY

One excellent way to spread holiday cheer is to employ, when preparing your Christmas festivities, those who are idle or on half-time pay and who will appreciate a little lift. I remember that, in a back-east club, the philanthropy chairman took to sweeping snow from her own sidewalk in order to provide food for the poor; and she was surprised when someone suggested that to pay someone for doing that work would be better for them and less arduous for herself!

Small But Useful

An excellent little gift is one of those most practical match-safes. Brought out, at first, only in plain colors; these safes now are to be had in gaily decorated tints and also in china of pleasing designs. That they really are safes—safety first for matches—is not the least of their qualities.

Ankle Bracelets

A nice little gift for the girl or woman is one of those identification anklets—or ankle bracelets, some prefer to call those of more ornate design. In these days of many street accidents, it is well to possess inalienable identification, of some sort. Then, too, with the transparent stockings the glimmering anklets are quite charming, when glimpsed.

Light on Gift Problem

The flashlight well may serve to illumine the gift problem for man or woman. So many uses for this little glim; carried in the week-end box or bag, for any emergency, always at hand on the motor car in case machinery requires close inspection; at home, when the electrics are tricky. Oh, there are scores of uses for the flashlight. In fact no one should be without one.

Whole Families

With the fad for bijou animals, cats, dogs and so on, many family groups have come into notice—the mother dog, in bisque or china, the old lady cat with her kittens, yes and even tiger families and monkey families are shown. Fathers of such families seldom seem to be in the picture; perhaps because fathers are not so fatherly, in animal families, as mothers are. Many such little families are shown in fabrications of hair or worsted, so very natural that it seems as if they must live and breath—animal members from some fairyland.

For His Radio

If he already is in possession of a radio, perhaps something is lacking thereto; something to make it clearer; or perhaps his battery is down—if he is beyond electrics—and an auxiliary battery would prove a Christmas boon. For, once addicted to radio and he might as well be out of breath as out of radio.

Naturally Christmassy

There is one gift which just naturally associates itself with the thought of Christmas; and that is the candle and its holder. No woman ever had enough candles in her home; and this is a gift never too numerous. Whether the candle stick be of silver, of gilt, of glass, of china; and whether it be tall or squatty; whether singly or in pairs—always the welcome gift.

Many Kinds

This season there are more kinds of candles than ever were numbered even in the inventory of the "house of a thousand candles." From the huge red candle so strictly a Christmas candle, to the full range of crimson associates, down to the slim whip; and on through the list to those fat Chinese candles, hand-carved and ivory-like in effect, and on to the elaborately colorful flower-topped ones—candles, candles; for gifts and for use on table and throughout the home, during the holidays.

That Slept-in Look

A good gift—if possibly a bit hintful—is one of those dainty marcel caps in a becoming color. Wearing one of these, at night, her hair will not have that slept-in appearance, too often the case. Not bad looking to wear around home, mornings, either, are these marcel caps.

Tiny Quilted Robes

Quilted robes, in silk and in satin come en small, for the children; and delightful gifts are these. For chilly mornings, and to put on early on Santa's day, while examining the stockings, what more pleasing than one of these robes; and what more practical—the first gift to dawn upon the delighted vision of the child, upon entering the living-room.

Party Frocks

Never were frocks for little girls more charming than this season. In pastel tones, in soft silks, crepes, or in flowerful challis, these frocks, small replicas of those for mother, are as gifty as they are pleasing.

Little Lingeries

And lingerie, also, comes in little, for the girl as young as 3 and on up into the 'teens. Giftful, as pretty and practical as well. Especially complimentary, gifts of lingerie for the small girl, since nothing so delights her as to own something "just like mother's."

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

FOOD LAWS BENEFICIAL TO ALL

The pure food legislation has had a splendid effect upon the health and well-being of the food consumers. The regulation and quality of food has a beneficial effect upon every man, woman and child. If disease is to be lessened, it is vitally necessary that the whole population be supplied with wholesome, pure food. An example of this is found in the milk industry. When dairymen were allowed to put preservatives in milk which detract from its healthfulness in order to make the milk keep longer, then a very important part of the population suffers, namely the young children and babies.

Pure food legislation provided an impetus for the development of methods of pasteurization, refrigeration and sterilization. It was always cheaper to preserve foods by adding a preservative substance than to use the above methods. When such preservation became unlawful, widespread methods developed for keeping food by wholesome methods. The pure food laws also had a profound effect upon buying and were found in this way to really be of benefit to the manufacturers. More than one-fourth of the national salary is spent for food, and the spending of this immense sum is shaped a great deal by the confidence in the food products. People nowadays know that they can trust the goods both as to purity, itself, and the truthfulness of the label it bears, thus standards of buying have been established. The housewife is now able to discriminate between those foods which contain preservatives and those which do not. An example of this is found in the dried fruits. Simply by looking at the package the buyer can tell whether she is getting sulphured or unsulphured fruit.

Pure-food laws have done a tremendous amount of good in producing truthful advertising. It has become necessary to brand advertised food truthfully and to state only reasonable claims for either foods or drugs. Dr. Wiley said, "The importance of insisting on truthful description of drugs, foods and cosmetics, their use and value as well as composition, cannot be overestimated."

The foods which have been especially improved and made more uniform and dependable since these laws went into effect, are canned goods, lard, milk, butter, cheap candies, ice cream, sugars, flour, meat and olive oil. As a result of these laws, established brands of food are fairly sure to be what they say they are. No cheap or harmful fillers can be mixed with them. The foods are standard. Colorings and preservatives are mentioned on the label. The label gives a fair description of the product. The food is honestly measured, and in many cases it is found that when food is tested it is above the standard required by the government. Manufacturers have found that establishing the confidence of their patrons, by always using materials of the highest quality, is one of their most effective sales methods, and, many of them voluntarily cause, a strict inspection of their own products.

Since the pure food laws have gone into effect there has been a marked improvement in the quality of foods prepared in the United States. In general, foods are more worthy of trust and confidence than any other class of products on the American market today. Other countries not having pure-food laws would do well to use these laws as a pattern for regulating their own products and the health of their people and the confidence of foreign buyers would be improved.

Quilted Pads

If you intend buying a quilted table pad for your dining-room table, be sure to buy it a few inches larger than the table to allow for shrinking.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

HOW CAN WE TELL WHETHER BABY IS HUNGRY OR COLICKY

Perhaps no one puzzle is as overpoweringly insoluble for the young mother as deciding whether her baby is crying because he has colic or because he is hungry. Sometimes even the weekly gain may not tell the story, for while the baby's weekly gain may be satisfactory, yet there may still be definite periods each day when he yaps loudly because those particular nursings have been unsatisfactory. This happens far more often with the nursing baby than with the bottle baby, whose individual feedings are exactly alike in quantity and quality. Individual nursings are not exactly alike.

We have a leaflet on "Under and Overfeeding" which tries to outline the various symptoms which, taken together, would give a clear picture of either under or overfeeding. A self-addressed stamped envelope sent to this department with a request for the above leaflet will bring it to any interested mother.

USE ACCURATE SCALES

The first symptoms of underfeeding would be a slow or stationary gain in weight. Mothers simply cannot tell whether their babies are losing or gaining weight by looking at them. They must have some type of accurate scales upon which baby can be weighed weekly, at the same time in the day, the same day in the week and without clothes.

I know from experience in weighing hundreds of babies weekly at a hospital clinic that one cannot judge the gain of babies by looking at them. I have two cases in mind, a boy of 11 who weighed about forty-four pounds, and a tiny chick who at seven months weighed about seven pounds. These terrific cases of malnutrition so enlisted the sympathy of the social service helpers that we were eager each time to discover if one or the other had made any appreciable gain in weight. Often I have said to the mother, as she unwrapped the poor, skinny little baby, "Oh, he looks so much better this week, I am sure he has gained." She would thing so, too, but from the scales we would find that he had remained the same, or even lost a fraction of a pound. Eyes are poor scales. A slight increase of color in a child's face will give the appearance of a gain in weight. One cannot judge by such inaccurate means.

UNDERFEEDING

The hungry baby is wakeful, jumpy, wants to eat every hour in the day, and consumes all the water given him. In addition, he may have dry, hard, constipated stools as infrequent as one every other day, or loose, greenish, mucous stools of a musty odor. If either of these are coupled with a stationary or slow gain in weight the mother may be fairly certain that her baby is not getting enough food to satisfy his body needs.

Copious stools, or a stool in each diaper, coupled with a large gain in weight will tell the opposite story, too much food, a crying unhappy baby who is striving to digest more food than he needs.

So it is unwise to ask: "What makes my baby cry?" "Why can't he sleep?" without first focusing attention upon his food, his gain in weight, his general condition, apparent satisfaction or the opposite, and the story that stools can tell. Poor sleeping habits and a crying baby are merely indications that the baby's whole condition is unsatisfactory. It is up to the mother to find out just what they indicate.

"Other Woman" Figures in Suit

Demand for her marriage certificate was made by her husband so that he could use it for another woman, asserted Mrs. Bernice Ensley yesterday in winning a divorce from Richard B. Ensley. They were married in Twin Falls, Idaho, May 6, 1926, and separated December 20, 1929.

"On December 22, 1929 he demanded my marriage certificate, saying he could use it to live with another woman—that he wanted it to show to anyone who demanded proof that they were married," Mrs. Ensley told Superior Judge Bishop. "When I refused to give it up, he threatened to beat me up, causing great anguish."

Judge Bishop granted a decree.

WIFE WINS DIVORCE ON STORY OF BILLS

Charging his lumber to his mother-in-law, was one of her husband's acts concerning which Mrs. Mae Bisbee complained yesterday in getting a divorce from Frank Bisbee, process server. "After leaving me, my husband built a house at Fontana and charged the lumber to my mother, and she had to pay the bill," Mrs. Bisbee testified. "He also telephoned our landlady and told her I would have to pay the bill when he left." Superior Judge Bishop granted her a divorce.

GAMING SHIP APPEAL WON BY TWO MEN

Court Reverses Conviction of Pair for Advertisement on Spare Tire Cover

Displaying the gambling ship Johanna Smith's name on a spare tire cover does not constitute "prevailing" upon persons to visit that floating Monte Carlo, the Appellate Department of the Superior Court held in an opinion filed yesterday. The opinion accompanied a decision reversing the conviction and sentence of Ray J. Pullman and Lawrence H. Smith in the Long Beach Municipal Court.

Pullman and Smith were found guilty of violating Section 318, Penal Code, the charge being that they prevailed upon people to visit the gambling ship lying off Long Beach. The evidence disclosed that the defendants drove around the streets in a car with the spare tire cover bearing the words "Johanna Smith—World Famous Amusement Ship—Get Speed Boats at 1415 West Seventh Street, Long Beach."

The Appellate judges held that there was no evidence that Pullman and Smith did anything other than drive the car with this advertisement and no evidence that any person had gone out to the ship as a result of the advertisement. Presiding Judge McLucas wrote the opinion, concurred in by Judges Shaw and Bishop. Municipal Judge Wallace had sentenced Pullman and Smith to pay fines of $50 each or serve jail sentences of ten days each.

Food as Well as Toys Packed for Needy Children

Toys are not the only things that come from Santa's bag, child guests at the Midnight Mission Christ-Child party will learn Monday afternoon at the Philharmonic Auditorium. Two thousand stout paper bags filled with substantial foods will be presented by Monte Blue as Santa Claus to the little guests with clothing and toy gifts.

Final arrangements have been concluded with Paent-Teacher Association organizations to transport poor children to the affair, which has been made possible through public donations. A large list of stars of stage and screen will provide entertainment through courtesy of the 233 Club.

Among the staff of social workers who yesterday were packing bags for the party at Midnight Mission headquarters were Opal Nesbit, Louise Sigman and Helen Wilson of the Community Chest staff.

HUSBAND'S GUN BUYING DISAPPROVED BY WIFE

Buying guns took money her husband should have spent to support her, Mrs. Cherie E. Dunbar, operator of a Glendale beauty parlor, yesterday testified in divorcing Samuel A. Dunbar. She said her husband compelled her to support them, and that when he did earn $30 he spent it for two shotguns and a rifle. She told Superior Judge Keetch that Dunbar bought an automobile on time, leaving her to pay the down payment and more than half of the installments. Judge Keetch granted her a decree.

Actress Says Mate Left Her

While she was acting before the sound camera, her husband left her permanently, Ann Small, motion-picture actress, testiged yesterday in getting a divorce from James A. Small, advertising salesman. She told Superior Judge Westover that she was out on location when Small packed up and moved to Chicago.

Dixie Richard, the wife's corroborating witness, testified that she had attempted vainly to induce Small to return to his wife.

POPULARITY CONTEST WINNER COMING HERE

"Miss Lincoln," in the person of Dorothy Whitney, winner of a popularity contest in Nebraska, will arrive here tomorrow at 8:30 a.m. for a holiday vacation in Hollywood. The winner and her party will be welcomed at the Central Station by representatives of the two companies who sponsored the contest. Representatives of the Max Factor Make-up Studios and of the Paramount theaters and studio, who arranged the test in the Cornhusker State, said yesterday a program of entertainment for Miss Whitney has been arranged which will take her through many of the studios of the film capital.

NEW LIGHT SYSTEM SOUGHT

The Abbot Kinney Company yesterday petitioned the City Council for the installation of an ornamental lighting system along Grand Boulevard between Venice Boulevard and Second avenue. The petition was referred to the Board of Public Works and the Traffic and Lighting Committee.

Complaint Flaw Frees Man After Plea of Guilty

Despite his guilty plea when on trial charged with liquor selling, Terance Spears yesterday was released on a writ of habeas corpus because the asserted offense was not stated in the complaint to be within the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles Municipal Court, where he was found guilty. The complaint asserts that the sale was made "at 1135 West Eighty-seventh street, at and in the county of Los Angeles," and omits all reference to the cities of Los Angeles and of Long Beach.

The petitioner sought his release for the reason that the complaint shows on its face that the trial court was without jurisdiction.

"Consent of the defendant by a plea of guilty, will not alone confer jurisdiction," ruled Superior Judge McLucas, in freeing Spears on a writ of habeas corpus. Harry Margid is attorney for Spears.

She leaves her husband, Charles S. Pitcher, three daughters, Mrs. Grace Chambers, Mrs. Fannie Wight and Mrs. Ethel Saviers, and four sons, William C., Robert A., Oscar and Raymond E. Pitcher.

NEW INDUSTRIES DRIVE LAUNCHED

Latest Booster Association Goes Into Action

Move Started for Change in Policy on Rentals

Revision of Tidewater Plant Rules Sought Also

BY WALDO DRAKE

Definite action in a program to attract new industries to the port area was taken yesterday by the Industrial Development Association of the harbor district. The new organization named two committees: One to draft a revision of the section of the city charter providing for rental revaluation of city-owned harbor lands every ten years, and another to secure approximately 40,000 signatures to a petition urging revision of the section said to prevent establishment of new industries near tidewater on harbor department lands.

These two committees, headed by Dr. Harry Bunkers and Russell Ellis, will first seek to enlist the support of all civic bodies in the harbor area as well as that of harbor department executives.

"We feel that the various chambers of commerce and the harbor department cannot but realize that this ten-year clause has been a serious deterrent to the proper growth of the port," declared Keith Bunkers, secretary of the association. "No big manufacturer about to establish a new plant will build his factory on a site where he will have no assurance that his leasehold will be valid for a long term or that in ten years his rental will be arbitrarily increased."

At yesterday's meeting the association also commended various Wilmington interests for their work in expediting completion of Avalon Boulevard, to give Los Angeles Harbor its shortest route to the metropolitan district. A resolution urging direct purchase of the Royal Palms Golf Club property in the Palos Verdes Hills, by Los Angeles county, was also passed.

BIDS ON PILING FOR PROJECT UP SHORTLY

Bids for the purchase of 11,040 lineal feet of creosoted piling and 24,300 lineal feet of creosoted fire wall timbers, most of it to be used in construction of the $1,500,000 West Basin freight terminal at Berths No. 144 to 146, will be opened by the Board of Harbor Commissioners on the 24th inst., it was announced yesterday. The order, which will be the biggest harbor department timber purchase in several years, also includes material for repair of the Lassco terminal at Pier A.

Other maintenance projects approved by the Harbor Commission at yesterday's meeting included the $45,000 job for reconstruction of the rock walls and jetties along the main channel front of the Bethlehem shipyards. One-third the cost of the project will be paid by the Bethlehem interests, work to get under way as soon as the contract is signed.

Heading private developments at the port authorized yesterday by the Harbor Commission was a $45,000 building permit to the Crescent Wharf and Warehouse for beginning construction of its $85,000 fireproof storage warehouse at 111 Seaside avenue, Terminal Island. The one-story structure will have approximately 40,000 square feet of storage space.

Other private building permits for port work authorized included one to the San Pedro Lumber Company for $6000, for repair of wharf at Berths No. 120, 122 and 123; $600 to the Copra Oil and Meal Company, for a new fuel storage tank, and $750 to the Pacific Borax Company for new partitions in its plant on Mormon Island.

Panama Mail's intercoastal liner Ecuador will arrive from New York and Central American ports this morning with 100 cabin passengers and 3000 tons of cargo. Among her travelers are Mrs. George Carlisle, Nantucket (Mass.) social leader, with her daughter, Elsie; Fred C. March, Ohio investment magnate, with Mrs. March, and Joseph Shelton of New York.

United States Representative Joe Crail yesterday submitted a letter from Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Seymour Lowman to the Harbor Department in answer to requests of local shipping interests for additional immigration facilities at the port.

Mr. Lowman explained that Congress has already authorized $70,000 for construction of an immigration quarantine station at Los Angeles Harbor and that additional funds for this station and a marine hospital, as requested, will come before the interdepartmental committee on public buildings at an early date. He indicated that these projects, if approved, would be included in the present $115,000,000 public building program.

Three hundred passengers from New York, Havana and the Canal will arrive at the port Saturday morning aboard the Panama-Pacific electric liner Virginia, in command of Capt. James E. Roberts. Southlanders returning include Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Cheney, Mr. and Mrs. Don A. Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. R. Goldstein, all of Los Angeles; Miss Frederica Poett of Santa Barbara, and Harold S. Wheeler of Pasadena.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Red Star liner Belgenland, due in San Francisco January 3, next, on a world cruise, will book passengers to oriental ports, the International Mercantile Marine Company announced here today.

This is taken by shipping men to be the company's answer to recent protests of regular trans-Pacific passenger lines to the booking of Douglas Fairbanks and his party on the Belgenland for a big-game hunting trip in India and other countries. Much speculation was current as to what effect, if any, the announcement would have on relations between world cruisers and regular trans-Pacific lines.

A low bid of $139,949 was submitted today for construction of the steel hull of a lighthouse tender by the Moore Drydock Company. The Atlas Imperial Diesel Engine Company was low with $40,288 for machinery. The ship will be used in San Francisco Bay service.

PORTLAND, Dec. 17.—The steamer Ernest H. Meyer was lifted in drydock here tonight to permit repair of a leak.

A rivet is said to have worked loose and fallen out while the vessel was en route here from San Francisco. A small amount of cargo in No. 1 hold was reported damaged.

The British steamer Nebraska is to leave Portland tomorrow for the United Kingdom. She will carry more than 40,000 boxes of apples and pears loaded here. The Niagara is due here next week to take about 30,000 boxes of apples for the United Kingdom.

SEATTLE, Dec. 17.—A special excursion from Halifax, Nova Scotia to Vancouver, B. C. via Panama Canal, will be made, beginning in April, by the Prince Robert, third new steamship built in Great Britain for the Canadian National Steamship Company. Plans for the trip were announced here today by A. H. Allen, assistant general manager.

The Prince Robert will join the other luxurious liners in the new service between here and British Columbia ports after it reaches this port.

George Streel, Northwest manager for the Radio Corporation of America, with offices here, has been transferred to Shanghai to supervise the new direct radio telegraph circuit between North China and the United States.

Bandit Hearing Reveals Daring

Daring methods used by burglars were described yesterday in Municipal Judge Baird's court at the preliminary hearing of H. M. Sanders, 30 years of age, and Peter Ryan, 38, who are facing robbery charges. It is asserted that the two plundered Beverly Hills and Hollywood homes of jewelry, rugs and furniture amounting to $250,000.

Dressed in white suits, they posed as electric repair men and obtained entrance to homes which were plundered, witnesses called by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Sullivan said. In several cases witnesses said, a truck was parked outside, with Ryan in charge.

They were arrested on the 5th inst. as a result of fingerprints left in several of the homes burglarized, police officers declared. Rugs, jewelry and other articles recovered were identified by owners in court. Sanders, according to his attorney, William T. Kendrick, Jr., has been employed recently at motion-picture studios.

Manhole Blasts Endanger Crowd

Theater crowds and pedestrians were endangered last night as two manholes at Seventh and Hill streets exploded with a great roar, causing the injury of Joe Urgo, 22 years of age of 826 Cleveland street, a newspaper vender.

One of the manhole covers spun thirty-five feet through the air. Either it, or the force of the concussion, wrecked a traffic signal box, a fragment of which struck Urgo on the back. He was treated at Georgia-street Hospital and sent home.

NEGRO HELD FOR TRIAL ON FORGERY CHARGE

Journee W. White, colored, yesterday was remanded to jail and his bail set at $2000 on a charge of having assertedly forged a trust deed of a client of the Title Insurance and Trust Company. His preliminary hearing was set for the 22nd inst. by Judge Ballard, before whom he was arraigned.

It is asserted that the name of Mrs. Lavina Massey was signed to a document on which he attempted to secure a loan. He was given a check after having signed the escrow papers, officials of the title company told Judge Ballard, and then was arrested by a representative of the District Attorney's office.

LASKY SIGNS SYLVIA SIDNEY

Washburn and Lita Chevret Win Roles in Radio Picture; Genevieve Tobin Scheduled to Play "Seed" Part; Joan Castle Chosen for Brendel Film

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

More cautious are the movie producers becoming in the matter of signing up stage actors for the talkers. So many of these did not, after all, show up to advantage on the screen. And, besides, the public is asking for its old favorites.

So that, when a stage player is signed these days, it is because there is no doubt in the mind of the producer that he or she will make good on the screen.

Sylvia Sidney of Broadway fame Paramount evidently believes is such a player. And so she was signed yesterday on a long-term contract with that organization, according to the announcement of B. P. Schulberg.

Not only that, but she has already been assigned not only a leading but what is also virtually a star role as well.

Miss Sidney is to play as her first screen part the feature role in "Confessions of a Co-ed," in which Phillips Holmes has the leading male part. This picture is to go into production shortly after the first of the year. The story is said to be adapted from the real diary of a real co-ed.

By this time, doubtless, you are anxious to know who this young woman is. She has lately finished playing the leading role in "Bad Girl" on Broadway. She also scored a few seasons ago in "Gods of the Lightning," a dramatic play produced in Greenwich Village. The play gave Miss Sidney her chance to show the theatrical producers what she could do in the way of acting and she was at once engaged for other productions. Her work in "Crime," with Chester Morris and Martin Burton, and in "Many a Slip" further advanced her as a Broadway favorite.

TWO GIVEN FIRST BIG TALKER ROLES

From opposite poles of the acting profession, two players yesterday were given their first big parts in the same talking picture.

LITA CHEVRET

Bryant Washburn, formerly one of the most popular Paramount stars, and Lita Chevret, one of the rising young actresses of Radio Pictures, both were assigned leading roles in Radio's "Kept Husbands," which Lloyd Bacon will direct.

Washburn is to play the role formerly assigned to Douglas Gilmore, which the latter had to vacate, due to another picture being pushed forward on the schedule.

Since leaving pictures for a time, Washburn has had no little successful experience on the stage, so that his assignment to the role in question, considering his excellence as an all-round stage and screen player, comes as no surprise.

Miss Chevret will play the role of a screen vamp. She recently was promoted from the ranks of show girl to that of featured actress.

GENEVIEVE TOBIN ASSIGNED TO ROLE

GENEVIEVE TOBIN

Such excellent work has Genevieve Tobin been doing in Universal pictures that that organization is taking extreme care to cast her in roles that will particularly suit her and so build her already mounting popularity.

Now it is on the cards that Miss Tobin will play in Norris's "Seed," shortly to go into production.

The actress lately finished a lead in a Universal picture, not yet definitely titled, in which she played a sob sister on a daily, and before that she distinguished herself in "A Lady Surrenders."

Joan Castle's First for Fox

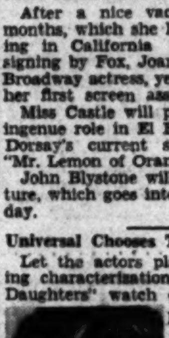
After a nice vacation of seven months, which she has been spending in California following her signing by Fox, Joan Castle, former Broadway actress, yesterday received her first screen assignment.

Miss Castle will play the leading ingenue role in El Brendel and Fifi Dorsay's current starring vehicle, "Mr. Lemon of Orange."

John Blystone will direct the picture, which goes into production today.

Universal Chooses Two

Let the actors playing the leading characterizations in "Gambling Daughters" watch out now? Two players who have just been signed may steal the picture.



ZASU PITTS

Slim Summerville and ZaSu Pitts are the two popular and skillful actors in question. Both have featured comedy leads.

Hobart Henley is to direct "Gambling Daughters" which is to be the next production of the Carl Laemmle's to start at the studios in Universal City.

Brown Directs It

Harry Joe Brown will direct "The Registered Woman," according to an announcement made yesterday by Charles R. Rogers, Radio Pictures producer. This screen version of John Farrow's play will go into actual production about the first of the year.

Von Stroheim Returns

After a month's hard work up in a cabin in the Sierra Madre Mountains, Eric Von Stroheim is back in Hollywood. He brought his script of "Blind Husbands" to Universal officials yesterday.

Casting will probably begin right after the first of the year and in the meantime Von Stroheim and Universal officials will be conferring on dialogue and story, looking to its okay.

Boles Singer or Actor?

Universal officials admit that they are in something of a quandary about what to do with John Boles.

JOHN BOLES

They don't know whether to feature him as singer or actor.

He is too good a singer, they aver, to neglect that part of his talking screen appeal, but he is altogether too good an actor to waste that phase, and besides, musicals are not in favor at present. So Universal readers are working hard to dig up just the right story for the singing star.

VETERANS' CHILDREN TO HAVE YULE PARTY

An old-fashioned Christmas party will be given children of veterans in the Lincoln Heights-El Sereno district by Post No. 394, American Legion, next Monday night in the basement of Lincoln Heights Library, North Workman street and Avenue 26, F. H. Farrington, commander, announced.

Provision has been made for the entertainment of approximately 400 children. Toys, games, fruits and candies will be distributed to all present. Entertainment will be furnished by professional and local talent.

MUSIC IS MADE FOR PLEASURE

Teachers Show Ability in Nonprofessional Orchestra

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Los Angeles Orchestra of Instructors, Symphonia Praeceptorium, gave a holiday concert at Bovard Auditorium last night and attracted a large audience. These musicians associated with the city schools who have gathered together under the baton of Henry Svedrofsky have progressed toward realizing a musical ideal. They play for their own pleasure and advancement and give their audience generously that which they gain for themselves.

The program last night was the overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor," Tschaikowsky's Nutcracker Suite and the Dvorak New World Symphony. It was well and carefully done. Mr. Svedrofsky is a thorough musician and he has communicated to these players his own regard for correct tempo and unwavering intonation. The orchestra is still very young and longer association will bring freedom and spontaneity with a unified string tone. They already display spirit and interest and good training.

Zaruhi Elmassian, the gifted young Armenian soprano, who has distinguished herself in opera, sang the Ballatella from "Pagliacci" and Schubert's "Du Bist Die Ruh." She acquitted herself of these widely different tests of good singing well. Her voice is pleasing and she phrases with taste.

KIRCHHOFER'S CHORUS SINGS

The Orpheus Club, led by Hugo Kirchhofer and accompanied by Inez Jacobson, gave the first concert of its twenty-sixth season at the Philharmonic Auditorium last night. The program of the club consisted of ten songs, ranging from "The Little Sandman," of Brahms, to the Hallelujah chorus from Handel's "Messiah." The American composers on the list were MacDowell, Clokey, Griffes and Hageman. The last two were on the solo list of Hazel Elwell Rhodes, soprano. Precision of attack and good discipline marks the club's work.

Mrs. Rhodes's songs were especially well received. She gave a scene from "Faust" and a group of recital songs with animation and warmth. Raymond McFeeters, who accompanied Mrs. Rhodes at the piano, interpreted the composers with an understanding that brought out their meaning.

FOX COMEDY DUE TODAY AT LOEW'S

"Princess and Plumber" Features Charles Farrell and Maureen O'Sullivan

Christmas week at Loew's Theater starting today, offers an abundance of stage and screen entertainment.

On the screen, Charles Farrell is seen in the new Fox comedy, "The Princess and the Plumber," with Maureen O'Sullivan in the leading feminine role. Directed by Alexander Korda. The picture presents the adventures of a young American plumber, played by Farrell, in the Balkans, and his meeting with and wooing of the lonely little princess of a small European country. H. B. Warner heads the list of supporting players.

As an added attraction on the screen a new Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Another Fine Mess" will be shown.

On the stage, the Meglin Kiddies will be seen in song and dance offerings, in addition to the new Fanchon and Marco "Icy Hot" idea, staged by Larry Ceballos.

Comedy Authors Draw Characters From Real Life

The comedy types and episodes in "Up Pops the Devil," which comes to the Belasco Theater Christmas night, present variants upon actual life as observed by the authors.

All are said to be familiar types found in Greenwich Village, the quiet inebriate, for instance, who wanders into midnight parties where no one knows him, but each assumes that he is a friend of some one else present; and the girl who pretends to be helpless and plays upon the sympathies of men.

The girl, a blond, coquettish southern miss, will be played in the Belasco and Curran production by Marguerite Warner. The inebriated individual will be portrayed by Jac. Foss.

Herbert Fortier, Alma Powell, Helen Dickson and the colored actor, James Adamson, known to vaudeville as "Spare-ribs," have been added to the cast of this holiday attraction. Featured in "Up Pops the Devil" are Raymond Hackett, Anne Teaman, Esther Howard, John Arledge, Leyland Hodgson and Lex Lindsay.

Actor Calls Stock Roles Best Training

Charles Starrett, leading man in "Fast and Loose," the feature starting today at the Million Dollar Theater, says that stock company playing is the best training for a motion-picture career, but the greatest care should be taken in choosing a director.

Starrett worked for three years in Cincinnati and Indianapolis with Stewart Walker, said to be one of the best stock company directors in the country. When he went to New York, he found favor on Broadway, where he played in two productions, before going into moving pictures. He is now a featured player with Paramount.

The new vaudeville program has five headline attractions with the preholiday spirit well in evidence.

Beauty Plays Role in Virile Yarn

Evalyn Knapp

Makes another bid for screen honors in "River's End," which will start runs at both Warner Brothers' Downtown and Hollywood theaters tomorrow. Charles Bickford enacts a dual role in the picture.

"EAST LYNNE" MODERNIZED

For more than fifty years, stage producers and traveling stock companies relied on "East Lynne" as the one mainstay after all else had failed.

Today, "East Lynne" reaches the screen at the Orpheum Theater in a modernized and rejuvenated version under the title of "Ex-Flame."

The photoplay is said to retain the melodramatic qualities of the book. Its story tells of the young mother who leaves her husband because of his renewal of an affair with an ex-flame, and is in turn found in a compromising situation.

Marion Nixon enacts the role of the young mother, Neil Hamilton is seen as the handsome Lord Austin, and Judith Barrie portrays the name part. Kerry is the wife's admirer, and little Billie Haggerty has the child part.

"Ex-Flame" is the second picture to be directed by Victor Halperin under the supervision of his brother, Edward. Members of the cast will appear on the stage at tomorrow evening's performance.

Barbara Luddy Commutes Under Duffy Banner

Barbara Luddy, who is playing the role of Norma Ramsey, the daughter of an ex-burlesque queen who breaks into society, in "Stepping Sisters," the farce comedy which opens Christmas Day matinee at the Hollywood Playhouse, is a commuter between San Francisco and Los Angeles, except for a season with Leo Carrillo in Australia, where she played Daisy in "Lombardi, Ltd."

According to her calculations, Miss Luddy has traveled no less than thirty-two times between the two cities in the past two years since working under the Henry Duffy banner. She was first brought to Hollywood from Portland to play the role of Daisy, then went back to San Francisco in the same role, and thence back to Los Angeles to appear in "The Bad Man."

Preview Throng Lauds Clarence Brown Picture

The Clarence Brown-Greta Garbo combination has another outstanding success to its credit, it is reported, comparable to the four former pictures in which Brown has directed the star. The director and the executives of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios recently took "Inspiration," the fifth Brown-Garbo combination, to San Bernardino to be previewed. The picture registered a tremendous success before a packed house, it is said.

Comments at the end of the showing stated that "Inspiration" exceeded the appeal of any of the former productions the two have made, which include such outstanding successes as "Flesh and the Devil," "A Woman of Affairs," "Anna Christie" and "Romance."

Kernan Cripps Signed to Play at El Capitan

Kernan Cripps, who played the role of the coach in the recent production of "The Poor Nut," has been cast as a ball captain with Joe E. Brown in "Elmer the Great," the Ring Lardner comedy starting at El Capitan Theater Sunday matinee, under Henry Duffy's supervision.

For the past few months Cripps has been kept busy in pictures, having just completed roles in "Little Caesar" and "Fifty Million Frenchmen."

Other members of Joe Brown's supporting cast are Emerson Treacy, Ruth Matteson, Mia Marvin, Jane Darwell, Jean Reno, Ben Taggart, Joseph De Stefani, Edward Cassidy and Mitchell Ingraham.

Philharmonic Orchestra to Play Tonight

The Philharmonic Orchestra, Dr. Artur Rodzinski conducting, will give the fifth symphony pair of concerts of the season at the Philharmonic Auditorium tonight, with Marvine Maazel, Russian pianist, as the soloist.

The program is as follows:

Handel-Harty, Water Music. Schumann, Symphony No. 4 in D minor, Op. 120. Tschaikowsky, Concerto for Piano No. 1 in B flat minor, Op. 23. Marvine Maazel. Weinberger, "Polka and Fugue" from the opera "Schwanda. (The Bagpipe Player.)

Gumbiner Named Manager of New Cinema Theater

Robert Gumbiner, brother of H. L. Gumbiner, owner of the new Los Angeles Theater, will be resident manager of the new cinema palace which will shortly open with Charlie Chaplin in "City Lights."

With his family Gumbiner arrived in the city recently from Chicago, where he was active head of Gumbiner's Theatrical Enterprises, a concern operating a number of theaters in that city.

Other executives and department heads of the playhouse are H. M. Rosenblum, Albert E. Short, director of music and stage entertainment; Sam W. B. Cohn, director of publicity and advertising.

It is anticipated that seats for the world premiere of "City Lights" will be placed on sale within a fortnight at a temporary box office at the theater.

Children to Offer Special Acts on Bill

Among the featured juvenile performers who will appear in a Christmas kiddie revue starting at Pantages Hollywood Theater today, are Gene Taylor, the Ham and Egg Kids, Helen Kent, Phyllis Webb and Freddie Osborn, Betty Orth, Anna Harriett, Bobby Killifer and Ruth Fox.

In addition to the group of featured entertainers, 500 of the Meglin Kiddies will be seen in the ensemble numbers. Slim Martin and the orchestra will provide a special musical score.

"Remote Control" will be the accompanying screen attraction with William Haines in the starring role. He is supported by Polly Moran, Mary Doran, John Miljan and J. C. Nugent.

New Spanish Picture Stars Noted Latin

Carmen Larrabeiti, noted throughout Europe as a talented and beautiful Spanish actress, will be seen at the International California Theater for a week beginning Friday in Paramount's production, "Toda una Vida."

The picture is the Spanish version of "Sarah and Son," in which Ruth Chatterton starred, and it is said that Senorita Larrabeiti's portrayal of the part, while an entirely different interpretation than that of the famed American actress, approaches it in power, in dramatic intensity and emotional strength.

A strong cast of Spanish and Latin American players surround the star in this Paris-produced film.

Air Raid Turns Tyrrell Davis to Stage Career

A bolt from the blue was required to turn to the stage Tyrrell Davis, seen as English Eddie in Joan Crawford's vehicle, "Paid," now at the Criterion Theater.

Born in England, young Davis joined the Royal Flying Corps early in the war. But it was not until he was shot down during an air raid over London that he thought of acting for a living. Since then he has played both abroad and in America. His latest appearances were "Let Us Be Gay" and "Love in the Rough."

With him in the supporting cast of "Paid" are Robert Armstrong, Marie Prevost, George Cooper, Purnell Pratt, Kent Douglass and John Miljan.

CABALLERO VARCONI TO RIDE TODAY

"Captain Thunder" Will Provide Action Aplenty on R.-K.-O. Screen

El Capitan Thunder boasts that his word of honor is as sacred as his love for life. Yet what was he to do when both a pretty girl and a fellow cattle rustler, to whom he had made promises, demand opposite action?

This is the predicament around which is woven the story of "Captain Thunder," opening on the screen today at the R.-K.-O. Theater.

The gay caballero is notorious from one end of the Old Mexican badlands to the other, and is the hero of amorous escapades, as well as a lot of cattle-rustling exploits which occurred. El Capitan, played by Victor Varconi, and another rustler, enacted by Robert Elliott, agree to be friends. The former swears to grant the other any wish he may ask in the future in return for a favor.

Later pretty Ynez saves Thunder's life, and he vows to make good this debt. Her father wants her to marry Morgan, but she loves Juan, a peasant. Morgan asks El Capitan to get the girl for him, and she asks him to assure the wedding with Juan. What is he to do?

Fay Wray plays Ynez, and Don Alvarado is seen as Juan. Others in the cast are Charles Judels, Natalie Moorhead, Bert Roach and Robert Emmett Keane. Alan Crosland directed.

LITTLE THEATER GROUP GIVES PLAY

"Happiness" by Hartley Manners Presented by Theater Mart Productions

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

A new little theater group, with the avowed intention of stimulating interest in the drama through the medium of the "organized" audience, is Theater Arts Productions. Its initial performance of J. Hartley Manners's "Happiness" at the Theater Mart makes a graceful inaugural gesture.

The play is perhaps a trifle obvious in its optmistic effort. There is not quite the inevitability which one senses in the more modern drama, but there is charm and a certain quality which carries appeal. Mr. Manners rather presupposes the life of the average person of wealth to be a dull and meaningless proposition. Certainly this may be true, if the people themselves are dull. However, the average person of wealth is often involved in tremendous activity and a variety of interests and real personalities to charm the weary hours. Still, our playwrights are invariably intrigued with this theme, since it is popular with the hoi polloi. The dull rich folk and the exciting poor ones.

Philip Barry in "Holiday" has smartened this same theme immeasurably, decking it with modern persiflage until one looks twice to discover the same old war horse of a plot peeping forth. Anyhow, it is enlivening fare and Mr. Manners with his penchant for bringing in quaint characters creates a queer lovable little creature in Jenny, who really steals the show and perhaps might be regarded as the reason for the comedy. The characters are drawn with a simple straightforward humanity, and the dialogue is in the main natural, though even with the lively revamping it lags a bit for this vital generation. Of course, there is a moral! In Mr. Manners's day it would have been fatal to have written a play without a moral.

Elias Day has managed splendidly with the direction and the cast was a competent one. Thomas Ryder as Philip Chandos has fine poise and gave distinction to the part. His diction denoted excellent background. Phyllis Hunter has an engaging presence and acted with charming casualness. Ann Miller's drawing of Miss Perkins was overdone and her voice and laughter were too high in pitch. Ilse Ohl was naively natural as Jenny, bringing sympathy and a delectable candor to the impersonation. Charles Booth reflected the quality of the Irish in his impersonation of Fermoy McDonagh. As the mother Margaret Hodge seemed at once pathetic and a creature doomed by fate.

United Artists Star Portrays Notorious Lady

Norma Talmadge, United Artists star, makes the glamorous personality of "Du Barry, Woman of Passion" step alive from the shadows of the past, it is said. The picture begins a run at the Tower Theater today.

NORMA TALMADGE.

The star gives piquancy and charm to the lovely milliner who brought a nation to her feet, and lavished the gold of the country for her whims until the red shadow of revolution swept her to disaster.

Others in the cast are Conrad Nagel, William Farnum and Hobart Bosworth.

News reel and short subjects complete the bill.

PARAMOUNT OFFERS NEW BILL TODAY

A new program opens at the Paramount Theater today. The bill includes a personal appearance, a screen show, a stage revue, overture and organ concert.

Mitzi Green, Paramount child player, heads the entertainment. On the screen will be "Follow the Leader," which stars Ed Wynn.

PLAY FACILITIES MIRROR GROWTH

County Expansion Reflected in Annual Report

Recreational Department Has Tremendous Rise

Increase of Employees 1388 Per Cent Since 1922

Nothing reflects the growth of Los Angeles county so much as the figures of its recreational and playground department which shows an increase of employees during the last eight years of 1388 per cent, according to a report of the County Bureau of Efficiency made public yesterday by Secretary Sam J. Chappel.

According to the report, the department had eight employees on the pay roll at the time of the opening of Big Pines Recreational Camp in the Sierre Madre-San Gabriel Mountains in 1922. Since then the average annual increase of workers for the department has been 53 per cent. At present there are 119 persons employed.

During the same eight-year period the annual expenditures have increased accordingly, the increase being approximately 1897 per cent, the report shows.

The department's expenditures during the fiscal year of 1922-23 was $27,206.26. In the year just closed, 1929-30, they amounted to $543,423, from which, however, must be deducted revenue received by the department amounting to $100,000.

As a result of the building up of the department under the supervision of Fred E. Wadsworth, thousands of residents of the county each year enjoy the public bathing beaches, camps in the mountains and playground areas, considered some of the best in the country.

JOURNEYING SPOUSE DIVORCED BY WIFE

Her husband was a journeyman baker, and how he did journey, Mrs. Helen Marea Cook yesterday testified in obtaining a divorce from Stephen Thomas Cook. "We were married in Denver, Colo., September 3, 1923, and shortly after the birth of our son, Stanley, my husband left," Mrs. Cook testified. "I was forced to support myself and baby. After nine months' absence, my husband returned, but only remained a short time. The next time, he was away eleven months. He returned again August 6, 1927, for nine days. He hasn't been back since, and has refused to support us." Superior Judge Keetch granted her a divorce.

FIRE FOILED IN RESCUES OF WOMEN

Several Near Victims of Flames Carried to Safety by Firemen in Hollywood

Bewildered and partly overcome by smoke pouring through the halls and filtering into apartments, several women were assisted to safety early yesterday at a fire in the combination business block and apartment-house at 6778 Hollywood Boulevard.

The fire stated from an undetermined cause in the rooms of the Handran & McDowell Jewelry Company on the second floor of the four-story brick building. The two upper floors contain apartments, and it was from there the tenants wree led or carried to safety by firemen.

A branch of the Bank of America occupies the ground floor. The building is owned by the Hollywood Improvement Company. Damage is estimated at $10,000.

Two Negroes Sentenced to Prison Terms

Convicted of burglary, robbery and grand theft despite the efforts of his attorney-father, W. H. Broyles, to win his case, Maj. Broyles, colored youth, yesterday was sentenced to San Quentin prison by Superior Judge Schauer.

John Pettigrew, colored, and a codefendant with Broyles, also was sentenced to San Quentin on the same three charges.

The two defendants were convicted of stealing 8,000,000 cigarettes belonging to Ralphs' Groceries after holding up W. H. Greer, a watchman for the Western Warehouse and Transportation Company. The cigarettes were valued at $9000.

Both defendants gave oral notice of appeal.

RECEIVER NAMED FOR ALLEN OIL COMPANY

Harry Daugherty yesterday was appointed by United States District Judge James as receiver in equity for the F. D. Allen Oil Company of Venice. The appointment followed the filing of a petition for receivership by the Oil Well Supply Company of this city. Liabilities were listed as $40,000 and assets as $75,000. The court issued an order to show cause why the receivership should not be made permanent, setting the 29th inst. as the date for a hearing.

PLATFORM HONORS TAKEN BY STUDENT

DUNNING WINS IN CONTEST

University High Orator Scores on "World Amity" and Captures Ephebian Cup for School

Winning over five competitive orators, chosen from twenty-four Los Angeles high schools in preliminary contests on speeches on "World Friendship," Edwin C. Dunning won first prize and, for the second successive year, captured the silver Ephebian cup for University High School. The finals were conducted yesterday at Polytechnic High School.

Prizes, awarded from the Susan M. F. Dorsey Friendship Fund and presented by Mrs. George H. Clark, member of the Board of Education, were as follows: First prize, $25, Edwin C. Dunning; second prize, $20, Sidney Zeagri, Fremont High School; third prize, $15, Jack Stern, Hollywood High School; fourth prize, $15, Guy Nunn, Franklin High School; fifth prize, $10, Leon Rudelson, Belmont High School; sixth prize, $10, Ralph Boynton, George Washington High School.

The money for the prizes was obtained by the sale of books on World Friendship, edited by Miss Evaline Dowling, chairman of the World Friendship Committee.

All of the speakers, who were heard by an audience of more than 1000, dwelt at length on the necessity of the proper kind of education as a means of abolishing war and establishing permanent peace among nations.

Discussing "The New Patriotism," Dunning said that while patriotism, in the past, "signified glorification and idealization of one's own country to the point of infallibility," the new patriotism, sponsored by the pact of Paris, makes the true patriot the citizen whose highest aim is the maintenance of peace and good will among nations.

"Today the traitor is he who, at any time, seeks to foment war," said the speaker.

Declaring that fear and suspicion are the breeders of strife, Dunning said that "we may never hope for military or naval disarmament until the people of the world have disarmed their minds of fear."

"The roots of war are deep in the heart whence only the love of home and the spirit of Christ can dig them out," said Dunning. "If the world-wide Christian church is truly following the Prince of Peace, then it must work and sacrifice for peace. It is a high ideal of Christianity to make the supreme sacrifice for the sake of others, but when that sacrifice involves taking the lives of others, it is entirely incompatible with this spirit."

BUDDY SHOP OFFERS NEW GIFT NOVELTIES

Telephone pads and seat covers fashioned from discarded silk stockings were added yesterday to the assortment of articles of handicraft on sale during the holiday season at the Buddy Shop, 6756 Hollywood Boulevard, conducted by the Post-War Service League for benefit of disabled war veterans. All articles are made by the shut-ins at the National Military Home at Sawtelle. College students are lending support to the shop by donating pennants which provide designs for fancy pillows. Neither commissions nor salaries are paid any of the shop workers.

SINCLAIR LEWIS AWARD DECRIED

all over the Southland began to gather in this city last night for the thirty-seventh annual convention of the California Teachers' Association, southern section, and the continuation for two more days of a general Southern California Institute under the auspices of the association.

PIONEERS PRAISED

The convention began with a general session last night at the Bible Institute Auditorium at which, after a short opening address by Frank A. Henderson, president of the southern section, Dr. Howard R. Driggs of New York University, who is president of the Oregon Trail Association, spoke on "The Westward March of America."

"The West," he said, "is merely the transplanted East, the blended North and South, and since it is the child of all America, in the making of the West, America was made. In this sense the achievements of the sons and daughters of the Revolution who carried America to the West, who added thirty-five stars to the immortal thirteen, exceeded even those of their revolutionary forefathers."

Dr. Driggs urged the teachers to "teach young America the splendid story," and pleaded that they "cease the common practice of feeding young America the husks of history and give them the staff of life."

With the addition of another great army of teachers to the local group from all over the Southland, there will be four general sessions to open today's general institute program. These sessions will be held at Philharmonic, Trinity, the Bible Institute and Polytechnic High School auditoriums, and there will be two speakers at each.

Featuring the day's program will be the annual business meeting of the California Teachers' Association, southern section, at 3:30 p.m. at Trinity Auditorium.

ARNAMA CLUB WILL ENTERTAIN CHILDREN

Following a precedent of last year the Arnama Club, an ex-service men's luncheon organization, at its meeting at the Alexandria tomorrow will entertain the girls of the Maude Booth Home with a Christmas tree and Santa Claus. Elsie Janis, stage and screen star, will act as hostess. There will be a large package of assorted presents on the tree for each child, with ice cream, paper hats, balloons and what-nots on the side. A vaudeville program will consist of children from various dancing and dramatic schools of Los Angeles. The wives of the members of the club will attend the session to help entertain the youngsters.

BELVEDERE STATE BANK TAKEN OVER

Small Institution Said to Have Frozen Assets, So It Acts to Aid Depositors

Frozen assets and inability to command ready cash led to the taking over yesterday by the Superintendent of Banks of the Belvedere State Bank, a small independent institution located just outside of the city limits.

John McFaul, in charge of the Los Angeles office of the Superintendent of Banks, issued a statement in which he said that the commercial deposits of the bank were approximately $198,000 and the savings deposits approximately $154,000.

The bank, he said, is not affiliated or in any way connected with any other banking institution and is not a member of the Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association.

The bank was capitalized at $50,000 and its total resources are said to be $530,237.35.

Officers of the bank asked that the State department take over the bank for the protection and benefit of its depositors. The officers are: President, W. T. Potter; vice-president, D. C. Thomas, and directors, R. M. Ashmun, S. M. Pierson, H. B. Ragan, R. J. Richards, H. H. Townsend, P. C. Turman and P. Westergard.

ORDINANCE PRESENTED

City Engineer Jessup yesterday submitted to the City Council the ordinance establishing the name of Marita Place between Forty-first avenue and Fifty-first avenue.

Oil Worker at Venice Cleared in Bigamy Case

Lund Robbins, Venice oil worker, was not guilty of bigamy when he married a second wife without divorcing the first, Municipal Judge Frederickson decided yesterday in ordering the bigamy charge dismissed.

Robbins was accused of marrying Alice Harriet Robbins of 1018 Echo Park avenue on August 7, last, while still legally married to Virginia Le Pard Robbins, whom he married at Yuma, Ariz., on August 29, 1928. Miss Le Pard, called as a witness by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hunt, testified to the marriage, but said that at the time she had not received her final divorce decree from Frank Frietas, a former husband.

Mrs. Robbins No. 2, whose mother brought the charge, told the court that she has applied for an annulment of her marriage to Robbins, but was informed by Judge Frederickson that she should bring a divorce action, as testimony in the case showed she is legally married to him.

Light Post Case in Judge's Hands

Following arguments late yesterday, Superior Judge Yankwich took under submission G. W. Bond & Son's petition for a writ of mandate to compel City Engineer Hooper of Pasadena to accept, as complete, a $250,000 installation of electric light posts.

The installation was set up on Lake street between Colorado street and Orange Grove avenue. Hooper refused to accept the installation, asserting the posts were insufficient of design and of strength.

COUGAR ELEVEN DUE ON MONDAY

Washington State Starts Trip Tomorrow

Entire Squad Reported to Be in Good Shape

Public Workout May Be Held Friday Afternoon

BY RALPH HUSTON

BABE HOLLINGBERY

With every man on the squad in top shape, Washington State's Cougars will leave Pullman tomorrow and are scheduled to arrive here Monday for their January 1 game with Alabama.

Earl Foster, graduate manager of the northern institution, telephoned Coach Babe Hollinbery yesterday, and received word that Glen Edwards, tackle; Mel Hein, center, both all-Americans, and Chick Hurley, guard, were all in good shape again, and would positively start against the Crimson Tide.

Local alumni of Washington State plan to welcome the Cougars when they arrive at 9:18 Monday morning at Glendale on the Padre. It will be the Cougars' first appearance in the annual Tournament of Roses classic since they inaugurated the event with a 14-0 victory over Brown back in 1916.

Foster discussed with Hollingbery the possibility of staging a public workout, and the latter declared he would probably put on a performance on Friday of next week, admitting local grid fans to a workout. Southern California critics have been anxious for a look at the Pacific Coast Conference champions ever since they trimmed the Trojans, 7 to 6.

Hollingbery announced that he would bring thirty-five gridders here for the contest, but did not say just who they would be. He carried about fifty men during the season for his games in the north.

With all of his squad in shape, Hollingbery is prepared to give the Crimson Tide the hardest game it has encountered locally. In 1926 'Bama nosed out, 20-19, the Washington team that won the Pacific Coast Conference

Freezing weather today hindered practice somewhat, but the men drilled with spirit.

Here we have Babe Hollingbery (left.) who coaches the Washington State team which will meet Alabama in the pending New Year's Day classic at Pasadena. And at the right is Bill Dietz, who coached the Washington State team that appeared in the first of these holiday games. Bill's team, by the way, beat Brown, 14 to 0. That was in 1916. What will Babe's team do to Alabama in 1931? This photo was taken at Pullman, Wash., recently, as Hollingbery and Dietz met on the field where Hollingbery was directing his team's practice. Dietz now coaches the Haskell Indians.

DODD RANKED WITH CARIDEO

Southern Fans Claim Bobby Should Be All-American

BY LEIGHTON EARLY

Any southerner will explain it to you.

FRANK CARIDEO

The only reason that Bobby Dodd of Tennessee, wasn't named as the real all-American quarterback for 1930 is because the gridiron experts who do the picking are all Republicans.

Some of us, of course, are inclined to string along with Frank Carideo, the Notre Dame boy, or even to rate Marshall Duffield ahead of Dodd. But they have a first-class retort for that, away down south on the sun-drenched fields of Dixie.

"Wait and see," in soft, R-less cadences, they will say.

And there isn't long to wait. Mr. Dodd will play quarterback on the West-South All-Stars against the All-Notre Dame on the 27th inst. He will be in the same tussle with Mr. Carideo. If there is anything to choose between an all-American and an Honorable Mention, upward of 60,000 people will be on hand to do the choosing.

It is doubtless more than idle chit-chat if southern football fans maintain that Dodd is a highly competent young feller on the gridiron. The Dixie interpretation of our great American, pardon me, our great Irish game is something to be considered. Washington, California and Stanford feel quite strongly about it. Granted that they didn't feel strongly enough at the time.

Dodd, for the second time in his long and colorful career, was named all-southern quarterback for 1930. What's more, they call him the very best field general since the days of Stonewall Jackson.

And Dodd played on a team that ran second best more than once. He was great even in defeat. If Tennessee had gone through a spotless season and if Tennessee was a member of the same select social circle as, say, Northwestern, it is quite likely that Mr. Dodd's name would lead all the rest, as the poet said of the caliph.

Dodd is the first man in sixty

BERGER JOINS HOLDOUTS

Boston Home-Run Sensation Demands Contract for $12,500 Salary From Braves Next Season

BY BOB RAY

Add to the list of major league holdouts the name of Walter Berger, home-run sensation of the Braves last season, who put Boston back on the baseball map with his Ruthian wallops.

WALTER BERGER

The former Angel outfielder batted out thirty-eight home runs for Bill McKechnie's Braves last season and proved to be the outstanding youngster to break into the majors for many a season. Because Boston hasn't had a home-run socker since Babe Ruth was sold to the Yankees many long years ago, the Back Bay fans came out in droves to see Walloping Walter do his stuff. The result was that the Braves' park was filled for the first time in many years and Judge Emil Fuchs found himself with a money-making club.

Berger last spring was forced by Fuchs to sign for a salary that wasn't much more than he could have made out here with the Angels. And did the good judge, Mr. Fuchs, offer to give Walloping Walter a new contract for more money in the middle of the season or even suggest giving him a bonus at the end of the year for his great work? No, the good judge, Mr. Fuchs, did not and so now Berger is a trifle peeved.

Berger figures, and rightly, so, that he took a trimming from the Braves last season and he doesn't intend to have the same thing happen to him this year. He has proved his worth as a big attraction to the Boston club and will battle to see that he gets paid for drawing the fans through the turnstiles.

The Boston Bambino believes that the Braves should give him a contract for at least $12,500 for next season. Berger might have been easier to satisfy in a salary way had Fuchs showed some monetary appreciation of his work last year. All of which makes it necessary to charge the Braves' owner with an error even before the 1931 campaign gets under way.

Judge Fuchs will probably rant and tear his hair when Berger's salary demands reach him but he certainly must admit Walloping Walter is worth all he can get. For Berger is a

SPEED RECORD PLANS DROPPED

De Paolo, Fengler Abandon Attempt for Present

Preparatory to departure for Detroit last night, Pete De Paolo, former and two-time national A.A.A. race champion, announced that he and Harlan Fengler had abandoned work on a car with which they hoped to break Maj. Seagraves's world's speed mark.

PETER DE PAOLO

De Paolo said he and Fengler had decided upon this course when the date of the speed trials on the Daytona sands in Florida had been advanced to January 5.

"Ordinarily, these trials are held late in February," declared De Paolo. "The time is too short in which to prepare our two-motored mount, and our plans being only in the preparatory stages we will postpone action until next fall."

De Paolo said he was leaving for Detroit to engage in sales promotion work for the Chrysler factory, particularly during the national automobile show at New York shortly after the first of the year.

De Paolo and Fengler had planned a car with motors fore and aft, capable of developing 250 miles per hour. Maj. Seagraves's record is slightly over 231 miles per hour.

A nephew of Ralph De Palma, veteran race driver, De Paolo was national champion in 1925 and 1927.

NORTH DAKOTA TO HEAD HERE

Nodaks Leave Tomorrow for Game With Firemen

Coach Jack West and thirty-two North Dakota football warriors leave Grand Forks tomorrow morning for the Southland. The Nodaks are scheduled to battle the Los Angeles Firemen at the Coliseum Christmas Day. They arrive here Monday morning.

LES GRIMES

With the announcement from North Dakota that the Flying Flickertails were ready to make the journey westward came another from the Fire Department camp that Capt. Les Grimes was not likely to be able to start in the game.

If Grimes is lost to the team, Fremont or Sumner will fill in the signal-calling berth. The Fireman worked far into the evening on offensive plays for the game.

According to present plans, the Nodaks will work out at the Coliseum three or four times before the game.

Advance copy from North Dakota indicates that the invaders have a great football star in Glen Red Jarrett. He made a big hit with eastern writers in the Army game and was even picked as all-American by Right Wing.

The North Dakota team has a fine passing attack, too, their advance man states. Curt Schave and Lloyd Richmond are said to be bullet-like passers.

Blewett is not without a good passing attack himself. He has Jimmy Dyer as a tosser of the pigskin. Blewett claims he will match Dyer with the best in the game at throwing passes. Royce Wheeler and Herdina, ends, have snagged a good many of his throws for long gains and touchdowns this season for the Firemen.

More than 22,000 seats have been sold to date for the game, E. O. Barnett announced.

BRAVES LINE UP GAMES

BOSTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Boston Braves will play twenty-four exhibition games, all with major league clubs, during next spring's training trip, it was announced today by President Emil Fuchs. He said the club again would train at St. Petersburg, Fla.

YOU, TOO, CAN BE REAL ALL-AMERICAN SELECTOR

Is Carideo an all-American? Is Duffield? Is Dodd? Is your Aunt Minnie? Well, yes and no. Then again, maybe not. Or possibly, yes. It all depends on your point of view, your situation, your position, and your indigestion. What about Fesler, Baker, Arbelbide, Dalrymple and Mulhaupt? I'll inquire, what about them? Are they all-Americans? Then so, to quote J. Pidge, is your ancient paternal progenitor? What is an all-American? Walter Camp knew, Grantland Rice knows, Arthur Brisbane can guess, and so can Al Smith. But do you know? If not, read Sunday's Times Scan the REAL, and only AUTHENTIC all-American. It picks 'em for you, and tells you how and why its done. The all-American all-American in The Times sports edition, Sunday.

CAN THE COUGARS DEFEAT ALABAMA'S CRIMSON TIDE?

What chance have the Cougars of Washington State College to win from Alabama, when the two teams tangle in the Rose Bowl classic January 1? Babe Hollingberry's boys beat Southern California, California, Washington, Villanova and others. But can they stick their fingers in the dike, and stem the Crimson Tide? Listen in on KHJ tonight at 9:30, and here what some veterans have to say about it. Johnny Mack Brown, hero of Alabama's 20-19 victory over Washington in the Bowl several years ago, will give you the Southerner's angle. Ray Loomis, who played on the Cougar eleven that defeated Brown, in the first Rose Bowl game in 1916 will tell you about Washington State's side of the question. Paul Lowry, sports editor of The Times will interview the two rivals; also Earl Foster, Washington State graduate manager.

GEORGIA HEAVY NOW IN FISTIC DRIVER'S SEAT

Champion Offered $500,000 to Box Ma's Boy in Chicago Next Spring; New York Wants Jack Sharkey

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—Young William Stribling voted right out of the picture by the New York State Athletic Commission today, jumped into the driver's seat in the race for another heavyweight title battle, as the boys got together and talked recklessly of huge chunks of money.

MAX SCHMELING

An offer of $500,000 to Max Schmeling, for a title duel with Stribling in Chicago next spring completely scrambled the situation created yesterday by the commission's ultimatum to the German that he must accept within fifteen days a return match here with Jack Sharkey. Schmeling defeated Sharkey on a foul for the championship last June.

Out of the muddle of talk, ultimatums and offers, came only the conclusion there must be compromises all around before anyone fights anyone else for any title anywhere.

The bid of $500,000, first since the golden days of Tex Rickard which the fight game had come to believe were gone forever, was received by Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's new manager, from Nate Lewis, matchmaker of the Chicago Stadium. Lewis brought his offer to New York, backed by telegraphic confirmation from Sidney N. Strotz, president of the Stadium Corporation.

Lewis would stage the Stribling-Schmeling show next June in Soldier Field, Chicago, where the seating capacity is well over 100,000. He believes the gate receipts, with a $12 "top," would run well over $1,000,000. It was at Soldier Field in 1927 the late Tex Rickard staged the greatest of all fight attractions, the second Tunney-Dempsey fight that drew almost $3,000,000.

Jacobs took the matter under advisement pending settlement of several puzzling problems. Schmeling, still in Germany, is bound by contract to the Hearst Milk Fund committee for a title defense here in June. No one but the New York State Athletic Commission apparently, wants that match to be staged between Schmeling and Sharkey without some sort of preliminary tournament to stir up interest and once again prove the Boston sailor's fighting qualities.

BIG BILL MAY PERFORM HERE

Tilden Possible Competitor in Midwinter Event

BILL TILDEN

Possibility that Bill Tilden will compete in the first annual Southern California midwinter tennis championship tournament was expressed here yesterday by officials of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who are sponsoring the event. The tournament is to be run off next week on the courts of the Palomar Tennis Club.

"Big Bill," who held the world's net crown for a number of years, is reported to be in New York at present, but officials are hoping that he will rush to the Coast in time for the first day of the senior evets, which begin the day after Christmas. By the looks of the field so far Tilden would receive plenty of opposition from a contingent made up of California's best stars, headed by Sydney Wood, Ellsworth Vines, Keith Gledhill, Stanley Robinson of Stanford, Elbert Lewis of U.C.L.A., Dolph Muelheisen, Ted Easton and others. Two other Stanford stars may come south if Harry Plymire and Chuck Weisner decide to enter.

Play in the junior events of the tourney will be equally as close as in the senior events. The junior part of the tournament—junior boys' and girls' singles and boys' singles 15 years and under—will start Monday, the 22nd inst., with the semi-finals being played on Wednesday, the 24th inst. Finals will be held Sunday, the 28th inst.

Outstanding among the entrants in the junior events are Jay Cohn, two times national boys' singles champion; Frankie Parker, national boys' indoor and outdoor doubles titlist and western boys' singles crown holder; Billy Doeg, Pacific-

Bruins Arrange Seven Grid Games for Next Season

LOCALS AFTER TULANE CLASH

Oxy Will Open Schedule September 25

Westwooders and Old Foes Resume Relations

U.C.L.A. to Journey East for Purple Tilt

U.C.L.A. will play three Pacific Coast Conference opponents and four nonconference teams next year in football, according to the schedule announced yesterday by Steve Cunningham, graduate manager of the Bruin university. An intersectional game, possibly with Tulane or Florida to be played in the Los Angeles Coliseum on Thanksgiving Day, may be added within the next few days.

The 1931 season will see the Bruins resuming football relations with an old rival from the Southern California Conference, Occidental College. The game will probably open the season, being scheduled for the night of September 25, in the Coliseum, the night before the Southern California-St. Mary's game. The Bruins last met the Tigers in 1927, the last year U.C.L.A. was in the Southern California Conference, and for seven years previous the two schools met annually. Occidental won the first five years, but the Bruins, under Coach Bill Spaulding, won in 1925, 1926 and 1927.

On October 3, the Bruins play Washington State College on the Cougars' field at Pullman. Two years ago last fall, U. C. L. A. lost to the Cougars, 35 to 6, at Pullman in the first game between the two schools. October 10 is an open date so far, and the following week will see Spaulding and his men journeying eastward for an intersectional game with Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill. The annual game with Pomona is scheduled for October 24 at an undefined location.

The Bruins play Stanford at Palo Alto on October 31, and then take a week's rest before meeting St. Mary's in the Coliseum on November 14. Oregon and U.C.L.A. tangle in their fourth game in the Coliseum on November 21. November 26, Thanksgiving Day, and November 28 are as yet open.

ELLSWORTH BARES TIGER SCHEDULE

The Occidental College football schedule for the 1931 season, which has just been released by Phil Ellsworth, graduate manager at Oxy, includes games with the Loyola College eleven and U.C.L.A. The Tigers have not played U.C.L.A. since 1927 when the Bruins withdrew from the Southern California Conference. Oxy and U.C.L.A. will tangle in the season opener under the Coliseum arc lights, and promise to draw a great deal of interest.

The Loyola-Oxy tilt resumes relations between these two teams which have not met since the 7-7 tie game between them in 1926. It should settle a long-standing dispute as to the supremacy of these local grid aggregations. Coach Eddie Kienholz has one long jaunt on tap for the season, going to Albuquerque to meet the University of New Mexico in a return game. Oxy defeated New Mexico, 27-0, at the Rose Bowl in 1929.

The 1930 Varsity schedule:

Sept. 25—University of California (night game,) at Los Angeles Coliseum.

Oct. 2—Redlands (night game,) at Rose Bowl.

Oct. 9—San Diego (night game,) at Rose Bowl.

Oct. 16—Caltech (night game,) at Rose Bowl.

Oct. 24—University of New Mexico at Albuquerque.

Oct. 31—Loyola at Coliseum.

Nov. 11—Whittier at Whittier.

Nov. 21—Pomona at Pomona.

The Oxy Freshman schedule:

Oct. 9—San Diego at Occidental.

Oct. 16—Caltech at Occidental.

Nov. 21—Pomona at Pomona.

SOCCER ALL-STARS WILL BE SELECTED

Eleven all-star soccer players will be selected by the Los Angeles City League from a list of forty-four players who will perform Christmas Day at Loyola Field. The eleven selected will be sent to San Francisco next month to represent Los Angeles in an all-star program. Sunday afternoon at Loyola Field the local league is sending Hollywood against the Pasadena A.C.C. eleven and the Scots against the Victorias. The Hollywooders and Pasadena eleven take the field at 3 p.m. The other game is scheduled for 1 p.m.

THE NATIONAL CHAMPION

GREAT news! We'll soon know the identity of the national football champion.

The 264 jurors who determine the Albert Russel Erskine Award have cast their votes, each one naming three selections, and the leaders are Notre Dame, Southern California and Alabama.

It looks like a bedtime game to ballot further, but according to Mr. Erskine's rules the three leaders must be submitted to the jury for a final ballot.

The jury, by the way, comprises sports editors all over this broad land of ours, and their preliminary ballot shows Notre Dame so far in the lead that it's a joke.

Here's the way the sixteen teams named in the voting stacked up, first place counting 5 points, second place, 3 and third, 1 point.

	1st Place	2nd Place	3rd Place	Total
Notre Dame	200	25	2	1,077
Southern California	14	75	41	336

SHORT-TIME MAT CHAMPS

WILL Don George be another of those short-lived wrestling champions, or is he destined for a long rule?

Some of the wrestling experts say the good-looking ex-college boy from Michigan will keep the crown for years.

That he knows more of mat science and technique than any champion of recent years with the exception of Strangler Lewis and Joe Stecher.

The current short-time record is held by Stanislaus Zbyszko.

He won the crown from Wayne Munn April 15, 1925, and lost it six weeks later to Joe Stecher, May 30, 1925.

But many years ago Jim Owens beat this record by about a week.

He captured the championship from James McLaughlin, December 28, 1876, and lost it to Bill Muldoon February 6, 1877.

Yes, Muldoon is one of New York's present fight commissioners.

And the man who upset Muldoon three years later was Ernest Roeber, now a wrestling referee in New York.

Munn's tenure of the heavyweight office was also brief, but it doesn't compare with Zbyszko's or Owens's. Munn kept the title slightly over three months.

Earlier in his career Zbyszko held the championship for a longer period, so his quick downfall when he was an old man isn't a blight on his marvelous career on the mat.

A NEW ZEALAND CHEER

COL. EARL STEWART of New Zealand gave some remarkably fine testimony about boxing conditions in his country to the Governor's board of inquiry here last week.

He explained how, under the New Zealand system, it was so easy to prevent conditions that harass the sport in this State.

How the boxers have no managers. How boxing has been made a national sport in schools and colleges through an interlocking system. How amateurs fight on a program which is topped off by a professional bout. How the pro fighters are used as instructors for the kids.

And Col. Stewart, whose mission here included one of investigation, wrote into the records a fine testimonial for Jack Doyle's pavilion of punch.

For the steel strands, the sliding seats, the disappearing buckets and the ventilating system by which Brother Tom Doyle achieved fame in accomplishing something the engineers said was impossible.

"Best equipped and best conducted arena I ever saw," said Col. Stewart.

THE SCHMELING CASE

MAX SCHMELING has been given fifteen days by the New York Commission to accept Jack Sharkey's challenge or stand suspended.

After the great spectacle of Schmeling winning the heavyweight championship on a foul if he never fights again it will be too soon.

In two years' time Schmeling has fought just four rounds. Clearly, he has all the attributes of a champion.

LONDOS NABS BOUT

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 17. (AP)—Jimmy Londos, one of the heavyweight wrestling title claimants, defeated Milo Steinborn, the German strong man, in the feature event of a charity wrestling show here tonight. Dick Daviscourt, Los Angeles, threw Jack Washburn, fellow-Californian, in 13m. and 30s.

ALL-STARS TO TAKE TRIP

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—An all-star college baseball team, selected by sports writers and university coaches, is scheduled to play two games in Havana and possibly one in the Canal Zone, stopping places on a cruise the team will take through the West Indies beginning Saturday.

DODD RANKED WITH CARIDEO

years to create a rift in the solid South. Two opposing camps are in a feud over him. Some say his greatness lies in his ability to hit any given spot on a zebra at fifty yards with a forward pass. On the other hand, when he runs with the ball the other side maintains that he hasn't got any legs at all, but just two strips of India rubber.

Out of the general feud you gather that Dodd kicks well, passes perfectly, and that it's his own business when he runs with the ball. In all the history of southern football there has never been a backfield man who caused such comment or generated so much observation as Bobby Dodd.

Dodd will play quarterback on the West-South eleven. He will be in violent opposition to Frank Carideo, the hot shot from Notre Dame. As a field general, a passer and a runner he is supposed to be the equal of the South Bend Irishman. Wait and see.

Tickets for the battle are reported selling rapidly. The Elks' Lodge, No. 99, is sponsoring the game and has placed the ducats, valued at $1.50 and $2, at the downtown office of B. H. Dyas.

WORKMAN QUITS AS IOWA STATE COACH

AMES (Iowa) Dec. 17. (AP)—Noel Workman, head coach of football at Iowa State College, whose team closed its 1930 season the 6th inst., with the loss of its sixteenth consecutive game, resigned today. He had been head coach for five years, during the last two seasons of which Iowa State won only one game.

MAROON CAPTAIN GIVEN NEW HONOR

CHICAGO, Dec. 17. (AP)—Errett Van Nice, nonplaying captain of the 1930 University of Chicago football team, has been honored by election to senior class president. Van Nice, a halfback, was hurt in an early game and stayed on the bench all fall. His home is in Chicago.

Three Squads Are Due Here for Grid Tilts

Three invading football teams are to arrive in Los Angeles on Monday and Tuesday of next week. The Rockne All-Stars, who will play a charity game in the Coliseum the 27th inst., get here Monday, as do the Washington State Cougars, who meet Alabama in the Rose Bowl on January 1, next. The Alabama team arrives here the following day. Rockne is bringing thirty-five athletes on the Golden State limited, arriving at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning. The Cougars, traveling on the Padre, will detrain at Glendale at 9:18. Alabama is scheduled to arrive at Alhambra on a special Southern Pacific train at 4:45 Tuesday.

GEORGIA STAR MAY GET BOUT

Neither he nor Schmeling has fought since their dismal failure last June and boxing authorities believe unanimously the faithful would stay away from the return struggle in surprising numbers unless interest somehow was revived.

Madison Square Garden wants to stage a match in Miami, Fla., in February between Stribling and Primo Carnera, the Italian whale, but will compromise with the commission and eliminate Carnera, in bad repute here, and substitute Victorio Campolo as the southerner's opponent. In return the Garden would like the commission to sanction a tournament in which the Stribling-Campolo winner would meet Sharkey here in April for the right to face Schmeling. The commission so far has insisted, however, that Schmeling fight Sharkey and none other.

Unless the commission agrees to some compromise, it seems likely the milk fund will join with Lewis in promoting a Stribling-Schmeling bout in Chicago. Lewis already has offered to share 50 per cent of the profits with the New York milk fund and some Chicago charity.

STRIBLING TAKES PUNCH AT GOTHAM BOARD

ATLANTA (Ga.) Dec. 17. (AP)—W. L. (Young) Stribling, Georgia heavyweight, today took a verbal punch at the New York Boxing Commission when notified it had re-established Jack Sharkey as the leading American contender for the championship.

"It is just like 'em," said Stribling, "the New York commission and the National Boxing Association, with headquarters at Chicago, never seem to agree on anything, anyhow."

The N.B.A., through its president, John V. Clinin, accepted Stribling as the United States outstanding heavyweight after he defeated Tuffy Griffiths. Stribling was here for treatment of slight injuries suffered in the Griffiths fight. He flew to his Macon home today.

YOUNG STRIBLING TO ASK "PA"

MACON (Ga.) Dec. 17. (AP)—W. L. (Young) Stribling thinks an offer of $500,000 to Max Schmeling to meet the Georgian in a title bout is "mighty nice" but admits he didn't know "there was that much money in Chicago" for fighters.

Stribling said he would "see what 'Pa' thinks about it."

The Georgia puncher flew his plane here from Atlanta today and said he felt better after further treatment for a dislocated vertebrae but still had "a pain in the neck."

sensational fielder as well as a home-run hitter. Walter is still a young fellow, under the 25-year-old mark, and has many good years of major league baseball in his system.

If Fuchs doesn't want to pay the money Berger wants, there are several other major league clubs that do. John McGraw, for one, would like to get Berger for the Giants. He made the Braves two offers for Berger during the last season, but Fuchs, who says he is going to build a winning club for Boston, turned him down on both occasions.

Berger, who lives in Los Angeles, is spending the winter out here playing for Fred Haney's Kelly Kars in the Winter League.

yesterday and started six former reserves against a second team on which played most of the regulars. John Tucker scored two touchdowns against the reserves.

Wade's strategy in revamping his varsity injected new life into the squad. Alabama is fortunate in having powerful reserve strength, and men who heretofore have been known as reserves are fighting hard to keep varsity positions assigned them.

In today's scrimmage the reserves, using Washington State plays, failed to gain against Wade's first team. Five reserves remained on varsity positions. Sharpe was at center in place of Eberdt, Smith at end for Elmore, and Tucker and Hugh Miller in backfield for Campbell and McWright.

Sington, all-American tackle, was shifted to guard and Godfrey, reserve tackle, went into the line-up as a regular. Blocking, tackling and kicking featured today's workout.

LITTLE BOXERS TOP RING CARD

Bantams Featured at Legion Tomorrow Night

Hollywood fight fans should get plenty of action at the American Legion boxing show tomorrow night. Four of the bouts on the card will feature bantamweights and the little fellows rarely fail to give the patrons a good run for their money. Claude Varner and Sid Torres, main eventers, are all ready for the battle. Varner is a favorite and he should win as his heavy body punching will probably ruin the Filipino before the tenth round rolls around.

Two more bantamweights will be seen in the semi-wind-up. Young Sport and Jimmy Mack are about the best-matched pair on the card. There is little to choose between them. Mack may be a favorite by the time the boys enter the ring.

Willie Rooney will second his latest protege, Augie Curtis, in the special. Curtis figures to beat Pepi Sanchez to the decision. Rooney is trying to make a champion out of Curtis like he did in the case of Jackie Fields.

The four-rounders will be Joe Soldivar and Marcelino Lomelli, lightweights, in the second spot and Kid Lloyd and Midget Wiswell in the curtain-raiser.

championship, and in 1927 the Tide tied, 7-7, a powerful Stanford organization, but Hollingbery and many other Pacific Coast gridiron experts believe that the present Washington State team is better than either of these elevens.

Fans who attend the contest—and Mr. Foster insists there will be 86,416 of them, which is the capacity of the enlarged bowl—will see a battle of tackles. Both squads boast all-Americans in that particular position. Alabama has Fred Sington, who is practically a unanimous choice, and the Cougars have Glen Edwards.

The two Cougar tackles—Edwards and Ahlskog—have been largely responsible for the success of the Washington State outfit this season. Grid coaches agree that the success of a grid team is largely dependent upon the tackles. Hollingbery has been drilling his athletes on defense against Alabama plays, as scouted by Buck Bailey and is depending on Ahlskog and Edwards to do a lot of efficient defending.

Snow and bad weather have hampered the Cougars in their northern workouts, Hollingbery said, and the gridders are anxious to arrive here and start intensive work for the big game. Alabama is scheduled to arrive on a special Southern Pacific train next Tuesday, after a sightseeing trip to the Grand Canyon.

SHIFTS MADE IN COUGAR LINE-UP

PULLMAN (Wash.) Dec. 17. (AP)—The possibility new Cougar faces will dot the Washington State line-up against Alabama at Pasadena New Year's Day was given some credence here today.

For two days Coach O. E. Hollingbery has been toying with a bunch of reserves, and two of them have held their positions satisfactorily. They are Morgan, at center, and Wallulis, a sophomore, at tackle. They have been particularly effective against the series of plays introduced here as what Wallace Wade and his Alabamans might use.

Hollingbery said he was "highly might crowd big Glenn Edwards, Washington State's only all-American, off the starting line-up. Edwards has been bothered with an injured hip.

Both last night and tonight seventy-five minutes of tough scrimmaging was on the bill. A team of "regulars" faced a proxy "Alabama" outfit in what was to all practical purpose a real football game.

Hollingbery sai dhe was "highly pleased" with the offensive work of this team: Morgan, center; Mitchell and Senn, guards; Jackson and Goodwin, tackles; Dahlen, quarter; Maskell and John Hurley, ends; Davis and Sander, halfbacks, and Johnson, fullback. Later Porter Lainhart replaced Davis at half.

Southwest junior champ; Gene Mako, Southern California boys' and scholastic champion; Leonard Patterson, Beverly Hills T.C. junior winner, and Jack Knemeyer, Los Angeles city boys' titlist.

In the girls' event Dorothy Workman, Pacific-Southwest girls' champion; Carolyn Babcock, Beverly Hills T.C. girls' titlist; Ruby Bishop, Pasadena star; May Doeg, winner of the girls 15-years-and-under title in the Beverly Hills tournament, and Dorothy Bundy, runner-up to Miss Doeg, stand out as the favorite contenders.

Entries in all seven events—men's singles and doubles, women's singles, mixed doubles, junior boys' and girls' singles, and boys' singles 15-years-and-under—will close this Saturday night, according to Bill Ackerman of the Palomar Tennis Club. They may be made either with Ackerman or with Dick Charnock at A. G. Spalding and Brothers. The tourney is sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis Association and the Southern California Tennis Association, and is sponsored by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce.

GRIP OF THE GRIDIRON

To me there's sadness in the cheers—
But it's a sadness that inspires—
When youth gods crashing through the lines,
Usurping fame which was their sires!

Some records fall and some remain,
But youth forever claims its cheers.
Proud fathers watching, fur incased,
Go back to other fighting years.

The pulsing air reverberates
As fortune fluctuates the strife
While those at manhood's door indulge
The golden playtime of their life.

Youth laurels youth with ringing cheers;
Each father who has heard the same
Which his own father heard before,
Deep in his heart, cheers for the game.

HARCOURT STRANGE.

The Nebraska Entry

MAX BAER, the latest arrival among the heavyweights, comes from the same general sector that gave Jack Dempsey to the game. Dempsey's eastern debut wasn't so snappy, but his second assault was different. If Baer is only part of another Dempsey he should have a common canter to the top. An aggressive fighter who can punch would turn the crowds inside out. Baer is aggressive and he can also punch, but there is still the matter of experience, an ingredient in which he is well behind Ernie Schaaf. Still, a heavyweight who is even trying to hit would be something to look at.

Stribling and Sharkey

Max Schmeling has been ordered to accept Jack Sharkey's challenge by the New York State Boxing Commission. He will probably pay little attention to this foreign edict. Especially if he figures he can draw more money with Stribling or some one else.

Another Sharkey-Stribling fight might be as bad as the first, but there seems to be no other way to pick the top challenger. Sharkey at least should be made to prove that he is still the best one around.

Ball Under the Jersey

Pop Warner says the old "hidden ball under the jersey" play was first used by Cornell against Penn State in 1896, when Pop was coaching Cornell, but he is mistaken. It was first used by Heisman and Auburn against Vanderbilt in 1895 at Nashville. Vanderbilt had scored a touchdown earlier. Auburn had the ball and Reynolds (Tick) Tichenor of Auburn, an all-southern quarterback, who weighed 118 pounds, called an end run. He fell forward at the time as if hurt. He had stuffed the ball under a loose sweater and as both teams swept to the left, Tichenor got up and ran 50 yards to a touchdown. Heisman used the play later against Georgia when Warner was coaching at Georgia. That's how the "ball under the jersey" play later came to Cornell. It was a Heisman invention, but Pop later used variations of the same play against Penn State and Harvard.

The High Average

Various letters have drifted in from various observers nominating at least six men on the Notre Dame team "for anybody's all-America." They overlook the fact that Notre Dame was more of a team than a bunch of fairly good men banked around one or two stars. Conley was just about as good an end as there was anywhere. Culver was just about as good a tackle. Metzger was one of the season's star guards, possibly the best offensive guard in the country. Carideo was one of the best quarterbacks of a decade and Schwartz and Brill were two of the best backs of the year, two of the outstanding backs.

But it was the high average of play that counted. In naming any group of men from Notre Dame it would be hard to explain the fifty-six minutes or the fifty-four minutes needed to score against Northwestern and the Army. The playing margin between Notre Dame and Northwestern was extremely close, much closer than the score shows. The scoring margin between Notre Dame and Army was 1 point.

To say that Notre Dame had most of the stars, directed by a Carideo, and had only this slight margin in the two games mentioned would be no great boost for Notre Dame's coaching system, which happens to need no defense. It was a high average of many things that made Notre Dame, not a few outstanding stars.

CHECKERS WILL MAKE DEBUT HERE TONIGHT

Manager Tom Carrigan will lead his Los Angeles Millionaires against the Oakland Checkers tonight at the Winter Garden Ice Palace. Women will be admitted free.

The Millionaires will be making their third home stand tonight. They have already defeated the Oakland Sheiks and tied the San Francisco Tigers. A victory over the Checkers would make them cofavorites with the Sheiks for the league championship.

It will be the first appearance of the Checkers here this season. Kenneth Dyer has Birge Irving, former Los Angeles defense star, managing the team. There are several other former Los Angeles players in the line-up, including Bill Vaughn, goalie, and Chic Bond and Frank Nichols, forwards.

Irving will introduce three new faces, Cese Daley, Bill Goodman and Syl Hurlubise. The former is a defense man, with the latter two playing forward positions. The remainder of the line-up consists of Kenny Norne, forward on last year's Sheik outfit, and Ralph Ellis, who performed for Lloyd Cook's San Franciscisco Tigers.

DRURY WILL PLAY WITH MAPLE LEAFS

Ice hockey fans will get a glimpse of a member of the athletic Drury generation tonight at the Palais De Glace when Al Drury, cousin of Morley of Trojan football fame, makes his appearance in the forward line of the Maple Leafs against the Hollywood Monarchs. The contest is a Southern California Senior League game.

There are three well-known hockey players among the Drurys. Morley handles a fast stick while a relation, Herbert, is a big leaguer at the puck-chasing sport.

Al is hailed as a bullet shot and is expected to be an important cog in the Maple attack. The sharpshooters of the team thus far this season have been Bill Chapman and the giant Ralph Weaver.

As an added attraction tonight, two teams of U.C.L.A. will clash between periods. The idea of the contest will be to select a representative line-up to send to Yosemite Valley.

The game, starting at 8:30, will be referred by Bill Phipps.

MORSE REFUSES TO SELL RING CONTRACT

The contract on Bobby Pacho, Mexican featherweight, who boxes Bobbie Ramirez at the Main-street Club Saturday night, is not for sale. Bert Morse, the youngster's manager, refused an attractive offer for the transfer of the boxer's contract yesterday. Morse has brought the youngster along for several months and he is now on the verge of breaking into the big time.

Joe Bitto, clown light-heavyweight, meets Tony Cardena, in the second half of the double main event. There are two other sixes on the card, Ad Cadena meeting Homer Gaines at 133 pounds, and Louis Ramos taking on Bartola Magino at 130 pounds. Manuel Davila and Sailor Nebres will raise the curtain in a four-rounder.

POMONA FROSH FIVE DEFEATED BY ONTARIO

In their first practice game of the year, the Pomona frosh cagers dropped a close 30-27 decision to the Ontario Y.M.C.A. last night at the Sagehen gym. Going into the last quarter, the Pomona babes were leading, 24-13, but the Ontario squad rallied, tied the score with two minutes to play and then proceeded to chalk up a victory. Hopkins of the Y.M.C.A. and Hargraves of the frosh tied for high-point honors with 8 digits apiece.

COVINA FIVE WINS

Coach Butter Gorrel's Covina Colts upset the highly touted San Bernardino basketball quintet last night in the Colts' gym, 27-14. Capt. Griffin at forward led the Colts' scoring with fourteen points. Happy Rauschenbach was next in line for Covina, chalking up six digits.

Greenleaf in Billiards Win

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—Ralph Greenleaf remained in the running for the world's pocket billiards championship tonight as he overwhelmed Onofrio Lauri of New York, 125 to 21, in twenty-four innings of his semifinal match. Greenleaf, the defending champion, now can repeat last year's feat of tying Erwin Rudolph of Chicago and forcing a play-off for the title by winning tomorrow's final match.

The standing:

Erwin Rudolph	6	0	67
Ralph Greenleaf	5	1	104
Onofrio Lauri	4	3	51

Twin Baseball Card Sunday

The Commercial Club and the Royal Giants will engage in a double-header Sunday afternoon at Wrigley Field, it was announced yesterday. The Giants have won their last nine games and are out to make it eleven straight victories Sunday.

With the Giants playing a great brand of ball, there is no reason to believe why they won't annex both battles Sunday. The first game will be called at 1:30.

COURTNEY WINS ON FOUL OVER RANKINS

George Courtney won on a foul over Oscar Rankins in the third round of the main event at the Wilmington Bowl last night. Sailor Maxwell scored a four-round technical knockout over Bud Baker in the semi-wind-up. Pete Cadena and Georgia Hanford battled to a six-round draw in the special event. Don Conn outpointed Mickey McLoughlin over four rounds. Melvin Bobo and Chick Peralto slugged to a draw, while Ted Goedders beat Gordon McNulty in the opener.

BASKETBALL RESULTS

University of Pittsburgh, 24; Marquette University, 18.

Chicago Bruins, 17; Toledo Redmen, 9.

Wichita Henry's, 61; Brigham Young University, 29.

MERCURY FIVE FACES BRUINS

Strong Basketball Outfits Clash Saturday Night

"Rags" Wilcox and his gang of Los Angeles Athletic Club sharpshooters will be set for their toughest basketball game of the early season when they meet the Bruins from the University of California at Los Angeles Saturday night at the Olympic Auditorium.

Saturday's game should result in one of the best basketball affairs of the entire season in Los Angeles. In early games the two teams have proven to be the strongest in Southern California. Both teams have their individual stars. Charley Hyatt, the elusive Mercury forward, should wage quite a brilliant individual battle with Dick Linthicum, the all-Pacific Coast forward, who is starring for the Bruins this season. In addition to Linthicum and Hyatt the teams have other stars, who are sure to cage their share of buckets if the former pair are held in check. Wilcox and Pickell, who round out the Mercury attack line with Hyatt, are both fine shots. Frank Smith and "Nip" McHose, reserve forwards, can be inserted as better than ordinary substitutes. Carl Knowles and Dick Von Hagan are other Bruin offensive stars.

Carl Shy, star L.A.A.C. guard, will be pitted against his former teammates, as Carl formerly held down a berth with Caddy Works's outfit. Shy and Rex Reason will start for the clubmen. Reason, a former Michigan ace, has regained his form of a few years ago and is a deadly shot as well as a good defensive player.

All-Star Teams to Play in East

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP) — The first big football game ever staged in New York as late as the last week in December is scheduled for Sunday, the 28th inst., when all-star teams of college players representing the North and South will play for charity at Ebbets Field.

Fearless in the face of Weather Bureau figures that it has sometimes been as cold as 8 deg. above zero here on the 28th inst., representatives of the New York chapter of the Knights of Columbus today announced the game was definitely on. Efforts were being made, however, to take out insurance against unduly cold weather.

Bobby Dodd, lanky all-southern quarterback from the University of Tennessee, will head the South's forces, it was stated. Others whose participation is reported assured are Hackman, Tennessee, and Bethea, Florida, backs; Thayer, Tennessee; Bodenger, Tulane, and Forquer and Rose, Kentucky, all guards, and Holland, Tulane, end.

The northern players named so far are Hansen, Temple; French, Penn State; Antos, Boston College, and Karcis, Carnegie Tech, all backs; Flanagan, Carnegie, end; Obst, Syracuse, guard, and Foley and Wisniewski, of Fordham, tackle and guard, respectively; and Dornoff, a tackle from Marquette University, Milwaukee.

"Stumpy" Thomason, former Georgia Tech star, is to organize and coach the southern team and Jack McBride, Syracuse fullback of six years ago, will take charge of the northern all-stars.

College Puck Loop Formed

An intercollegiate ice hockey league, composed of U.C.L.A., the University of Southern California and Loyola University, has been formed for the 1931 puck season, it was announced yesterday. A schedule of games will be drawn up in the near future to be played during February and March, probably on the Winter Garden Ice Palace rink.

Tom Lieb, head football coach at Loyola, will coach the Lion pucksters this season. Dr. Grover Hartley is the Trojan ice hockey mentor, while Harvey Tafe instructs the U.C.L.A. hockey candidates with the assistance of Col. Ernest Bain, assistant line coach of the Bruin football team and former stellar lineman at West Point.

U.C.L.A. will send six men, constituting the first-string ice hockey team, to the annual Winter Sports Carnival held at the Yosemite National Park on January 1, 2 and 3. The sextet will play in the ice hockey tournament and also in the individual skating events. Last year the Bruins won the skating events. The six are Clarence Scott, center; Don Clow, right forward; Halstead, left forward; Al Pearson, right defense; Harleigh Kyson, left defense, and Leonard Bergdahl, star Bruin quarterback, goalie.

Rovers Face Bucs Sunday

Will Rogers's Rovers will again clash with Lionel Pedley's Buccaneers on the Uplifters' polo field Sunday afternoon. In their last meeting the Bucs soundly trounced the Rovers, but the latter team is being strengthened for the ensuing battle and should even the count. Reggie Weiss, star of last week's game, will probably appear in the line-up of the Rovers. Both Will Rogers and his son, Will, Jr., are expected to participate in the match.

Although several of the Uplifters players are not available this week, Snowy Baker being injured and others playing at Santa Barbara, the club has, nevertheless, lined up two good teams and the fans should have a most pleasant afternoon of sport. Lyell Puckett, Lionel Pedley, Charles Crawford, John Brandeis and Dr. Rex Duncan are some of the other players who will be seen in action.

LEWIS, STOCCA SIGNED FOR OLYMPIC MAT BOUT

Promoter Lou Daro completed his final mat program of the year, scheduled for the Olympic Monday night, with the signing of Joe Stocca, giant Italian, to meet Ed "Strangler" Lewis in a best-two-out-of-three-fall finish bout.

Lewis refused to take the match unless the battle would be the final one on the card that night, but Daro already has Nick Lutze, popular Venice life guard, and Henri De Glane, world's Greco-Roman wrestling champion, signed for the feature event, also a three-fall match.

Just which one of these two bouts will wind up the card is expected to be decided within the next few days. They may settle the question as others of this character have in the past—by tossing a coin for the final event.

This will be Stocca's first appearance on the Coast. He comes here with the reputation of being tougher and stronger than Marin Plestina. When Daro heard he was after a match with Lewis, the promoter had little trouble getting him to take the match with the former champion.

Stocca was born in Trieste, Italy, and has been wrestling most of the top-notchers in the East for some years. He weighs 225 pounds and is rated very fast for his size.

The opening event was changed by the promoter yesterday. Myron Cox, Venice life guard who has been training with the best grapplers in the game for almost two years, will make his initial appearance in the ring when he clashes with Don De Laun, the Glendale strong man. Cox, who finished fifth in the marathon swim at Toronto, Can., two years ago, is about six feet tall and weighs 210 pounds. Those who have seen him in training predict he will prove a sensation as a wrestler.

Ring Benefit at Pasadena

The line-up of stars who will take part in the spectacular Christmas benefit theatrical and boxing entertainment which Morrie Cohan is staging at the Pasadena Arena tonight includes James Hall, Hadji Ali, Lee Summers, Dolly Nelson, Sunkist Eddie Nelson, Eddie Lambert, Sam Hardy and Larry Ceballos who will stage a special review. Proceeds are to be used to give the newsboys of Pasadena a big feed and a load of toys on Christmas Day.

The extra entertainment given tonight does not take the place of the real fight card. The customary line-up features the hard-socking Mexican Joe Pimenthal in an eight-round bout with Lew Teitle, and Roy Pollack and Joe Arcienega in a semifinal of six rounds. Four rounds will be fought by Johnny Granone vs. Kid Ziff, 122 pounds; Pat Gomez vs. Pat Campbell, 136 pounds; and Eddie Cervantes vs. Tony Romo, 135 pounds.

Masters of ceremony who will run the exhibition features on the program are Eddie Nelson, Harry Langdon, Eddie Lambert, B. B. B. "What a Man" Shires will referee the exhibition bout between Reister and Sullivan.

LOU MOORE LAYS PLANS TO WIN ASCOT SWEEPSTAKES

Lou Moore, the debonair Hollywood auto-racing star, yesterday served warning on the rest of the racing gentry that he intends to grab off the purse in the 100-lap sweepstakes at the Legion Ascot Speedway next Sunday afternoon.

The dopesters were yesterday doing some lively prognosticating of the winners Sunday. Here is the way most of them rate their selections:

Ernie Triplett—Fearless and always a contender. Has had tire and wheel trouble in the last two races, but will 'go places' if his No. 40 Arnold Special is clicking right.

"Wild Bill" Cummings—Rated by many as the greatest dirt-track driver in the country. Only his collision with 'Stubby' Stubblefield prevented him from winning last Sunday, his friends say.

Ralph De Palma—Likely to have his No. 17 Miller in shape, and if he does should show the "flaming youth" a bag full of tricks.

Francis Quinn—Consistent and the most reliable "place" bet at the track. The No. 3 he wheels has been driven to more prize money than any other racing car in this section of the country.

Walt May—Had a narrow escape when his car went into a spin on the south turn last week. Is new at the wheel of No. 8, but should be sufficiently accustomed to the car by Sunday to flash his old form.

Lou Moore—The "question mark" of the game at the present time. Is about due for a victory.

"Shorty" Cantlon—Overwhelming favorite as a result of winning the last two races.

"Stubby" Stubblefield—Driving No. 7, the fastest car in the West, but also the most undependable as far as long distance races are concerned.

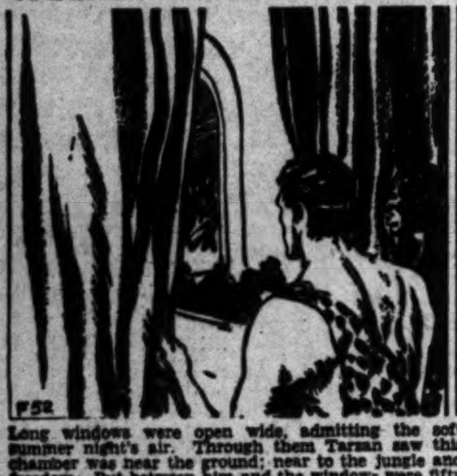
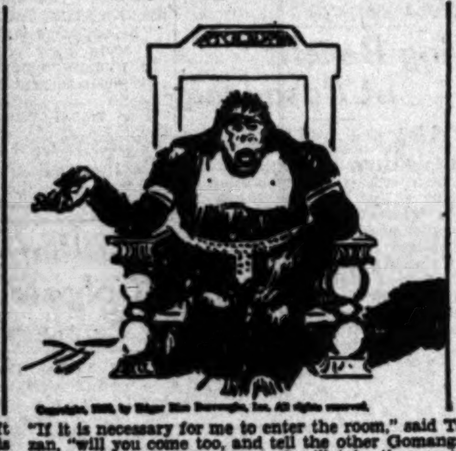
TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

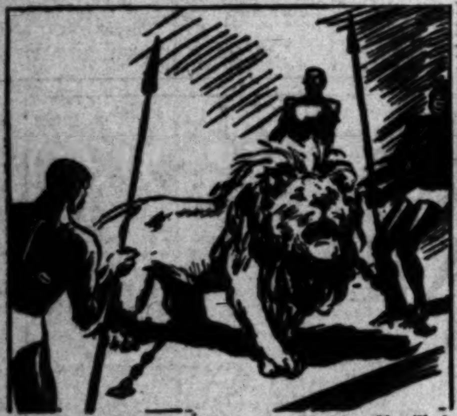


Long windows were open wide, admitting the soft summer night's air. Through them Tarzan saw this chamber was near the ground; near to the jungle and freedom. But between him and the windows were fifty armed gorilla-men. If he was to carve his way to freedom with La, the ape-man knew that strategy would be a better weapon than force. He turned to the black at his side. "Would the Gomangani guarding the lion like to escape from the Bolgani?" he asked. "They would if they could," replied the black. "They shall," said Tarzan grimly, with a thoughtful look.

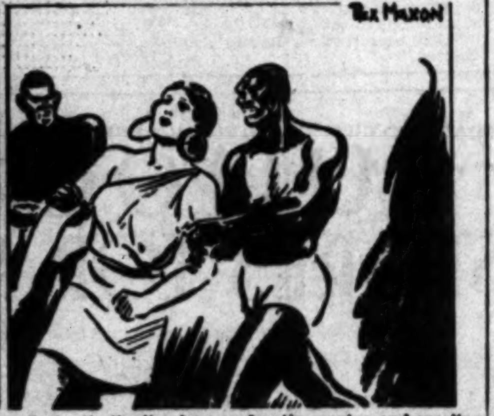


Copyright, 1930, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

"If it is necessary for me to enter the room," said Tarzan, "will you come too, and tell the other Gomangani that if they will fight for me I will take them out of the valley?" "I will tell them," replied the black, "but they will not believe." "Tell them that they will die if they do not help me," said Tarzan. "And now give me your spear!" The Bolgani occupying the central golden throne just then began to speak. "Nobles of Numa, Emperor of All Things," he said in deep, growling tones, "the King of Beasts has heard the words that this she has spoken and it is Numa's will that she shall die!"



"The Great Emperor is hungry. He himself will devour her here in the presence of his Nobles and the Council of Three." A growl of approval rose from the beast-like audience. The lion roared until the palace trembled. He fixed his wicked eyes upon the woman and bared his fangs as though these ceremonies were frequent and he knew what to expect when they ended. "Tomorrow, this creature's mate shall also be brought for judgment." He paused. "Slaves," he cried suddenly in a loud voice, glaring at the guards holding La, "drag the woman to your Emperor!"



Instantly the lion became frantic, roaring and snarling as it sought to leap upon La. She was now being forcibly led toward the jeweled man-eater. She did not cry out but struggled vainly. They had reached the last step and were about to push La into the claws of the lion when they were arrested by a loud cry. It brought the assembled Bolgani to their feet in astonishment and anger, for leaping into the room, with raised spear, was the almost naked white man of whom they had heard but few had seen. So quick was he that even before they could reach him, he had launched his spear.

MORE THAN SCORE FACE INDICTMENT

Grand Jury Votes Bills Against Twenty-four for Various Federal Offenses

After a session lasting all day the Federal grand jury yesterday returned indictments accusing twenty-four persons of various Federal offenses. John P. Smock, 19 years of age, bank messenger, was charged with embezzlement of $2300 from the Fresno branch of the Security-First National Bank of this city.

Fred C. Walker was accused of opening a letter containing two tickets to the Notre Dame-University of Southern California football game; Martin Flores and Fernando B. Avila were accused of raising $1 government bills to $10. Ten persons were accused of violating the national prohibition act and various other Federal charges were filed.

FLEET OFFICERS HOSTS AT FETE ON BOARD SHIP

The flagship California was the scene yesterday afternoon of an informal reception tendered 1500 of Southern California's leading citizens by Admiral Frank H. Schofield, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, and his officers. From 3 until 6 o'clock the San Pedro main channel was filled with gray and black navy motor boats laden with guests and shuttling back and forth between the fleet landing and the great battleship.

The California was decorated for the occasion. Huge awnings covered her deck, both fore and aft, flags were draped over her rails, while multicolored signal bunting also added color. Palms, ferns and Southland flowers bordered the dancing space on the foredeck and four ships' bands supplied music.

The receiving line on the quarterdeck was headed by Admiral and Mrs. Schofield, with other fleet flag officers and their ladies, including: Vice-Admiral Richard H. Leigh, Rear-Admiral William Dugald MacDougall, Rear-Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, Rear-Admiral Luke McNamee, Rear-Admiral Joel R. P. Pringle and Rear-Admiral William T. Tarrant. General arrangements were directed by Lieutenant-Commander W. J. Ruble, flag lieutenant to Admiral Schofield.

Yesterday's function, the most pretentious social event in the Navy's history in Southern California, was the final official affair before the battle fleet's departure for Panama on February 7, next, for winter maneuvers with the scouting fleet.

RECEIVER APPOINTED FOR BOND BROKERS

United States District Judge James yesterday appointed Myron H. Wells as receiver for G. F. Wolcott & Co., stock and bond brokers, 639 South Spring street, who filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy Monday. The petition was filed on instructions of the company's board of directors and the receiver was asked to conserve the assets. The receiver's bond was fixed at $50,000. His appointment runs until a trustee is appointed. The petitioner did not file a list of assets and liabilities.

COST HEARING POSTPONED

The confirmation of assessments for the improvement of Riverton avenue north from Magnolia Boulevard was continued yesterday by the City Council until tomorrow and the hearing of protests against the improvement of streets in the Vineland avenue and Cantara street district was continued until January 25.

Judge Continues Mrs. Kirk's Case

Hearing on Mrs. Laura Jane Kirk's suit against her son Norman T. Kirk, to recover $30,000 which she asserts she advanced him for investment, was continued yesterday by Superior Judge Craig until January 19, 1931. Kirk's attorney, Earl S. Wakeman, was ill and unable to appear.

Superior Judge Hazlett recently denied Kirk's petition to appoint a guardian for his mother who, the son contended, was incompetent to handle her financial affairs. Mrs. Kirk inherited $150,000 from her husband, the late John E. Kirk, inventor of harvesting machinery.

TEMPLE PLANS PROGRAM

Chanukkah services will be conducted tomorrow evening at Temple Israel, Hollywood, with an address by Rabbi Isadore Isaacson, and vocal selections by Gene Wolsh. A children's Chanukkah program will be given next Sunday at 10 a.m.

New Sanitary Code Effective January 13

The new sanitary, health and food code recently adopted by the City Council at the request of City Health Officer Parrish will become effective January 13, according to the statement yesterday of [illegible] S. Siegel, director of personnel of the health department, who compiled the code.

The ordinance codifies all health measures adopted by the city since 1870 and covers 377 sections. It affects all phases of work of the health department.

Among the things regulated by the ordinances are the cleanliness and sanitation of food, sanitary maintenance of establishments where foods are prepared and dispensed, housing, dairy products, industrial hygiene, community sanitation, nuisance abatement and general laboratory nature.

BATTLE WON FOR RELIEF

Hoover Scores in Congress

Unemployment and Drought Aid Enactments Slated to Precede Recess

McKellar Flayed for His Lengthy Tirade Against Chief Executive

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. (Exclusive)—Out of all the empty talk and time-wasting at the Capitol, President Hoover emerged today with signal victories in both branches of Congress in his fight for enactment of the emergency unemployment and drought relief program before the Christmas recess.

The House voted, 225 to 147, to substitute its own $30,000,000 drought relief measure for the $60,000,000 Senate bill, eliminating the food and clothing charity "dole" opposed by the administration, and then passed the substitute 359 to 6.

Senate and House conferees immediately went into session and this evening reached an agreement increasing the appropriation to $45,000,000, to which the White House has no objection, but otherwise accepting the straight farm rehabilitation bill passed by the House.

EMPLOYMENT AID

The Senate meanwhile speeded the $116,000,000 employment aid bill nearer final enactment by striking out the Robinson amendment restricting the Executive's discretion in apportioning the proposed funds among Federal construction projects. The vote to give the President a free hand was 42 to [illegible]

The compromise on drought relief will be taken up in the House at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and if approved there, as it undoubtedly will be, the plan is to have the Senate also act on the legislation later in the day. The prospect is the bill will be entirely cleaned up tomorrow.

The employment relief measure is again in conference but all save minor details have been worked out and the chances are it will receive final approval in both houses either tomorrow or Saturday.

Therefore, it appears after all that Congress will be able to [illegible] the holidays Saturday evening.

HOOVER DEFENDED

In addition to his legislative triumphs Mr. Hoover was vigorously defended in the Senate today against the insinuating contentions of Senator McKellar of Tennessee, Democrat, spread over the last several days and continued by him this afternoon, that the President should not be allowed to handle the relief funds without strict accounting to Congress. Vandenberg of Michigan and Glenn of Illinois joined in giving McKellar a lacing that took all the combativeness and confidence out of him and left him at the end of the debate a sorry, bedraggled figure.

McKellar had asserted that the
